Senator Barkley.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—A congressional investigation into the charges of scandal in the Tennessee Valley authority, President Roosevelt's 200 million dollar [so far] experiment in state socialism, was assured today.

Following transmission by the President to congress of his reasons for removal of Chairman Arthur E. Morgan from the TVA board of directors and the attorney general's opinion holding the removal a valid exercise of executive power, Democratic leaders in the senate and house conferred on the constitution of an investigating committee.

Senator Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], majority leader of the senate, declared it a prime consideration to exclude from the body conducting the inquiry any prejudiced person.

Move to Head Off Bridges.

The object is to keep off the committee several senators, particularly H. Styles Bridges [R., N. H.], who by concentrated study and investigation in the last few weeks have qualified as experts on the TVA. The presence of such senators at the committee table would make whitewashing of the TVA exceedingly difficult.

Senator Barkley said he would introduce a resolution providing for an inquiry by a joint committee composed of five members of each house. Senator George W. Norris [Ind., Neb.] said he would fight for adoption of his resolution for an investigation by the senate exclusively, which was reported favorably by the audit committee during the day and placed on the calendar.

Transmitting the official record of the two hearings held by the President on the feud between the TVA directors, Mr. Roosevelt said in his special message:

"It clearly is the right of the congress to undertake at any time any fair inquiry into the administration of the Tennessee Valley authority or its policies which the congress may deem in the public interest. But I cannot in the meanwhile abdicate my constitutional duty to take care that the laws be faithfully executed."

"Arthur E. Morgan has repeated the assertion that he will answer questions only to a committee of the congress.

"Obviously, there can be no objection to hearings before such a committee. But the congress will, I am sure, realize that if any member of the executive branch of the government, of high degree or low degree, is given the right by precedent to refuse to substantiate general charges against other members of the executive branch of government and to insist on disclosing specifications only to a committee of the congress, efficient administrative management of government would be destroyed in short order."

Jackson Explains Validity.

The opinion holding the removal of Morgan valid was written by Acting Attorney General Robert H. Jackson. In support of his opinion, Jackson cited a Supreme court decision in the removal of a postmaster, holding that the President possesses unrestricted

Bets 12 Prison Years Against $12,000 Stake

Patrick Dwyer Entering Court.

Patrick [Buck] Dwyer has served twelve years of his fifth prison term, but yesterday, when Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington of the Criminal court granted him a new trial, he was placed in the position of never having been tried for the crime for which he is in Joliet penitentiary.

If convicted—he is accused of taking part in a $2 robbery in 1925—Dwyer, who is 64 years old, might just as well forget about the last 12 years. He will have to start serving his sentence all over again.

But if he is freed, as Dwyer and his attorney, James M. Burke, confidently predict, he will be able to spend his declining years in some comfort, despite a serious illness. He will receive a $12,000 legacy left him a year ago by his sister, Hannah.

Fifth Conviction in 1926.

Judge Harrington granted Attorney Burke's petition for a new trial on evidence that Dwyer was improperly represented at his trial on April 14, 1926, when the late Judge William N. Gemmill sentenced him to ten years to life under the old robbery statute. It was his fifth conviction since 1894.

The lawyer Dwyer hired to represent him had died. Dwyer had not learned of his death, and when he refused the services of James J. Barbour, former state senator, who was appointed by the court to represent him, Judge Gemmill announced the court would protect Dwyer's interest and ordered the trial to proceed.

It lasted fifteen minutes, Theodore Levin, who was then an assistant state's attorney, testified yesterday. The first twelve men who walked into the jury box were sworn in as jurors, he said.

Judge Upholds Plea.

"Surely this defendant is entitled to the same mode of trial as any one else who comes into court," said Judge Harrington. "Obviously he was not represented properly."

Dwyer's conviction was for robbing one John Wilson, night attendant in a garage, on Dec. 20, 1925. Assistant State's Attorney A. L. Scruggs said Dwyer believes Wilson is one of the four John Wilsons now in Joliet prison.

ONIONS, CHILI, GARLIC; POLICEMAN HOLDS HIS BREATH; LOSES HIS JOB

Policeman John Leideger had an odoriferous defense yesterday when he was tried before the civil service commission on charges of intoxication, profane and insolent language, and disobedience of orders.

Leideger was suspended on March 1 by Supervising Captain Joseph Goldberg and Captain Patrick O'Connell of Town Hall station after he had arrested two newspaper boys for crying too loudly the headlines about the two Town Hall detectives who were suspended for releasing two robbers. He refused to let Captain Goldberg smell his breath.

"I had eaten onions," he told the commission yesterday. "Then I ate hamburger with onions. Then I had a bottle of beer. Then I had a bowl of chili, with garlic. Then I was chewing tobacco. I wouldn't let anybody smell a breath like that."

JOHN BARRYMORE STRICKEN WHEN MAKING PICTURE

Los Angeles, Cal., March 23.—(AP)—John Barrymore collapsed today when working at Balboa on a picture, "Spawn of the North," was carried unconscious to a hotel, and then taken in an ambulance to a hospital in Los Angeles.

Elaine Barrymore, the actor's wife, said tonight his condition was not serious.

Barrymore complained of feeling ill last week and was advised by his physician not to work this week.

Director Henry Hathaway said the film would go ahead tomorrow and that he would shoot around Barrymore.

Don't Throw Away Tin Can; It May Have Silver Lining

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—Housewives soon may buy foods in silver lined cans which kill germs, the national bureau of standards said today. The bureau's research division, financed by the Silver Products of America, has developed such a can, which can be produced relatively inexpensively.

Bargain Furs Arouse a Purr of Discontent

Police were searching last night for Brother Adolph, convinced that unless he is found at once this country faces:

1. Passage of a furriers' relief bill.
2. Federal supervision of housewives' bank accounts.
3. A national cat conservation program.

The importance of catching Adolph became apparent when another rooming house keeper reported that she had paid mink prices for the alley cat fur coats that a suave stranger peddles as he looks for his brother, Adolph.

What! No Adolph?

The suave stranger called yesterday to inquire about Adolph, who, he said, once lived at Mrs. Tropinski's. When she couldn't recall Adolph, the stranger asked her to telephone a Mr. Logan, whose number he supplied, to ask if he knew where Adolph was.

Mr. Logan didn't know anything about Adolph, but he knew that Adolph's brother usually had some bargains in furs. Would Mrs. Tropinski detain the brother a few minutes? She would, and did.

Mr. Logan hurried over. Sure enough, the stranger had some mink coats with him. They were for sale for $1,500. But the stranger was leaving for Europe in exactly two hours, and Mr. Logan had only $45 with him. Mr. Logan made a bargain with Mrs. Tropinski: She should buy the coats for him. He would leave his $45 with her as a deposit. As soon as he could get his own money from the bank he would pay her $1,900 for the coats. She would have $400 profit.

Comes the Dawn.

She bought the coats. Mr. Logan never came back. And a furrier who saw the coats said they were cat fur, worth $10, perhaps, but not $1,500.

That's what a furrier told Mrs. Christine Puklicky of 6450 Maryland avenue on Tuesday when she bought some coats from the man who was looking for his brother, Adolph. It was a Mr. Freeman the stranger had her summon to her rooming house. But Mr. Freeman turned out to be anti-Nazi and the stranger Nazi. The stranger refused to have dealings with Mr. Freeman, who persuaded Mrs. Puklicky to buy the furs for $1,000 on a promise of $250 profit as soon as the stranger had gone. Mr. Freeman never came back either.

Reveal Gen. Craig's Defense Views.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—Having passed two navy bills totaling one and two-thirds billions of dollars, the house today was called upon to approve a third measure appropriating 448 million dollars for the army.

While the army bill presented carried a greater total than any since 1920, army officials apparently felt that they have been slighted in comparison with the navy. In his testimony before the appropriations committee, revealed today, Gen. Malin Craig, chief of staf, indirectly reproached President Roosevelt for this favoritism.

Says Fate Rests on Army.

Referring to the President's message of Jan. 28 which urged a 20 per cent expansion of the navy, Gen. Craig told the committee:

"The message does much to improve the operating effectiveness of the navy. However, I must point out that ultimate decision in war comes upon the land and particularly that the ultimate defense of the continental United States falls upon the army.

"Our active army is but seventeenth in size in the world, including both regular army and National Guard. Its deficiencies as well as those of the navy are well known to foreign experts. Bolstering one side of the line and allowing weakness on the other in a defense system where both are vital will not be effective."

Tells Mobilization Objectives.

Gen. Craig went on to describe for the first time the mobilization plan drafted by the war department to put into the field two field armies totaling 1,000,000 men in time of emergency.

"The first objective of the plan is the immediate mobilization of a force of approximately 400,000," said Gen. Craig. "This force will consist of existing regular army and National Guard organizations, with limited recruit augmentation, and is designated as the initial protective force.

"The second objective is the augmentation of the initial protective force to a balanced all-purpose force of approximately 730,000 in units and an additional strength of 270,000 unassigned enlisted men who will be used as replacements or for the formation of additional units.

Objective 1,550,000 Men.

"The third objective is the further increase of this force to a total of 1,550,000 if the situation indicates the advisability of such action."

Gen. Craig said that an expenditure of 1 billion dollars would be necessary to bring the army into a position to respond effectively to an emergency.

Approximately one-fourth of the total appropriation, 124 millions, was allotted to the air corps. The committee's report said that this fund would provide for 476 new planes, bringing the army's authorized total of planes to 3,302. Of these, however, 475 planes are classified as obsolete but usable.

Food, clothing, transportation, $86,485,402.
Ordnance department, $33,602,000.
National Guard, $42,205,000.
Organized reserves, $10,650,000.

HITLER TO BUILD SPEEDBOAT NAVY TO PLY DANUBE

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 23.—Pan-Germany is losing no time in strengthening her military power in the newly won province of Austria.

Reichsfuehrer Hitler today ordered the creation of a new flotilla of armed speedboats on the Danube river. He also placed Austrian gunboats on the Danube under the command of a German naval captain.

In a proclamation to former Austrian crews the German naval chief said: "We will tackle with energy the tasks entrusted to us by the Fuehrer and the Nazi Fatherland."

Called Reich's Greatest River.

German newspapers proudly pointed out that the Danube now replaces the Rhine and Oder as Germany's mightiest river with more than 600 miles flowing through Pan-German territory. The papers also recalled the important part the Austrian Danube fleet played in the world war when it helped the Austro-German armies cross the river into Serbian and Rumanian territory.

The press stressed that Germany is on friendly terms with all countries bordering on the Danube on its way to the Black sea—with the exception of Czechoslovakia. The British already are demanding free passage through the Dardanelles and the Bosporus into the Black sea, or, as the Germans maintain, "free access to the mouth of the Danube."

Army Transformation Continues.

One infantry battalion, representing fifteen regiments in Vienna, is paying a "friendship call" in Berlin. Members of this battalion already have removed their kepis [visored military caps with sloping tops] and tight fitting tunics with high collars. They will return tomorrow in peaked caps and loosely cut tunics with low collars of Prussian design.

The economic coördination of Austria is being hastened by the Nazis. On Saturday customs barriers between Germany and Austria will be removed. Thus Hitler, with a stroke of his pen, will enforce a customs union which the world court prevented nine years ago with the help of Germany's present ally, Italy, whose delegate voted against the union.

Prepare Plebiscite Campaign.

Heinrich Himmler, chief of all the Pan-German police forces, returned to Berlin today to participate in the campaign for the Austrian plebiscite on Germany's annexation of the former republic and the reichstag election to be held Sunday, April 10. Himmler has completed the organization of the Austrian GSP [secret police]. With headquarters in Vienna, GSP offices have been organized in Linz, Graz, Salzburg, Klagenfurt, Innsbruck, and Eisenstadt.

Nazi authorities issued a long list of denials over reports on the number of Austrian suicides as published in the foreign press. They admitted, however, that from March 12 to March 22 there were ninety-six suicides in Vienna, "of which fifty may have been due to political reasons."

Officials announced that Archduke Josef Ferdinand, 65 years old, "had to be taken into protective custody because he aroused the ire of the populace by insulting the Nazis."

NIGHT AND DAY SHIFTS PLANNED IN ARMS PLANTS

Labor Is Told to Get Ready for War.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

Sir Thomas Inskip, defense coördinator.

LONDON, March 23.—British alarm at grave developments in the international situation was accentuated tonight when Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain called in leaders of the Trades Union congress and asked their help in speeding up the nation's arms output.

At the same time a move was launched to draw up a national register of England's man power and classify all persons for war work.

The government's program to increase the arms output, as outlined to the labor leaders, involves the introduction of day and night shifts in all British munition factories and the drafting of 100,000 more semi-skilled workers into the industry.

Seeks to Ease Union Rules.

It also was reported that the prime minister asked trade unionists to help in the armaments speedup by relaxing trade union regulations of work; to allow, for example, a boilermaker to do engineering work, and vice versa. Observers said the program was tantamount to telling labor to prepare for war.

Sir Thomas Inskip, minister for the coördination of defense, who was present with Chamberlain at today's talks, has arranged to meet representatives of the engineering, ship building, and other trades tomorrow afternoon to discuss the arms program. In all, he will confer with representatives of more than 30 unions.

It was assumed Chamberlain wanted to consult with the trades union congress on the general national position of labor, leaving to Inskip and the separate unions the job of working out the details.

It was understood tonight that, until they had considered it further, the trade unionists would give Chamberlain no assurance they would carry out his program.

The prime minister, it was announced, also has invited the national confederation of Employers' organizations to meet with him and discuss the army problems.

First Parley in 12 Years.

Today's meeting was regarded as one of the most significant in postwar years. It was the first time the general council of the trades union congress visited 10 Downing street since the general strike of 1926.

Compilation of a national register of the British population and qualifications for war work, which would be the equivalent of conscription, already is in its inception, it was learned tonight.

The cabinet met again today and approved the final draft of a statement which Chamberlain will make to the house of commons tomorrow.

Statement to Cover Policy.

The statement will cover the foreign policy as a whole, but indications tonight were that Chamberlain will not foreshadow any addition to Britain's commitments in Europe.

This means, as far as Czechoslovakia is concerned, that the British will be obliged to aid the Czechs only in event of invasion, in accordance with the league of nations covenant. As far as France is concerned, Great Britain is obligated under the post-Locarno arrangements to help defend her against unprovoked aggression.

[Reichsfuehrer Hitler abrogated the Locarno pact when he remilitarized the Rhineland in 1936.]

Members Seek Assurances.

Many members of parliament pointed out, however, that Great Britain apparently is not bound to support France if the French go to war to fulfill treaty obligations to assist Czechoslovakia. They are pressing for assurances on Great Britain's course of action in such a situation.

The impression in the house of commons lobbies tonight was that Chamberlain will say nothing definite and may even dodge specific reference to Czechoslovakia by merely reiterating that the British government "cannot disinterest itself" in central Europe.

At the same time Czechoslovakia's efforts to ease her minority problems are being watched closely from London.

A revolt against the Chamberlain government which was threatened last week now appears to have subsided, but two new factors today may start it again.

Vote Backs Eden.

They were:

FIRST—Today's test ballot on the resignation of Capt. Anthony Eden from the post of foreign secretary which was held in four Tory constituencies. The ballot resulted in an overwhelming vote of 45,000 in favor of the former foreign secretary to 3,000 against.

[Eden resigned because he disagreed with Prime Minister Chamberlain's policies toward dictator countries in Europe.]

SECOND—Sparks may fly again if what now is whispered in diplomatic circles becomes known publicly, namely, that Premier Mussolini has raised his price to Chamberlain and the Anglo-Italian talks have not succeeded in driving a wedge between Premier Mussolini and Reichsfuehrer Hitler for which Chamberlain had hoped.

Italy Asks Recognition.

Italy now is asking Britain to recognize its conquest of Ethiopia independently of the league of nations. Chamberlain has stated that Britain is bound by the league's decision, but Mussolini is impatient and not disposed to wait for recognition of Italy's empire until September, when the league assembly meets. Talk of withdrawing Italian troops from Spain before Gen. Francisco Franco, Spanish rebel leader, wins has been shelved, it appeared.

The prime minister this afternoon told parliament he would make a brief announcement on the speedup of the arms program tomorrow in connection with his statement on foreign policy.

It was suggested that Britain's rearmament program, originally set at 7 billion 500 million dollars, for a five year period, will be boosted to 10 billion dollars.

LITH OFFICIALS AND POLES HOLD FRONTIER PARLEY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

KAUNAS, Lithuania, March 23.—Direct negotiations between Lithuania and Poland opened today when a delegation of Poles from Vilna met Lithuanian officials from Kaunas on the frontier. The meeting was a result of the recent Polish ultimatum, in which Warsaw threatened to invade Lithuania if it did not agree to restore normal relations. At the same time Poland accepted Col. Kazsis Skirpa as first Lithuanian minister to Warsaw.

A small amount of frontier trafic will be opened within a few days and within a fortnight travelers will for the first time in eighteen years be able to obtain Lithuanian visas in Poland and Polish visas in Lithuania.

Rail communications between Kaunas and Vilna also will be arranged during the coming month, but, because of extensive road repairs, more time will be needed before auto communication is opened.

Wins $200 Award in Suit Against Two Policemen

Damages of $200 were awarded yesterday to Merwell Ellerson, 23 years old, of 2701 Hessing avenue, River Grove, by a jury before Judge William J. Wimbiscus of Spring Valley, sitting in the Circuit court here. Ellerson sued Policeman Olaf Olson of Elmwood Park and Policeman Bruno Okoniewski of River Grove for $25,000, charging his skull was fractured when they beat him on Jan. 1, 1937. He asserted that they slugged him when he refused to answer questions about an automobile accident in which he was not involved.

Beer Buys Helmets

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

New York, March 23.—It is nothing less than poetic justice that Czechoslovakia's crack army again should be in the world's eye as the new republic faces the uncertainties of the central European situation.

The sturdy soldiers who peer down from their mountain defenses are the heirs of one of the great military epics of history. There was a Czechoslovakian army before there was a Czechoslovakia. The republic really was born out of heroic legions of Czechs and Slovaks who were drawn together in the world war because of their desire for freedom from Austria-Hungary.

It was just twenty years ago that a Czechoslovakian force battled Red revolutionists clear across Siberia to Vladivostok in an amazing military advance. The Czechoslovakian army fought for Russia against the central allies; it fought in the first revolution of 1917 to compel the Russian government to continue to battle for the allies and grant reforms, and it joined with Kerensky in establishing a new national government. In 1920 the Czech army returned to its homeland and a new Czech republic.

FRANCE TO LET WAR MATERIALS FLOW INTO SPAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 23.—The French government has no intention of giving military assistance to the Spanish loyalists, Joseph Paul-Boncour, foreign minister, told the senate foreign affairs committee in a secret hearing today.

On the other hand, he made it clear that as long as the Italians and Germans continue to supply the Spanish rebels with war materials and to maintain troops who are not Spanish along the Pyrenees France's Catalonian frontier will remain unofficially open for arms in transit to the loyalist army.

The French government is not making any deliberate effort to supply the loyalists with equipment, but the transit facilities will enable the loyalists to get such supplies as Russia is able to furnish or that they can buy on the open market.

PARIS FACES NEW CABINET CRISIS ON FINANCE PLAN

Senate Committee Turns Down Blum's Bills.

PARIS, March 23.—(AP)—The conservative senate finance committee today turned down a cabinet financial plan despite the personal appeal of Premier Leon Blum.

It was a defeat for the second People's Front government in its first test in the senate, which caused the fall of the first People's Front ministry last June 21 in an issue over emergency powers over finance.

Submits Two Measures.

The cabinet submitted two measures, the first to provide 5 billion francs [$150,000,000] in new loans from the Bank of France to the treasury and the second to assign 3 billion, 149 million francs [$94,470,000] surplus from the stabilization fund to the defense fund.

The committee, by a vote of 17 to 2, rolled the two bills into one and cut the total to 5 billion francs [$150,000,000] despite Blum's personal appearance and half hour speech in defense of the two bills. They previously had been approved by the chamber of deputies.

The committee proposal will be submitted tomorrow to the senate where opposition to inflationary measures has created the possibility of a new cabinet crisis that might lead to further efforts to form a national union—all party—government.

Report Heated Debate.

Senators emerging from a meeting of the foreign affairs committee reported a heated debate between Foreign Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour and former Premier Pierre Laval. Laval, they said, urged that France regain Italy's friendship by recognizing her conquest of Ethiopia.

The movement toward a national union cabinet gained new impetus with a statement that a group of seventy-seven moderate deputies led by Paul Reynaud were demanding a strong government to face European dangers.

AURORA BOREALIS FLARES BRIGHTLY IN CHICAGO AREA

Observing Chicagoans saw the aurora borealis last night—a great white belt across the northern sky. Watchful scientists stayed up all night to observe the phenomenon. Worried telegraphers learned of the aurora from increased current in their wires and rejoiced that it did not jumble their messages, as it sometimes does.

Dr. George Van Biesbroeck of the Yerkes observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., said the display was one of the brightest in years. Although it was brightest shortly before 3 a. m., he said that the astronomers had been watching it since sundown.

C. A. Lively, observer at the airport weather office, said the display would be observed from the weather bureau plane on its morning flight into the heavens.

The scientists attribute the aurora borealis, or northern lights, to a magnetic storm on the sun. Solar activity is now approaching the peak of an eleven year cycle. Two months ago the phenomenon was seen farther south than it had been in this generation.

SMOKE SCREENS AID REBEL ADVANCE

Arrows indicate two points from which Spanish rebels, aided by smoke screens, launched drives toward Lerida, known as the "gateway to Barcelona." The map locates principal highways and mountains of eastern Spain. Shaded portion represents rebel occupied territory.

Nazi Navy on Danube

Adolf Hitler yesterday ordered the creation of a speedboat navy on the Danube, which, the Nazi press said, flows more than 600 miles through Pan-German territory. The British are demanding free passage for the British fleet through the Dardanelles and the Bosporus into the Black sea, or as the Germans say, "free access to the mouth of the Danube."

SON OF CHINESE PRESIDENT DIES FIGHTING JAPS

SHANGHAI, March 23.—(AP)—K. M. James Lin, foster son of President Lin Sen of China, who once married a Columbus, O., shopgirl, was reported from Hankow today to have been killed in action in the conflict with Japan.

K. M. James Lin.

James Lin married Viola Brown of Columbus, O., a clerk in a "5 and 10" store, July 14, 1935, while he was a student at Ohio State university. The romance was said to have resulted from the girl's returning Lin's pocketbook which he lost while making a purchase.

His foster father objected to the marriage. At the time James Lin was said to have two wives and three children in China, since under Chinese law he was regarded as having two fathers and therefore entitled to two wives. His young American wife obtained a divorce two years ago.

2 APPEALS MADE BY POPE TO EASE REBEL AIR RAIDS

VATICAN CITY, March 23.—(AP)—Pope Pius, grieved by air raids in the Spanish civil war, has appealed to rebel Gen. Francisco Franco for "moderation," L'Osservatore Romano reported today. The Vatican newspaper said the pope had appealed once in February and again on March 21 after new bombings of Barcelona.

The pope in February urged a halt in "aerial bombardments of open cities," appealing to Franco while "other powers intervened with the Republican government." It said he sought "moderation and mildness to diminish to the greatest extent possible the horrors of war" and received from the rebel leader "a reassuring reply."

The newspaper said the Vatican, on its own initiative and independent of other powers, had intervened a number of times to reduce the sufferings of the Spanish war. It said Franco answered the pope through Msgr. Ildebrando Antoniutti, the holy see's representative in Salamanca, with "filial and reassuring explanations and declarations."

TRIES SUICIDE 20 YEARS; FINALLY HANGS HIMSELF

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MAUBEUGE, France, March 23.—Gaston Leblanc, a metal worker, committed suicide by hanging today after more than twenty years of futile efforts to end his life.

The first attempt was in prewar days when he shot two revolver bullets into his head. He was saved by an operation. Another attempt to end his life by shooting was made last year when his wife struck his arm and the bullet went astray.

But Leblanc's preference was for death by drowning. Once a year since 1914 he tied himself hand and foot and jumped into the Sambre river. Each time, he changed his mind and freed himself and swam ashore.

A week ago he informed friends he meant business this time. He visited an undertaker, bought a coffin, went home and hanged himself from a beam.

SPANISH REBELS ROUT FOES WITH SMOKE SCREENS

Two New Drives Launched Toward Sea.

HENDAYE, France [at the Spanish Frontier], March 23.—(AP)—Spanish rebel armies fought their way into position today for a two-way drive to add Catalonia, Spain's northeastern corner, to already-conquered northern and western Spain.

On the southern side of the eastern front the rebels crossed the Ebro river near Quinto and, skirting the formidable coastal mountains, pushed toward Lerida, key Catalonian city 55 miles to the northeast. To the north, another rebel army was poised at Huesca for a similar drive at Lerida, 65 miles to the southeast.

Eighty miles due west of Barcelona, the present Spanish government capital, Lerida is an important government base. From it trunk highways lead to Barcelona and to Tarragona, government seaport and military center.

Covers Attack of Tanks.

On the Huesca front the rebels, for the first time in the twenty months' old civil war, laid down smoke screens to cover the advance of their cavalry and tanks. The attacks drove government troops out of the towns of Tardienta and Sangarren. The rebels already had captured Lierta and Arascues and strategic heights around them and were besieging Sietamo, seven miles southeast of Huesca on the highway to Barbastro and Lerida.

Under cover of an artillery barrage, Gen. Franco's infantry crossed the Ebro on pontoon bridges and captured strategic hills dominating the main Saragossa-Lerida highway.

In shifting his south Aragon offensive across the Ebro, Franco apparently intended to utilize the comparatively open country along the Lerida highway to move into Catalonia. His troops fighting on the narrow front east of Caspe and Alcaniz were running into mountain terrain.

Pontoons Placed at Night.

Fleeing government troops had dynamited the bridge across the Ebro near Quinto when driven out of that area two weeks ago. Before dawn today rebel engineers threw up two sturdy pontoon bridges and infantry ran across to seize a foothold on the north bank.

Government troops were shelled out of fortifications on hilltops, from which they tried to machine-gun the rebels. The crossing was further supported by rebel war planes which circled low over the fortifications, bombing and machine gunning government forces, who finally retreated to the north and south. The government lines broken northeast of Quinto had extended from a point ten miles east of Saragossa along the Lerida highway.

[Madrid was subjected to the heaviest shelling since early February, thousands of people being forced to take refuge in cellars and subways. Reports said 25 were wounded.]

FASCISTS PRAISE VALOR OF ITALY'S TROOPS IN SPAIN

ROME, March 23.—(AP)—Italy's Fascist party praised Italians fighting in Spain today—in the midst of Italian negotiations with Great Britain on withdrawal of Black Shirt troops.

A party order, on the 19th anniversary of the formation of the first Fascist combat squad, cited "with profound pride to the Black Shirts and the Italian people the valor of the [Italian] Legionnaires, who once more are an essential factor in victory on Spansh soil."

This praise, carrying the implication that the mission of the Black Shirts in Spain had been fulfilled by recent rebel advances, was interpreted in diplomatic quarters as a prelude to withdrawal of Italian troops—one of the points Britain has insisted upon in present negotiations leading to a general British-Italian accord.

CHINESE FOIL JAP THRUST TO CROSS RIVER AT KAIFENG

Protect Vital Rail Junction at Chengchow.

SHANGHAI, March 24 [Thursday]. —(AP)—Chinese declared today they had repelled a Japanese attempt to reach the south bank of the Yellow river, opposite Fengkiu, in northern Honan province.

Fengkiu, which is just north of Kaifeng, is about forty miles northeast of Chengchow, junction of the east-west Lunghai and north-south Peking-Hankow railroads. It is the spearhead of Japanese forces which are attempting to break vital Chinese communications on the central front.

Chinese said more than 3,000 Japanese had been entrenched at Fengkiu within the last three days for a new thrust down the Peking-Hankow railroad to Chengchow. They said the Japanese had been driven back from all other positions on the north bank of the Yellow river.

Eastern Drive Deadlocked.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek himself was said to be in command in the Chengchow sector where a Japanese victory might collapse the corridor of wheat growing plains between Japan's conquests in North and Central China.

On the eastern coastal side of the corridor Japan's drive to cut the Lunghai at Suchow, its junction with the north-south Tientsin-Pukow railroad still was stalemated after nine days of bitter fighting.

Chinese asserted their forces engaged the Japanese garrison at Tenghsien, north of Suchow, in hand-to-hand fighting after a strong counterattack. They said counterattacks also at Lincheng and Hanchwang, on the Tientsin-Pukow line, had upset Japanese communications in the Suchow drive.

Chinese Gain in Shansi.

Japanese positions nearest Suchow still were north of the Grand canal, twenty-two miles above Suchow. Chinese machine guns forbade a frontal attack to reach the south bank while Chinese guerrillas, harassing the flanks, prevented the Japanese from spreading to another crossing point on the canal.

Japanese reported their troops were pursuing demoralized units of a Chinese army into the snow capped mountains of southwestern Shansi province after a bitter pitched battle at Kihsien. They said 4,300 Chinese of an army of 100,000 were killed.

Declaring Kihsien was the last important Chinese base of operations in Shansi, the Japanese again claimed complete control of the province.

JOAN BENNETT.

Hollywood, Cal., March 23.—(AP)—Blonde Joan Bennett was cut on the face with a bayonet during a movie mob scene today. The accident occurred on a location site near here when Randolph Scott, the hero, was carrying Miss Bennett away from the scene of a hand-to-hand encounter between two groups of extras. A soldier lost his balance and his bayonet struck the actress. After emergency treatment she was taken home.

ASKS JAP LEADER ACT LIKE STALIN; DIET EXPELS HIM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, March 24 [Thursday].—The lower house of the diet [parliament] was thrown into an uproar last night when the Seiyukai and Minseito parties, the two largest, voted to expel Suehiro Nishio, a Social Mass party member, for demanding that Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoe "act with the boldness of Mussolini, Hitler, and Stalin." One member of the Social Mass party was beaten and others staged a sitdown demonstration.

The house, acting in accordance with recommendations of the committee on discipline, expelled Nishio by a vote of 320 to 40. The Seiyukai and Minseito parties, in a joint statement, said:

"Although we attach importance to respect for the freedom of speech, we absolutely cannot permit Nishio's utterances to go unchallenged, especially when the whole country is endeavoring to prevent bolshevization and, in fact, has sent a million troops to China to crush pro-communist Chinese troops."

U. S. PUTS BRAKES ON LARGE HELIUM DEAL WITH NAZIS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—Suspicions of Germany's military program since Dictator Adolf Hitler's seizure of Austria and menacing gestures toward Czechoslovakia have caused the Roosevelt administration to hold up a large shipment of helium gas ostensibly to be used to inflate German commercial dirigibles.

Although 6 million cubic feet of helium are sufficient to inflate a dirigible the size of the Hindenberg, which was lost by fire at Lakehurst, N. J., last summer, the German Zeppelin company is seeking to obtain 19,800,000 cubic feet. The possibility that the gas in excess of Zeppelin requirements might be used for military airships has caused Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, with Mr. Roosevelt's approval, to proceed cautiously in contracting for the shipment.

Positive Guaranties Required.

The law governing the sale of helium [on which the American government has a world monopoly] to a foreign country requires positive guaranties that none of the gas will be used for military purposes. The German Zeppelin corporation has represented that the only use of the gas would be to maintain a commercial airship service to America.

However, there is a distinct hesitancy in official quarters here to accept such representations as sufficient guaranty, in view of the recent annexation of Austria and Germany's reported territorial ambitions in other central European areas.

With war threatening Europe, the United States government is said to feel that it must have, in order to comply with the helium export act, an ironclad guaranty that the gas will not be used for military purposes.

Referred to Munitions Board.

The impression here is that the United States government is not disposed to hasten the completion of the deal with the Zeppelin company. It is reported the matter of guaranties has been referred back to the munitions control board, which approved export licenses recently.

The export approval was conditional on Germany's complying with the requirements of the helium export law, but the matter of drafting the contract of sale was left to the department of the interior. Secretary Ickes, who has been in constant touch with the President, has rejected as inadequate all of the formulas for exacting guaranties thus far proposed.

The extreme caution in proceedings with the Zeppelin deal is construed here in diplomatic circles as a rather oblique expression by this government of its displeasure over the annexation of Austria and Germany's territorial ambitions.

Tanks Waiting in Texas.

In full expectation that the sale contract would go through promptly, the Zeppelin company sent a ship loaded with tanks to Houston, Tex., two months ago. The tanks were unloaded and shipped to Amarillo [where the gas is mined] and there they are gathering rust today. The Zeppelin company, moreover, announced a schedule of crossings to start in May.

ROOSEVELT HITS FOES OF REGIME AS SELFISH FEW

Assails His Opponents as Feudal Lords.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Warm Springs, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt was back in his second home—the Little White House under the murmuring pines of Pine mountain—tonight. He came to its gates from Gainesville, Ga., where he delivered a vigorous thrust at those who oppose his policies.

Before the white marble courthouse of the county seat rebuilt from the ashes and débris of a tornado in 1936, Mr. Roosevelt lashed at his opponents as feudal lords who would hold the majority of the nations in the bonds of vassaldom. He churned the waters of class hatred in tones reminiscent of the 1936 campaign.

Gives George Cold Shoulder.

The President's barbs were not entirely aimed at those he termed "the selfish few," but were flung with his characteristic aggressiveness at his immediate neighbor, Senator Walter F. George, the state's senior senator. George, who is up for reëlection, bitterly opposed the President's scheme for federal control of wages and hours. Representative Edward E. Cox [D., Ga.], who fought the measure in the house rules committee, did not appear with other congressmen on the platform.

At the outset of his speech, Mr. Roosevelt delivered a rebuff to Senator George by ignoring him, although he was introduced by the senator. To make the rebuff more pointed, the President warmed to Gov. E. D. Rivers, who defeated Eugene Talmadge, red suspendered and bitter foe of the Roosevelt philosophy of government.

Oppose Minds of 1898 Mold.

"To those in and out of public office who still believe in the feudal system," the President said, "the people of the United States and in every section of the United States, are going to say: 'We are sorry, but we want people to represent us whose minds are cast in the 1938 mold and not in the 1898 mold.'"

In appealing for his scheme, Mr. Roosevelt said that the wages and resultantly the buying power of millions of people in the south are far too low. He called on 20,000 listeners to remember that better buying power means better schools, better health, better hospitals, and better highways.

"These things will not come to us in the south if we oppose progress—if we believe in our hearts that the feudal system is still the best system," he asserted.

"When you come down to it, there is little difference between the feudal system and the Fascist system. If you believe in the one you lean to the other. And I am opposed to fascism as I am opposed to communism."

Mr. Roosevelt made the declaration that national progress and national prosperity are being held back chiefly because of selfishness on the part of a few. Most people, he continued, if they know both sides of the question and are appealed to to support the public good, gladly will lay aside selfishness.

Former Chicagoan Found Insane in Slaying on Ship

Tampa, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—William A. Reynolds, 35 years old, fisherman and former Chicago policeman arrested in June, 1936, on a federal charge of murder on the high seas, was ordered today to St. Elizabeth's hospital in Washington, D. C., for mental treatment. Crew members of the schooner Baby Ann of Mobile, Ala., said Reynolds fatally injured John Nystrom, cook, with a marlinespike. Nystrom died in a St. Petersburg hospital. A lunacy commission held Reynolds was insane.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

More careful selection and training of truck drivers by companies operating more than 10,000 trucks is the main factor in the general lessening of accidents for this group of vehicles, it was said yesterday. Figures for January accidents in the last nine years were made public by the Greater Chicago Safety council.

"The figures show the value of the safety campaign which is being maintained year after year by large fleet owners," said George Travers, director of the council. "Primarily that campaign is based on the wise hiring and training of drivers—and keeping them alert."

Variations from the downward trend may be explained by weather conditions and increases in business volume which tempts drivers to hurry, he said.

RETURN ERRANT DRIVER TO STATE; ORDERED TO JAIL

Charles Byrd, colored, the first errant motorist to be returned by extradition to the Safety court after fleeing from the state, was sentenced yesterday by Judge J. M. Braude to ten days in the county jail. Byrd, who lives in Milwaukee, was charged with leaving the scene of an accident on March 13 after a collision at 53d street and Indiana avenue.

Four other motorists were punished for reckless driving. They are Gerald Wilson, 3507 Pine Grove avenue, fined $10; Charles Tuhacek, 2506 South 59th avenue, Cicero, and Stephen Rusnek, 5601 South California avenue, each fined $50, and Peter Skau, 721 Brompton place, put on probation.

TRAIN STRIKES TRUCK; TWO ARE SERIOUSLY HURT

Norman Major, 23 years old, and Edward Doebe, 43, both of Glen Ellyn, were injured seriously yesterday when a truck driven by Doebe was struck by an eastbound Chicago and Alton passenger train in Lemont. The men were taken to St. Joseph's hospital in Joliet.

Michael Rajkiewicz, 45 years old, 1344 South Peoria street, was killed last night when he was struck by an automobile in front of 2308 North Halsted street. The driver was Bernard Zegart, 21 years old, 602 West 43d street.

One death in the 24 hours ending yesterday at 4 p. m. brought to 199 the total number of persons killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 160 were killed in Chicago, where 3,748 were injured in the same period.

[See editorial page for massacre clock.]

2 TO 5 YEARS FOR BURGLARS.

Logansport, Ind., March 23.—[Special.]—Ray Hodson, 37 years old, and Hubert Myers, 27, who were arrested here, were sentenced to two to five years in state's prison on pleas of guilty to second degree burglary at Peru.

AIR TAXIS TO LINK NORTH SHORE AND LOOP TO AIRPORT

Services Will Connect with Regular Planes.

Two new flying shuttle services between the loop business district and the Chicago airport at 63d street and Cicero avenue, and between north shore suburban cities and the airport, will be offered to Chicagoans this summer. Plans for the services to reduce travel time were announced yesterday.

First of the two aerial taxicab services will be offered on April 1, by United Air Lines. The company will operate two daily trips between Curtiss-Reynolds airport at Glenview, which is conveniently near most of the north shore communities, and the municipal field, it was announced by W. A. Patterson, president of the line.

Connect with New York Planes.

Both trips will connect with United Air Line planes bound for New York. Travelers from Evanston, Wilmette, Kenilworth, Glencoe, Winnetka, Highland Park, and other points may motor to Glenview and board the taxi plane there. The flight from Curtiss-Reynolds to the city field will be made in 15 minutes. Ordinarily a motor trip between the fields consumes an hour.

Patterson said that in beginning the service the company will fly only United passengers. If the flight proves popular, however, more schedules will be added and the service broadened. Ten passenger Boeing 247D airliners, which cruise at 180 miles an hour, will be used. The crew will consist of regular air line pilots.

Serves Regular Air Lines.

The second route—between the lake front at Grant park and the city field, probably will be started about May 1. This flight will be made in an amphibion airplane, capable of alighting on either land or water and will be open to passengers traveling by any of the seven commercial air lines flying from Chicago's airport.

Harold Alford, owner of Alford Flying Service at Stinson airport, has a concession from the Chicago park district to operate this service from the harbor and the park district ramp at 11th street. He said the eight-mile direct air line trip from the ramp to the airport will be made in about ten minutes. This is a forty minute reduction over the time required for a motor trip from the loop to the airport. Alford said his fares would compare well with those of surface transportation.

AGREE ON PLAN TO FIX PRICE FOR AIRPORT TRACT

Federal Judge Evans Will Rule on Valuation.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

Judge Evan A. Evans of the federal Circuit Court of Appeals agreed last evening to settle the city's price dispute with Raymond E. Herman, La Salle street real estate broker who owns 2.78 acres of land needed for completion of the Chicago airport expansion program. The judge was asked to serve by Mayor Kelly after a conference earlier in the day with Herman.

Under an agreement to which both Herman and the city will be parties, the judge is to hear evidence concerning the value of Herman's land. After the testimony is completed the judge is to determine a fair price for the tract in question. The city has agreed to pay this price and Herman has promised to accept it as final.

"As I see it," said the mayor last evening, "the agreement to put the matter in Judge Evans' hands means an end to our airport difficulties. It looks like the whole thing's settled.

Airport to Equal Best.

"Chicago is going to have an airport which will be the equal of any in the United States. It will be almost a mile square and free from obstructions of any kind. Also it will have runways long enough to comply with every federal regulation for airports at which the big four motored planes are to stop."

The decision to ask Judge Evans' aid came as a result of quiet negotiations begun through Samuel A. Ettelson, Herman's attorney. Ettelson interested the mayor in the matter after the latter publicly stated that the city could not deal with Herman on any terms.

Herman's land is sought as a new right of way for the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad. The company's tracks now bisect the available airport area, bounded by 55th and 63d streets, Cicero and Central avenues, along the line of 59th street. The right of way forms the northern boundary of what is now the flying field, but with the tracks removed the northern half of the tract would be thrown open for flying uses.

Removal Plan Worked Out.

Last fall the city and the C. & W. I. worked out a plan for moving the tracks to a point north of 55th street, paralleling the Indiana Harbor Belt line tracks at about the line of 54th street. Part of this new right of way crosses Herman's land, He then demanded $65,000 for the land and certain reversionary rights in the I. H. B. right of way.

The city offered $20,000. Attempts to arbitrate the case collapsed. Condemnation proceedings could not be brought because Herman's reversionary rights are not subject to such action.

U. S. BOMBING PLANES ROAR OUT OF HAWAII TO HUNT 'ENEMY' NAVY

HONOLULU, March 23.—(AP)—Hawaii's defense system stirred into sudden activity today for its most crucial test thus far against an attacking fleet.

Warships appeared on the horizon, giving the civilian population a "zero hour" thrill until naval authorities explained they were arriving to join the defense.

Several long range army bombing planes roared out to sea, hoping to detect the approach of the "enemy"—comprising most of the United States fleet. Naval patrol planes were to join the bombers. Somewhere between California and Hawaii the major part of the fleet was secretly maneuvering for the attack, expected Friday or Saturday.

FATHER TO GO ON TRIAL FOR TRYING TO KIDNAP GIRLS

NASSAU, Bahamas, March 23.—(AP)—Forrester Scott, Philadelphia lawyer and sportsman, today was ordered to stand trial with Stanley Boynton, a flyer, on a charge of attempting to kidnap his two small daughters from his divorced wife.

Magistrate Osborne Bancroft, who bound the two men over for trial on April 20, set bail at $25,000. Scott also was fined $100 for possessing an unregistered pistol. No sentence was imposed on a charge of attacking the children's nurse, Helen Smith of Wilmington, Del., to which Scott had pleaded guilty.

The mother, now the wife of Harry Clark Boden of Philadelphia, acknowledged that a Pennsylvania court had granted Scott part time custody of the girls, Eva, 6 years old, and Zoe, 3, and that a warant for contempt of court was outstanding against her for taking the children away.

FRENCH AIRLINER, 7 ABOARD, FEARED LOST IN PYRENEES

PERPIGNAN, France, March 24 [Thursday].—(AP)—A French airliner, missing on a flight from Casablanca, Morocco, to Toulouse, was feared lost in the Pyrenees early today with five passengers and a crew of two. The plane was due at Toulouse last midnight and failed to arrive. Reports later were received that an airplane had been seen falling in flames into a ravine on Canigou mountain, west of Arles, near the Spanish border. An expedition of gendarmes and mountaineers started in search of it.

JUVENILE CRIME SPROUTS FROM SCHOOL TRUANCY

Delinquent Boys Get Start by Skipping Classes.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

The first budding in Chicago's garden of juvenile crime, so far as public observation is concerned, is found in the public and private school truancy records. One analysis of a five year group of delinquent boys showed that 56.4 had first been truants. This is considered typical. The association is further carried out in maps which show that truancy as well as crime center in the same areas of the city, areas of physical deterioration and low spiritual integration.

An age distribution study shows that the highest incidence of truancy occurs at ages 13 and 14. It begins at 7 and drops sharply after 14. Many have been graduated into the delinquent class, as the crime rate among boys of 17, 18, and 19 is high.

Schools Doing Their Part.

The public agency in Chicago for sweeping back the tide of truancy which leads to crime is the compulsory education department of the board of education, under the experienced W. L. Bodine. Mr. Bodine said yesterday that the schools are doing their part, selecting special teachers for the high rate truancy areas, keeping the attendance high, coöperating with relief and private agencies in welfare work, seeking proper adjustment of individual children.

"The juvenile crime problem is due to neglectful parents," he said.

This throws the problem back to the environment, the deteriorated and disorganized areas of Chicago which fail to provide a set of conventional values for the development of socially approved forms of behavior among children. These areas, in fact, set up an anti-social environment where crime and vice are encouraged.

Suggests a Remedy.

Mr. Bodine suggests as one remedy that the age of compulsory school attendance and juvenile court control be extended beyond 16. In his last annual report he deals with 8,750 cases of truancy involving 4,853 individuals. Poverty is given as the cause of 6,942 absences. In addition 437 cases of over-age truancy were reported, from 16 to 19.

"There is no institution for the custodial care of truants of 16 and over," he reports. Officers notified parents and guardians placed the responsibility for future attendance on them. Eighty-two girls over 16 were reported as truant. Herein lies the path that leads to the port of missing girls, or the Juvenile court, or the state reformatory at Geneva."

Causes of Truancy.

Of the causes of truancy he reports:

"Environmental influence; poverty; wife desertion and mother forced to work; divorce and broken home; intemperate, indifferent, incompetent parents; visual and auditory defects; mental retardation; both parents work; evil influence of older boys; quarrels with teachers; insanitary homes; wanderlust and influence of spring; overgrown boys and girls in lower grades; ambition to work."

On special pupil adjustment schools the report states:

"Discipline is becoming an increasing question at our schools and many teachers and principals are adopting the easiest way to get rid of a truant or a classroom incorrigible by increasing the load at the special pupil adjustment schools. The adjustment schools redeem many and obviate a long waiting list in the juvenile court. The habitual truant or incorrigible then goes to the juvenile court and is sent to the Parental school or given probation."

Advocates Larger School.

He advocates increasing the capacity of the Parental school, which has a capacity of 300 with a present enrollment of 310.

To the social service worker in the delinquent areas the problem seems like sweeping back the ocean with a broom. Year after year they see those they have helped succeeded by thousands of others subject to the same dreary environment, the same enfeebling, corrupt life. It appears to them now that moral standards among youth are exceptionally low, that easy liquor is responsible for a great percentage of the neglectful, indifferent parents Mr. Bodine speaks of, that life on relief, without sufficient food, accounts for much of the rest.

SALE OF WEAPON TO BOY FLAYED IN MOTHER'S DEATH

Rudolph Shoback, 15 years old, was back at his home yesterday with his father, Michael, and his elder brother, Raymond, but his mother, Mrs. Irene Shoback, was not there. She is dead. Rudolph killed her accidentally a week ago while playing with a mail order target pistol he had bought without his father's knowledge.

At the inquest yesterday, Deputy Coroner Louis J. Nadherny censured Rudolph's father for not taking the gun from his son when he learned the youth had it. Nedherny declared mail order houses should be forced to determine the age of prospective gun buyers. Rudolph sobbed hysterically as he told of the shooting in the Shoback home at 2340 Lincoln avenue. The jury found the mother's death was an accident.

MERCURY DROPS IN RAIN'S WAKE; WARMER TODAY

Thunderstorms all over Illinois cut the unseasonably high temperatures of the early part of the week down to the high thirties yesterday and it was expected that the mercury would fall to 32 to 34 degrees during the night.

The forecast caused worry among fruit growers in Illinois and southern Michigan. Reports yesterday were that trees of nearly every variety were in bud and in such condition that the fruit crop might be ruined by a heavy frost.

Today the prediction is for fair and warmer with a maximum of 45 degrees, exactly normal for the day.

SOFKURD MINERAL MODIFIED MILK

Look for the Gold-Bar Cap

New "SOFTENING" Process Increases VALUE of Important Food Elements —Makes Milk Even More Digestible

To those who would like to drink milk but for one reason or another do not—here is a friendly suggestion:

Drink SOFKURD (Mineral Modified Milk).

It is fine, sweet, Grade A milk, with all its rich, creamy flavor and goodness. By means of a special process, the proportions of certain mineral salts are rearranged before the milk is pasteurized. This modification makes SOFKURD remain liquid throughout the process of digestion.

That's why SOFKURD is easily digested—why all the valuable minerals, proteins, carbohydrates, fats, vitamins are taken up and utilized by the body. It's why SOFKURD is known as "nature's most nearly perfect food —improved."

Ask your dairy or mark your milk card for SOFKURD

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25c. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

JUDGE BLAMES LIQUOR SELLER IN BOY SLAYING

Youth of 16 Is Convicted of Manslaughter.

Tavern keepers who sell liquor to minors are accessories to juvenile crime and should be indicted jointly with the actual offenders. This opinion was expressed yesterday by Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington of the Criminal court as he found Walter Pijanowski, 17 years old, who stabbed a former schoolmate to death, guilty of manslaughter.

"Something should be done to tavern keepers who sell to 16 year old boys," said the judge. "They are important factors in juvenile crime."

Pijanowski was only one of seven youths taken to court yesterday on charges of violent crime. In the Boys' court Judge Gibson E. Gorman held six to the grand jury for robbery.

Bonds of $10,000 to $30,000.

They are Henry Pitner, 20 years old, 2457 North Albany avenue; Earl Mantor, 20, of 2131 North Mulligan avenue; Edward Kavanaugh, 18, of 2134 North Mobile avenue; John Barrios, 21, of 4408 South Ashland avenue; Max Ortiz, 17, of 4431 South Marshfield avenue, and Salvador Gomez, 24, of 4505 Justine street. Their bonds were fixed at $10,000 to $30,000 each.

Testimony in the case of Pijanowski, who lives at 1905 South Kedzie avenue, showed that on March 3 he and a companion, Edward Kwiatkowski, 20 years old, drank numerous glasses of beer and shots of whisky in the saloon of George Koppas at 2543 Ogden avenue.

They then staggered out, with Pijanowski so intoxicated he had to lean on his friend for support. They went to visit Frank Gawel, 17 years old, in a soda water distributing station at 1917 South St. Louis avenue, where he worked.

Flee After Knifing.

After a brief quarrel, Pijanowski and Gawel started a fight, during which Gawel was slashed with a knife in the hands of the drunken boy. Testimony showed that Pijanowski was at once remorseful and tried to find a physician. Failing in this quest, he and Kwiatkowski fled. They were arrested the next day.

Judge Harrington agreed to the suggestion of Assistant State's Attorney Irwin Clorfene that the youth should be found guilty of manslaughter. Sentence on the conviction was delayed until April 8, when Public Defender Benjamin Bachrach made a motion for probation.

The judge was informed that the Koppas tavern license has been revoked by Mayor Kelly. Koppas and his bartender, George Vritis, will be tried on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor in the court of Municipal Judge Charles S. Dougherty on Monday.

Kin of Rasputin

Tatiana (left) and Marie, daughters of Mrs. Boris Solovieff.

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Two granddaughters of Rasputin, the mad monk, arrived on the Cunard White Star liner Andania today and were detained at Ellis Island.

Byron H. Uhle, assistant commissioner of immigration, said they were held to determine whether they would depart when their visitors' visas expired. The girls are Tatania, 17 years old, and Maria, 16 years old, daughters of Maria Rasputin Solovieff, who, as a wild animal trainer, appeared in circuses here in 1935 and 1937.

The girls speak only Russian and French. They have spent the last eleven years in a convent in France. It was said Maria had planned to take part in a Broadway show.

FEDERAL AGENTS STUDY MYSTERY DEATH OF BOY

Source of $10 Extortion Note Is Found.

[A. P. Wirephoto.]
Raymond Washkuhn.

Spooner, Wis., March 23.—[Special.]—Federal agents today started an investigation into the mysterious fatal shooting of Raymond Washkuhn, 17 years old, a high school senior, Monday night.

Milwaukee agents took charge of an apparent extortion note found in the dying youth's pocket to determine whether federal statutes had been violated. The note had demanded $10.

District Attorney Sylvan C. Johnson said he learned that the note was written on a typewriter found in the home of Mrs. Phoebe Whaley, where Washkuhn roomed while attending school. Mrs. Whaley is held in the county jail at Shell Lake for further questioning.

Charles Lockhart Jr., 17 years old, who was named by Washkuhn as his assailant shortly before he died early yesterday, was absolved of the crime and released today. Prosecutor Johnson said he had found Lockhart's alibi sound.

Authorities considered the possibility that Washkuhn committed suicide. Two hours before he was shot Monday night he told members of the Whaley household that some one had fired three shots at him. The youth was alone outside the house each time a shot was fired. At 11 p. m. Washkuhn was found on the steps of the Whaley home, wounded in his right chest.

Sherif Robert H. Willis said he did not believe Washkuhn shot himself. He said he based that opinion on the absence of powder burns.

ROB CAFE OWNER OF $300.

Three armed men yesterday robbed Mames Kalias, owner of a restaurant at 1546 North Damen avenue, of $300. They fled in an automobile driven by a fourth man.

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

LIGHTS! CAMERA! ACTION!

By CALEB

THE whir of a camera shutter sounds, the star begins to go through her action—while onlookers watch with bated breath.

Certainly not; we're in Mr. and Mrs. Petersen's living room in Chicago. Mother's holding a flood lamp in either hand, Daddy's on his stomach on the carpet, handling the camera, and the three-year-old star is turning in a performance that makes her a strong contender for this season's academy award—at least so far as Grandma and Grandpa are concerned.

No longer are movies the exclusive property of Hollywood; they've come home! Home-made snapshots today have taken on motion—yes, and color! Eight and sixteen millimeter cameras have been developed to the point where they require no more skill or training to operate than an up-to-date still camera. Costs both for the cameras and the necessary film are surprisingly low. Films, once exposed, are developed, ready for showing, at no additional cost.

And, of course, movie films make a priceless library of history—a moving, living story of children as they grow, friends as they change, homes as they develop. Vacations live again, stirring books of travel come to life.

And, incidentally, the amateur movie taker today has a definite edge over the professional when it comes to color. He has available far simpler methods of color reproduction—easy to use, amazing in result.

No wonder then that millions of feet of amateur movie film are developed every year, keeping a score of good-sized laboratories busy—sometimes night and day.

It seems natural to us to keep abreast of such an important development for everyone has events and people in his life worth recording in permanent, moving fashion.

Result is Field's photographic department is worth seeing—if for no other purpose than to bring yourself up to date on developments in the field of home movies. You'll be surprised to find how inexpensive this equipment is, and how far manufacturers have advanced in equipment and technique. Amateur movie making can open up a whole new and fascinating world.

WARN ON GIVING PRESIDENT RULE OVER U.S. PURSE

Senators Lash Proviso of Reorganization Bill.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—The provision in President Roosevelt's government reorganization scheme to abolish the general accounting office was assailed in the senate today as an effort to vest control of the nation's purse strings in the hands of the President.

Senators Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.], and Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich], led a bipartisan attack on the accounting section, last important provision to be voted on before the final battle to recommit the bill. By unanimous consent, the senate agreed to vote at 1 p. m. tomorrow on Senator Byrd's amendment to preserve the general accounting office with its existing powers and functions, but to give executive departments the right to appeal to the court of claims from decisions of the controler general holding expenditures illegal.

Divides Accounting Functions.

The President's bill abolishes the general accounting office and divides its functions between the politically responsible director and a proposed posed auditor general. The director of the budget, removable at will by the President, would have the responsibility of determining whether expenditures were authorized by law, and the auditor general's powers would be limited to postaudits, after the money had been spent.

Referring to the removal of Dr. Arthur E. Morgan as chairman and member of the TVA board, Senator Vandenberg declared the President is not always tolerant of those who disagree with him. He said the President, in the nature of things, has control of the sword, and that to give him control of the purse would strike at the very foundation of our form of government.

"Of course, the spenders cannot be permitted to audit their own spending—to say for themselves whether they are spending within the instructions issued to them by the legislative branch," said Vandenberg.

Byrd Cites Two Instances.

Senator Byrd declared that former Controler General John R. McCarl incurred the displeasure of those in high places because he refused to approve expenditures not authorized by law. He mentioned the administration's efforts to spend $15,000,000 of relief funds on a shelter belt in the west and $5,500,000 of relief funds on a factory at the Reedsville resettlement project, both of which the controler general disallowed.

"It is reasonable to assume that the budget director, appointed by the President and removable by him, would have denied to him the power to spend $15,000,000 on the shelter belt or $5,500,000 on the factory at Reedsville?" asked Senator Byrd.

Senator James F. Byrnes [D., S. C.], sponsor of the reorganization bill, said the Byrd amendment would impose an impossible burden on the court of claims. He read a letter from Chief Justice Fenton W. Booth saying the members of the court felt it would be physically impossible for them to handle the vast amount of work that would be placed on them.

Actress to Wed

LEAH RAY.

Cleveland, March 23.—(AP)—Leah Ray, 23, screen and radio singer, said today she would marry David A. Werblin, Music Corporation of America vice president, Sunday in New York's Little Church Around the Corner. Werblin, 28, was a business associate of Miss Ray's former fiancé, Harry Pinsley, who was killed in an airplane accident in 1934.

CONSTITUTION DEFENDERS DEFY QUIZ COMMITTEE

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—Dr. Edward A. Rumely refused again today to produce records of the national committee to uphold constitutional government, of which he is secretary, for scrutiny by the senate lobby committee.

Committee representatives served a subpena on Rumley calling for letters written by Frank E. Gannett, newspaper publisher and sponsor of the organization.

The subpena called for letters written on specific dates in May and June, 1937, during the senate fight over President Roosevelt's plan to reorganize the Supreme court. Rumley, called by the committee last week for an investigation of activities in opposition to the pending reorganization bill, refused to produce demanded records.

ROGERS HOSPITAL LOTTERY INQUIRY LANDS 2 IN JAIL

Investigation of a nation-wide lottery scheme allegedly conducted by the Will Rogers Memorial hospital, whose charter was revoked here last month, resulted in the arrest of two men in St. Louis yesterday. Those held are Julius Heitz and Julius Zweig.

Postal Inspector Fred Mayer, who made the arrests, said Heitz admitted he was the St. Louis agent for Chicago promoters of the lottery, which brought in thousands of dollars. Heitz said, according to Mayer, that 60 per cent of the collections from this and other lotteries was retained as promoters' profits and 40 per cent was distributed as prizes.

Last Feb. 11 Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher revoked the charter of the Will Rogers Memorial hospital, at 6970 North Clark street, dissolved the corporation, and removed its officers, directors, and trustees. Attorney General Otto Kerner had complained that the hospital was operating a lottery plan in violation of its charter.

HELD TO JURY FOR ROBBERIES.

Stanley Dowalksi, alias Stepak, was held to the grand jury yesterday by Judge Michael G. Kaspar of the Felony court in bonds of $20,000 on two charges of robbery with a gun.

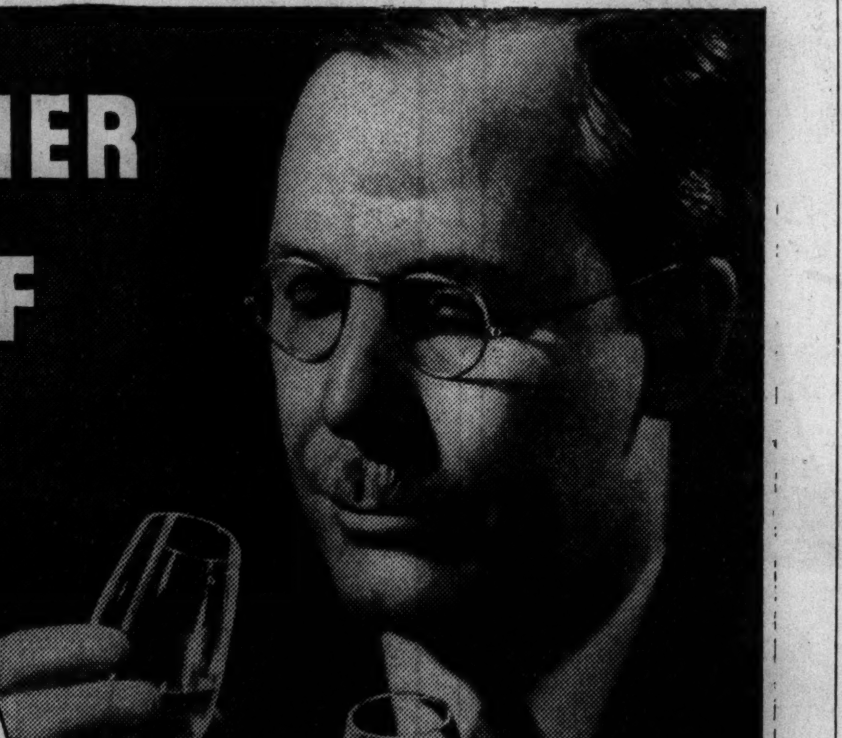
CROWNS TASTE FINER THAN BLENDS OF "THE OLD DAYS"



Experts have proved it

Seagram asked its staff of experts—men long experienced in judging fine whiskies—to compare the taste of famous blended whiskies of the old days—side by side—with Crowns. The whiskies were served in plain glasses. No one knew which was which.

Every man chose Crowns. "Richer ...smoother... finer tasting" was the verdict!

Finer taste always wins. From July, 1935 to December, 1937—in the 14 states that publish records*—more people bought Seagram's 5 and 7 Crown than all other blended whiskies in their price class combined.

The real reason for the finer taste of Crowns is a blending skill—a craftsmanship that dates back to the days of Joseph E. Seagram in 1857.

OVERSHOE CLEW TRIPS UP THREE SAFECRACKERS

Eight Chicago Thefts Are Admitted by Gang.

A rubber overshoe resulted yesterday in the confession by three men under arrest for a jewel robbery that they had cracked eight safes in Chicago since last September, taking $4,100. Two of the prisoners are ex-convicts with long prison records.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's police, who reported the confessions, said he believed the gang was responsible for thirteen other safe blowings in this area in the last twenty-one months. Three other members of the gang are sought.

Those under arrest are Charles Anzona, Frank A. Meyers, and Louis Frank. Meyers has served terms for burglary in the Minnesota prison at Stillwater and in the Folsom, Cal., penitentiary. Frank's record, beginning in 1900, includes sentences for kidnaping, robbery, and burglary in the Pontiac reformatory, Joliet penitentiary, and two California prisons.

Brother of Klutas Aid.

Anzona is a brother of Adolph Anzona, an associate of the late Theodore [Jack] Klutas, kidnaper, who was assassinated last October in Niles Center. It was through Charles Anzona that the safe blowings were solved.

Anzona was freed on bond after his arrest last December in Elmhurst for having a pint of nitro-glycerine in his possession. He was kept under surveillance.

Last Saturday Anzona, Frank, and Meyers were arrested after investigators traced jewelry Meyers disposed of in Dayton, O. The jewels were obtained in a $3,000 robbery of Charles A. Miller in his store at 6138 Cermak road, Cicero, on Feb. 8. Miller identified them as the men who gagged him before robbing his store.

Believing the prisoners were safe blowers, Capt. Gilbert questioned them daily. Yesterday he asked Anzona about the safe of the Community Food shop, 3436 West 26th street, which was blown open March 6, yielding $500 and $1,100 in checks.

Shoe Fits; He Confesses.

Anzona denied any connection with the robbery. Then Capt. Gilbert ordered him to put on a rubber overshoe, abandoned by one of the burglars in flight, and the only real clew in possession of the police. It fitted. Soon Anzona confessed. The others later admitted their guilt.

Three of the safes were blown open in 5 and 10 cent stores. The largest haul was $1,150 from the Bell Motor Sales, Inc., 3030 North Cicero avenue, on Nov. 13. The prisoners also were identified as the gang which tied up five employés of the Ward Baking company, 2608 Lexington street, on March 6, but failed to open the safe in four hours of labor.

Take 4 Killers, 14 Others to Penitentiary at Joliet

Four convicted killers and fourteen robbers and burglars left the county jail yesterday in custody of Warden Frank Sain to begin serving prison terms in the Joliet penitentiary. Among the killers were Corydon Black, sentenced to 20 years for the poison highball murder of his wife, and Russell Grant, sentenced to 199 years for the murder of a filling station attendant.

Robber Is Slain

Hazel Lamphier, cashier in restaurant, congratulating Policeman William Armstrong, who shot a bandit as he fled after robbing her. Armstrong was in line to pay his check and opened fire on the robber as he left after taking $275.

POLICE PATRON KILLS ROBBER OF S. SIDE CAFE

Patrolman Off Duty Fires as Bandit Runs.

A robber who threatened several patrons and robbed the cashier of the Merit cafeteria at 1113 East 63d street of $274 was shot to death late yesterday by Policeman William Armstrong of the Woodlawn district.

Armstrong, who was off duty and in civilian clothing, was in the restaurant waiting in line with three women to pay his check when the robber entered. The man first purchased 5 cents worth of candy and tendered a bill in payment. Then he drew a pistol.

Orders Patrons to Sit Down.

"This is a stickup," he said. "All of you sit down if you don't want to get hurt." The order was obeyed.

He took $127 in silver and $147 in bills from the cashier, Miss Hazel Lamphier, 6130 University avenue, then started out the door. Armstrong drew his pistol and fired. The bullet struck the robber's right overcoat pocket into which he had dumped the silver money.

A second bullet crashed through the glass of the revolving door and struck the fugitive just as he reached the sidewalk. He turned west and tried to flee as the policeman followed. He was drawing his pistol to battle Armstrong when a third bullet struck him in the head and he fell dead in front of a tavern at 1107 East 63d street.

Identification Card in Pocket.

In the pockets of the robber, who had false teeth and wore glasses, was found a social security card bearing the name of Sidney Aubrey Law, 541 Laclede avenue, Memphis, Tenn. The money was recovered. Five 50 cent pieces had been dented by the policemen's bullet.

The shooting was witnessed by more than thirty patrons of the restaurant and by passersby in the street. Armstrong's coolness and accurate marksmanship were commended by his officers at Woodlawn station.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Joseph Carney, crime against nature, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Francis B. Allegretti.

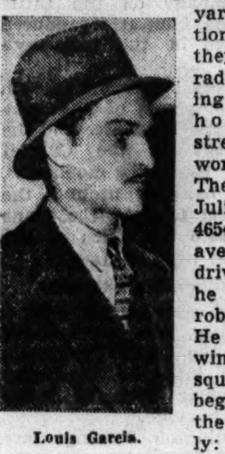
JAIL 2 FOR PETTY LARCENY.

Judge Michael G. Kaspar in the Felony court yesterday sentenced James Branch, 335 Van Buren street, and Clement P. Derka, 836 Madison street, to six months each in the Bridewell for petty larceny.

ROBBERY VICTIM FINDS BANDIT — IN A POLICE CAR

As Sergt. Thomas Lynch and his squad were driving toward the Stockyards police station yesterday they received a radio call notifying them of a holdup at 43d street and Wentworth avenue. There they found Julius Abelson of 4654 Wentworth avenue, a taxicab driver, who said he had just been robbed of $3.80. He leaned on the window of the squad car and began describing the bandit thusly:



Louis Garcia.

"He had a gun and was dark complexioned. He was about the build of that guy there. He was—good gosh! That's him."

Abelson was pointing at Louis Garcia, 24 years old, who was seated uneasily in the rear seat of the squad car. Sergt. Lynch had arrested him at the mouth of a nearby alley just before hearing the radio bulletin. Garcia was carrying a large pistol wrapped in newspaper and had $3.80.

WHITE SLAVERS' BASE IN QUINCY BARED BY CHILD

Springfield, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—A band of white slavers whose activities are believed to be nation-wide has been using Quincy, Ill., as one of its operating points, federal authorities said today.

The district attorney's office said federal agents had uncovered evidence that girls had been transported to Quincy from several other states adjacent to Illinois. It was said the present investigation would be extended west to Salt Lake City and south to Atlanta.

Activities of the white slave ring were exposed by the arrest of a child bride, Cleo Miller, 15 years old, who was found in a house of ill repute in Quincy. She had been brought to Illinois from Kansas City, Mo.

Fifteen persons have been indicted for violation of the Mann act. Eleven entered pleas of not guilty before Federal Judge J. Leroy Adair at Quincy today. He set their trial for April 4.

PLAN FUND DRIVE TO SPREAD BIRTH CONTROL FACTS

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—A campaign to raise more than $250,000 to democratize birth control information, so that every married couple in need of it can obtain accurate medical advice, will be launched here April 5 by the Citizens' Committee for Planned Parenthood, it was announced today. Thomas S. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co. will act as treasurer.

More than 500 men and women, representing educational, religious, medical, and civic life, will seek funds to finance the work of the American Birth Control league, according to Mrs. William C. Potter, the chairman. At present, Mrs. Potter said, there are only 374 clinics in the whole country providing birth control advice, and these reach only about 200,000 married women.

Store Asks for Rehearing on Free Bus Service Ban

Goldblatt Brothers, department store owners, yesterday petitioned the Illinois commerce commission for a rehearing of the commission order that it cease operation of free bus service from western suburbs to the store at 3311 West 26th street. The company contends that because it operates the bus as a private concern it is not subject to the commission's jurisdiction.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

Jackson explained away a unanimous opinion of the court that Mr. Roosevelt had exceeded his power in removing William E. Humphrey from the federal trade commission by saying this is a quasi-judicial and quasi-legisltaive body. The TVA is neither quasi-judicial nor quasi-legislative, but a purely executive body, said Jackson.

Sen. Norris, father of TVA, said Dr. Morgan "ought to have been removed," though lawyers differ on the President's power of removal. Several days ago Norris said flatly that the President lacked such power.

Norris said the question of the President's power would be passed on by the Supreme court, presumably as the result of a suit by Dr. Morgan to collect the salary withheld from him.

"Dictatorial," Says Bridges.

Senator Bridges assailed the action of the President in removing Dr. Morgan "without a fair trial" as "arbitrary" and "dictatorial." An immediate congressional investigation is imperative, he argued, because "at present David Lilienthal and Harcourt Morgan are in unquestioned possession of all the records of the TVA."

"Unless an immediate congressional investigation is started," he said, "many of the things to which Dr. Morgan has referred may be covered up or whitewashed."

Senator Bridges warned the remaining TVA directors against attempting to doctor the records by citing the provisions of title 18, section 128, of the United States code, which makes it unlawful for any public official to conceal, remove, obliterate, or destroy any public records. The section provides for a fine of not more than $2,000 and imprisonment for not more than three years, he added.

Barkley Deplores Haste.

When Senator Bridges asked unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the resolution which he introduced jointly with Senator William H. King [D., Utah], calling for investigation of the TVA by a committee of five senators and five representatives, Majority Leader Barkley objected.

Barkley announced that he would introduce a resolution of his own, calling for a joint investigation, and that he would not serve on the committee. He denied there was any disposition to prevent an investigation or that any member of the administration, from the President down, was afraid of one.

Senator Bridges asked whether he had formed an opinion as to the President's legal authority to remove Dr. Morgan. Barkley said he had a "curbstone" opinion on the subject, but that it would not necessarily be binding upon the Supreme court. Barkley insisted there was no need for haste in passing an investigation resolution.

Bridges then assailed the new contention of administration leaders that investigations should be conducted by "impartial and disinterested" senators.

Setting a New Precedent.

"So far as I have been able to trace the precedents," he said, "there never has been an investigating committee created by the senate but that some one having an interest was placed in charge or at least was included in the membership. This would establish a wholly different precedent and I shall be much interested if the precedent is established to see that it is followed henceforth in future investigations."

Bridges referred to the inquisitorial committee formerly headed by Senator Hugo L. Black, now a justice of the Supreme court, and to the "civil liberties" committee headed by Senator Robert M. La Follette [Rad., Wis.].

When Senator Norris interrupted to accuse Senator Bridges of bias, Bridges asked him whether he thought Mr. Roosevelt had a legal right to remove Dr. Morgan.

Norris Evades Questioner.

"That has nothing to do with what the senator is now asking," Norris replied. "That has nothing to do with whether we have a senatorial investigation."

Later Norris explained his evasion of the question by saying the case soon would go to the courts and that he did not wish to discuss what the courts ought to do. But regardless of Mr. Roosevelt's legal authority, Norris said, Dr. Morgan should have been removed.

"I do not believe any unbiased and unprejudiced man can read it [the record of Mr. Roosevelt's hearings] and believe that Dr. Morgan was justified in the defiance he hurled at the President of the United States," Norris said. "I think his attitude was indefensible. I think his attitude in that respect was sufficient to justify his removal, because it showed a condition of mind and heart in the man that utterly unfits him for that position. In my judgment he ought to be removed."

Assails Two Colleagues.

Norris said an investigation of the TVA would have been completed by now if Senators Bridges and King had not blocked his original proposal for a federal trade commission inquiry and later his resolution for a senate investigation.

Norris denounced Senators King and Bridges for seeking to incorporate in an investigating resolution their famous twenty-three charges against the TVA.

"Some of them were insulting," he said. "When the senator from New Hampshire [Bridges] consulted me I said to him that I had no objection to any of the twenty-three charges if they were couched in decent, respectable language. Some of the charges were based on the assumption that the TVA was corrupt to begin with. Their language had almost the effect of asking the TVA authorities: 'Will you stop stealing from the government? Answer yes or no.'"

May Rise in TVA

James Lawrence Fly, chief counsel for the TVA, whose name is mentioned as possible successor to vacancy on board created by the ouster of Dr. Arthur Morgan.

Norris complained that Senators Bridges and King had not treated him with the "respect that one senator owes another." He said they had been "almost insulting" to him. He then served notice on Barkley that, having surrendered once on his proposal for a federal trade commission inquiry, he would not surrender again; that he would seek passage of his resolution for a senate investigation as opposed to a joint congressional undertaking.

"I have been blocked in two attempts to get an investigation of the TVA," he said. "On the other hand, enemies of the TVA are hurling charges that I am in a conspiracy to whitewash the TVA. These enemies have blocked two attempts to have an investigation made. By this time we would have had the investigation practically completed if I had had my way about it.

"As I said the other day, I should rather have Mr. Willkie [head of a private utility system] on the investigating committee than to have the senator from New Hampshire on it. I would rather take any of the private utility magnates in preference to the senator from New Hampshire."

Borah Urges Action.

Senator William E. Borah [R., Idaho] then appealed for an immediate senatorial investigation.

"It seems to me that if we proceed at once to pass a resolution authorizing the presiding officer of this body [Vice President John N. Garner] to appoint a committee, we then will have a body before the country in which the country will have confidence," he said. "I have no doubt that the presiding officer will appoint a committee satisfactory to the senate and to the country.

"Let the senate go ahead and make its investigation, and if the house wants to proceed, it may do so. But our duty is plain. The question before us, involving as it does the aims of the government, is one of the most important questions which possibly can be considered, and the situation outght to be investigated."

Vandenberg Assails Action.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] referred to "contemporary events in the White House" when he began a discussion of the President's reorganization bill, saying the pending bid for power should be examined in the light of what happened yesterday.

"We have a new crime in America," said Senator Vandenberg. "I believe it is called 'contumacy.' It never before has been known to exist, at least officially, and I have been unable to discover that any other citizen has run foul of the crime of contumacy up to now.

"This does not mean, however, that it has not existed in essence elsewhere in the world, because under every modern form of dictatorship across the sea and under every absolute government since time began, there has bee nthe crime of lese majeste. It seems to me that contumacy is the American paraphrase of lese majeste."

Sweeping Probe Demanded.

John O'Connor [D., N. Y.], chairman of the house rules committee, proposed an investigation by a house committee, opposed an inquiry by a senate committee, but said he would compromise on a joint senate and house investigation.

"Having voted," he said, "for all measures pertaining to TVA, I believe nothing short of a comprehensive inquiry into its policies, as well as the personalities, will satisfy the public.

"Now is the time to find out if the government has been justified in pouring hundreds of millions of dollars into this enormous project, originally conceived for national defense—the manufacture of nitrogen in times of war and fertilizer in times of peace. How far that original purpose has been lost sight of or abandoned to a concentration on the production of power should be inquired into.

Wants Yard Stick Measured.

"Likewise the controversies over the preferential sales of power to private concerns and public agencies; whether the much heralded 'yard stick' is anything more than a foot rule; whether in computing the cost of production the authority has taken into account such items as overhead, interest, depreciation and other usual items; whether the whole project is of national benefit rather than merely of local interest; whether the project has developed into an undue competition with private business on the part of the government; whether unnecessary dams, costing hundreds of millions of dollars, sometimes have been built to aid in the reëlection of some statesman or as a monument named after him—even while he is living.

"Undoubtedly there are other matters—of policies and otherwise—which should be looked into. Nothing short of such a wide approach to the subject will satisfy the American people."

JARECKI SPEAKS IN 2 LANGUAGES; FOE HITS RECORD

In three appearances last night Judge Edmund K. Jarecki and Judge John Prystalski carried on their campaigns for the Democratic nomination as county judge.

Judge Jarecki, who was discarded from the ticket by the regular Democratic organization in favor of Judge Prystalski, spoke both in German and English before a meeting of the German Hungarian American citizens' organization at 911 Armitage avenue. He spoke on citizenship, explaining the American method of peacefully changing the laws and office holders at the polls. He likened political bosses to European dictators

Judge Prystalski spoke at 6420 Cermak road, Berwyn, and at the Willow Springs town hall. He assailed Judge Jarecki's record, charging that delays in tax appeals and election contest decisions had cost taxpayers thousands of dollars. He stated that if elected he would speed up the machinery of the County court at a great saving to the people.

HORNER PLEDGES STUDY OF APPEAL FOR MORE RELIEF

Springfield, Ill., March 23.—(AP)—Gov. Henry Horner promised today to study demands of the Illinois Workers' alliance for increased relief appropriations, but wouldn't disclose whether he planned to call a special session of the legislature.

A committee of 15, representing the Workers' alliance and a dozen trade unions, presented seven demands to the governor, including requests for increased aid, prompt medical attention, a minimum of $75 for funerals and $30 monthly old age pension.

Four state policemen in plain clothes filed in the governor's office with the delegates, guarding against any repetition of demonstrations that marked such demands in previous years. Today's meeting was orderly.

FIRMS FAVORED BY TVA ARE MUM ON GO-BETWEENS

Refuse to Discuss Highly Profitable Contracts.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Corporations in the east which have entered into highly profitable transactions with the Tennessee Valley authority have decided not to tell the public about the deals unless forced to do so during the course of an investigation by congress. One reason for this stand, it was learned, is a censorship edict plastered on the companies by TVA.

Some details of the agreements are filtering out despite the soft-pedaling efforts of the TVA. The companies involved, however, refuse to disclose who the intermediaries were in the negotiations, whether there was any consideration paid and how the bargain rates were determined.

Adopt Waiting Attitude.

The policy adopted by these concerns is one of watchful waiting pending the administration's attempt to stave off an inquiry which was featured yesterday by President Roosevelt's ousting of Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the TVA, who demanded an investigation of waste and corruption in the vast experiment into socialism.

Four industrial concerns and a public utilities company are the principal beneficiaries of the low subsidized rates on power with which TVA has agreed to supply them. The power which TVA will furnish these companies totals about 80 per cent of the installed generating capacity of its dams. The rates are much lower than those charged to municipal plants in the area.

Have Long Term Contracts.

Contracting for terms running from 10 to 20 years, these concerns are: Aluminum Company of America, Electro Metallurgical company, Victor Chemical works, Monsanto Chemical company, and the Arkansas Power and Light company. The Electro Metallurgical concern is the only one of the group with main offices in New York City, although the Arkansas utility company is a member of the Electric Bond and Share system with headquarters here.

The Electro Metallurgical company, a subsidiary of the Union Carbide and Carbon company, entered into a contract calling for 24,000 kilowatts of firm or year round power and 16,000 kilowatts of secondary power. The contract was signed for TVA by Harcourt Morgan, one of the directors and a foe of Dr. Morgan. Harcourt Morgan, who bears no relation to the other, was named as the new TVA chairman by President Roosevelt. The date of the contract was Aug. 17, 1937.

Company Refuses Comment.

F. P. Gormely, vice president of the metallurgical concern, also signed the contract. Seen at his office here today, Gormely declined to discuss the contract in any other way than to state that the company would start work shortly on its plant project at Sheffield, Ala., where it will be on the receiving end of TVA's bargain power.

Publicity agents for the concern likewise refused to talk about the transaction. One of them revealed that all publicity releases of the company must be submitted first to TVA for approval or rejection before being sent to newspapers.

Similarly, John J. Watson, president of the International Agricultural corporation, which collected a half million dollars' profit or 400 per cent on a sale of phosphate lands to TVA, refused to discuss the transaction. He remarked that he would be willing to answer questions put to him by a congressional investigating committee.

The contract between TVA and Arkansas Power and Light, of which Harvey C. Couch is president, has been the talk of utility experts ever since it was signed last June. Couch is a former director of the Reconstruction Finance corporation and a close political crony of President Roosevelt. The President visited Couch at his Arkansas home during the 1936 campaign.

In this contract TVA agrees to furnish 20,000 kilowatts firm and 20,000 secondary power. Two points in the contract are of interest. One is the fact that TVA imposed no restrictions on the rates which Arkansas Power and Light can charge for resale of the subsidized power, while in other negotiations the agency has insisted on dictating such rates. The second is that TVA cannot cancel the contract without giving the Arkansas company two years' notice.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 23.—[Special.]—The second leg of the survey flight over the Tennessee Valley Authority brought the Tribune amphibian plane into the rugged mountains. Near Knoxville it flew over the Holston and French Broad rivers which unite to form the Tennessee river. It soared above Alcoa, where the Aluminum Company of America has one of the largest of its reduction plants, and headed toward the Great Smokies.

After zooming up in the mountains, banking around crags and wooded hills for a glimpse of wild scenery, Pilot Howard West descended deviously on a course even more crooked than the streams themselves, and pointed the plane for the Fontana proposed dam site on the Little Tennessee river.

Rivulets Tumble Toward Sea.

Down the mountain slopes in all directions, rivulets were tumbling toward the sea. Precipitation in the southeastern part of the Little Tennessee watershed is highest in the whole Tennessee valley, reaching an average of 82 inches annually at one station.

An extensive hydro-electric generating system is operated by the Aluminum company on the Little Tennessee. The kilowatts produced are chiefly used in the company's plant at Alcoa.

The plane passed over the Cheoah and Calderwood plants of the company on the Little Tennessee and the Santeetlah plant on the Cheoah river. Coming 'round the mountains, dodging and banking around the hills, Pilot West brought the plane down almost into the gulch of the Little Tennessee near Fontana.

Owned by Aluminum Company.

The proposed site, as yet only a mark on the map, is 61 miles above the mouth of the Little Tennessee, which empties into the Tennessee river near Lenoir City, 47 miles southwest of Knoxville.

In the Washington hearings last April, TVA set forth that the 1936 report on unified development of the Tennessee basin proposed the construction of the Fontana dam. It was estimated then that the project would cost 51 million dollars, and would produce 180,000 horse power. The dam would be about 450 feet high and would provide a water storage of a million and a half acre feet.

The 1937 annual report of TVA says no studies in connection with this project were made last year, as no funds were authorized for the purpose. The TVA proposed construction schedule of Dec. 13, 1937, places the starting date of the proposed Fontana dam as July 1, 1942, with four years required to finish it.

Into Blue Ridge Range.

Over the Cherokee National Forest the amphibian headed for Hiwassee dam on the Hiwassee river in North Carolina. This stream rises in the Blue Ridge mountains of northern Georgia and flows into the Tennessee river, thirty-six miles above Chattanooga. It is a typical mountain stream for most of its course—rocky, winding, turbulent, and flashy.

A dozen times the plane banked for pictures of the operations, and worked its way around the crests. Hiwassee dam is about 22 per cent complete.

A town for housing the workers has been built. From the air the first cofferdam appeared almost finished, with excavations on the abutments complete. These are cut into the solid rock, the dam being something like Norris dam in aspect. Its ultimate cost is to be 22 million dollars.

A reservoir 22 miles long is to be formed by the dam, which will be 292 feet high—a trifle higher than Norris. It is highest of the dams now under construction and is to be 1,250 feet long.

Chickamauga Next.

Heading west for Chattanooga, Chickamauga dam was the next subject for the camera. Its estimated cost a year ago was 45 million dollars. It is located seven miles upstream from Chattanooga, close by the airport. It will form a pool 59 miles long, with a minimum navigable depth of nine feet, reaching to the proposed dam site at Watts Bar. Until Watts Bar dam is built Chickamauga dam will back the water 75 miles upstream.

Chickamauga dam is about 36 per cent finished. It will have an initial installation of two 30,000 kilovolt ampere units and space is to be provided for the addition of two similar units.

The Tennessee valley is narrow, and farmers last fall viewed with belligerency the TVA and its proposal to drown out their bottom lands.

Fertile fields stretched along the river banks as the plane flew by. Spring freshets renew the productivity of the soil, and these bottoms produce from 50 to 100 bushels of corn to the acre.

Charge Confiscation of Lands.

At Dayton, which a decade ago was front paged as the scene of the Scopes monkey trial, farmers last fall formed a protective association. They complained the TVA was seeking to grab their land at confiscatory prices.

Dismay also was shown by business men. They figured the tax assessment rolls of Rhea county would be hard hit by the flooding of the bottom lands and levies would go up.

A total area of 68,000 acres is required by the Chickamauga project. About 1,500 families will have to be relocated; 750 graves will have to be moved. The estimated cost per acre of land to be acquired is $109. Chickamauga dam itself is 108 feet high and 5,679 feet long. It is supposed to be completed in April, 1940.

Turning back, the amphibian flew close to Lookout mountain and returned to the Chattanooga airport for gas for the afternoon flight down river.

STREET RAILWAY PURCHASE BALKS TVA POWER DEAL

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—Refusal of city officials of Knoxville, Tenn., to take over the community's privately owned street railway system today blocked negotiations, temporarily at least, for public purchase of the Knoxville Public Service company.

David E. Lilienthal, TVA director, after a conference with interested parties, said the outcome was very much in doubt. The conference was attended by Mayor W. W. Mynatt of Knoxville and Paul B. Sawyer, president of the National Power and Light company, which controls the Knoxville concern.

Lilienthal said Sawyer wanted the city to buy the street railway, owned by the power company, along with the electric distribution facilities, but that Mayor Mynatt balked.

No matter where you live—no matter where you want to go in Chicago, Surface Lines cars or buses are always available.

They bring more people to the Loop daily than any other transportation agency. But they also serve directly every business section and every industrial district. They reach within three blocks of 98 per cent of all homes in the city.

In 11 years the route mileage of all three transportation systems in Chicago has increased 178 miles. All but 8 miles of this increase has been added by the Surface Lines.

In these 11 difficult years also, the Chicago Surface Lines has bought 462 new equipment units—new cars, new buses and new trolley buses. It has spent $54,000,000 for improvements and extensions.

STILL A PUBLIC OFFICIAL, SAYS MORGAN IN CITY

Ousted TVA Head Hints Action Is Invalid.

BY PERCY WOOD.

Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, looking far from crushed by President Roosevelt's order ousting him as chairman of the Tennessee Valley authority, left little doubt during the course of an interview here yesterday that he still considers himself a public official.

This exponent of socialized power, a tall, bronzed, quiet speaking man, was not in a defiant mood while talking to a roomful of reporters and cameramen in the Palmer house. He did not say outright that the President couldn't fire him because he lacked the authority, but made the point in more temperate words.

Recalls His Challenge.

"Tuesday night," he said, "I received a wire from the White House to the effect that my removal as chairman of the TVA would be effective Wednesday. During the White House hearing I challenged the right and power of the President to take that action."

"Will you coöperate in a congressional investigation of the TVA?" he was asked.

"Any public official is at the call of congress at any time," Dr. Morgan replied. Some of his listeners thought he emphasized the words "public official."

"Since you have not resigned and you challenge the removal order, will you clarify your present status?" came another question.

Visits Chicago Lawyer.

His visit to Chicago, while ostensibly to visit his daughter and son-in-law and talk with old friends, is apparently for the purpose of clarifying his status in his own mind and deciding what course of action he should take. Immediately after the interview, Dr. Morgan went to the office of Attorney Edwin H. Cassels of Cassels, Potter & Bentley, 209 South La Salle street.

"Dr. Morgan is an old friend," Mr. Cassels said. "He formerly was president of Antioch college at Yellow Springs, O., and I have been interested in the college for many years."

After several hours conference with Dr. Morgan, Mr. Cassels denied that he was acting as his counsel or that Dr. Morgan had retained a lawyer.

Visits His Daughter.

Dr. Morgan spent last night with his daughter, Mrs. Landum Bolling, wife of a graduate student at the University of Chicago, who, with her husband, is staying in an apartment at 5716 Dorchester avenue. It is the residence of Miss Dora Wells, former high school principal who taught Dr. Morgan during the nineties when he was attending school in St. Cloud, Minn. He may return to Yellow Springs today.

Relaxing slightly on the way to his daughter's last night, Dr. Morgan said that he had received many telegrams during the last few days approving his stand in the presidential hearings. One of them came from a classmate in the first grade in grammar school more than 50 years ago.

Bronzed by Florida Sun.

Dr. Morgan seemed unworried over his embattled position and appeared to be younger than his 59 years. He said he was in good health and looked it with his face and hands brown from the Florida sun, contrasting with his gray hair, heavy grayish-black eyebrows, and alert blue eyes.

For a prepared statement he had only this to say:

"The TVA has been and should continue to be a great and useful instrument for the preservation and development of very extensive natural resources and the betterment of living conditions. I have been and am now in full sympathy with its purpose and objectives and I greatly hope for its success."

Silent on His Charges.

Having refused to discuss in detail for the President his charges of dishonesty against his former colleagues, Harcourt A. Morgan and David E. Lilienthal, Dr. Morgan would not speak of them yesterday, intimating that the charges should be given before a congressional investigation. This was his position at the White House, where he held that Mr. Roosevelt's inquiry was not a fact finding proceeding and that since he did not have access to the TVA board records for substantiation of his charges he could present his case only to a body possessing authority to subpena them. Congress has that authority.

FARMER KILLED BY OWN GUN.

Harrisburg, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—Rudolph L. Gates, 62 years old, Saline county farmer, accidentally shot himself when his shotgun was discharged as he set it against a wire fence, over which he intended to climb. He died. Gates was a charter member and past president of the county farm bureau.

STREET CORNER JUDGESHIP POLL FAVORS JARECKI

The Courtney-Horner-Jarecki forces in the Democratic primary campaign yesterday announced the results of a poll conducted at five street intersections in the city.

The intersections were Diversey and Clark, Ashland avenue and 55th street, Ashland avenue and 47th street, Halsted and 55th streets, and Milwaukee and Ashland avenues.

The results, it was announced, showed a vote of 123 for Judge Edmund K. Jarecki to succeed himself as county judge to 26 for Judge John Prystalski, who seeks the office.

Son, 21, Is Freed After Threat Against Mother

Melvin Wolf, 21 years old, 4353 Gladys avenue, who was arrested March 8 after his mother, Mrs. Belle Wolf, complained that he threatened her, was freed on a charge of disorderly conduct in the Fillmore street court yesterday. Dr. David Rotman, court psychiatrist, had reported to Judge Samuel Heller that Wolf was subject to fits of temper and that he frequently said things he did not mean. The young man agreed to stay away from his mother.

ASK 50 MILLION TO AVOID CLOSING 300 CCC CAMPS

Predict New Demands for Work Relief Funds.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—The unemployment situation is so acute that congress soon will be called upon to appropriate a huge sum for continuation of the work relief problem, Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.] of the appropriations committee told the house today.

Rep. Clifton A. Woodrum.

Anticipating this request from the President, his committee has taken steps to keep open 300 civilian conservation corps camps which were scheduled to close in July, Woodrum revealed.

The camps, with an average strength of 200 men per camp, were to have been closed as a result of the President's message urging a slashing in certain expenditures. The message was sent to congress before the present depression arrived at its present status.

CCC Camps Total 1,500.

The annual appropriation for the CCC had been cut 123 millions of dollars to the amount of 226 millions. This would have reduced the CCC camps from 1,500 to 1,200.

"One of the finest things accomplished by this administration has been the CCC," said Woodrum. "At a time when we are going to be called upon to appropriate more money for relief, I do not believe funds could be more wisely spent than to continue the present number of camps.

"The latest estimate shows that there probably will be 61,000 vacancies in the camps as of March 31 and at the present time there are more than 207,000 applications for enrollment.

"I violate no confidence when I say I have discussed this matter with the President. After this conference, I learned that there is impounded in the treasury the sum of 28 million dollars which congress appropriated for the CCC for the current year program and which will not be used.

"An appropriation of 50 millions will enable the corps to carry on its present program through the next fiscal year and will avoid the necessity of the loss of any of the 300 camps which now are scheduled for abandonment."

COURTNEY AIMS BOOKIE RAIDS AT SYNDICATE HEADS

State's Attorney Courtney yesterday reiterated his intention to continue his so-called fact finding raids against Chicago gambling houses. His real target, he said, is the syndicate that is believed to be the ruling power in the illegal bookmaking.

"Hoodlums are getting the revenues of Chicago gambling," said Courtney. "The coming primary election has nothing to do with this. We are going to keep on arresting gamblers until we get the syndicate. We'll beat them in the long run."

The state's attorney's police visited two places yesterday. At 733 West 63d street they arrested Austin E. Foster, supposed operator, and two of his assistants. At 1614 West 63d street they seized Walter Herschman, owner, and two clerks. All were questioned by Assistant State's Attorney Richard B. Austin and later released.

DR. MORGAN AND THE TVA INVESTIGATION.

Dr. Arthur E. Morgan has been fired from the chairmanship and board of the Tennessee Valley authority. He asked for an investigation of TVA by congress. He himself was brought to trial in the White House. He refused to answer questions, saying that an inquiry would come to nothing unless the records of the Authority could be subpenaed.

The accuser became the accused. He has been discharged for contumacy, for making grave and libelous charges against the other two directors, and for obstructing the work of the TVA. The effort is to change the question at issue from his charges to his alleged shortcomings. He is still waiting for congress to order the investigation and call him.

Thus Arthur E. Morgan has been put out in front to overshadow the part that the politicians have been playing in the affairs of the Authority in the Tennessee valley water shed and the profits they have been making or trying to make. If congress doesn't authorize a thorough investigation people will be justified in suspecting or believing that the refusal was not dictated by a consideration of what might be disclosed against the directors but of what might be discovered of the actions of politicians on the make.

Tennessee valley is only one of the regions in which federal money has been recklessly sluiced, but it has offered its own rare opportunities for enrichment. The case involving Senator Berry should not be judged until it has had a thorough investigation, but to allow it to go without investigation would burden congress with the imputation that it was afraid to open up a complete inquiry because of the politicians involved. All that is generally known of Berry's claim is that he had properties which would be inundated near the Norris dam, that he estimated the value of his marble quarries at 5 million dollars, sought to get that amount from the TVA. Was opposed by Arthur Morgan, and that a special commission appointed by a federal court in Tennessee reported back that the claim was worthless.

Dr. Arthur Morgan, in his letter to Congressman Maury Maverick of Texas, said: "The Berry marble claims, in my opinion, were an effort at a deliberate, bare faced steal. The other two directors had the same evidence that I did. For a year and a half I tried to work it out in confidence in the board and without publicity, and only spoke out at the last minute. The public and the congress do not yet know the extent to which that was improperly handled."

Senator Norris, who drew the TVA act, says that it was intended to make the directors independent of political influence, even providing, as it does, that a dischargeable offense would be yielding to political importunity for employment. The directors under fire may have felt that no matter what the law provided they were nevertheless dealing with a political scheme of things, relying upon congress for appropriations, such as the one now blocked for the Gilbertsville dam, and that unless the politicians were properly sweetened the Authority wouldn't get its money.

In decency congress cannot refuse the request the discharged chairman has made for a thorough investigation. The Authority has been buying land and making contracts. There is every reason to suspect that there has been a political scramble to find out what the directors would do and anticipate it by taking up options and getting leases. Hundreds of square miles of land have been put under water and more is yet to be. As an independent body the TVA has been doing as it pleased, is far in arrears in its accounting, and has been the despair of the controler general. TVA is not the only governmental enterprise which needs and should have a complete investigation, but it is the one which is in line for it just now. The charges are made by the discharged chairman of the corporation who, because he makes them, is himself accused of obstruction and contumacy. The matter can't rest there.

THE ARMY RELIEF SOCIETY.

After the Spanish-American war a small organization was formed in the regular army to give emergency relief to the wives and children of officers and men who die in the service. Our government provides 40 cents a day for the widows of privates and noncommissioned officers, 6⅔ cents a day each for children until the age of 16. A lieutenant's widow receives 56 cents a day, a captain's 66⅔ cents, a major's 83⅓ cents, a colonel's $1. The Army Relief society knows that this is a meager provision for most widows of service men suddenly confronted with the loss of a breadwinner whose pay is always small, whose opportunity to lay by something is small. Death in the army, even in peace time, is very likely to be sudden and there are few soldiers, privates, or officers who have provision against it. Take a lieutenant of the air corps. His duty is extra hazardous in peace as well as in war. He may be killed in the Canal Zone, or Hawaii, or the Philippines. His wife is far from home and friends. In due time she will receive from the government her pension of 56 cents a day, but what of today and tomorrow?

The Army Relief society tries, from its modest resources, to help cases like that as well as problems of longer reach. It steps in promptly to meet immediate and urgent need. Then it follows up. It has helped many widows to find employment and many soldiers' children to training and education. The government does not meet these human needs. The society does, so far as its resources permit. Since the world war its work has extended and it now has a score of branches working wherever the army is, at home, in the Zone, in the islands.

It is a noble service, a service not merely for the army, but for the nation. It is a voluntary service. There is virtually no overhead. No worker is paid for it. There is no racket in this charity. It richly deserves liberal support outside of the army. Army people live on modest incomes, though we expect so much from them. They are not able to create a really sufficient fund for this work. They make up by giving their work without pay and it is well done. Civilian contributions should supplement their giving, for the responsibility is ours as well as theirs. The Army Relief society now under the presidency of Mrs. Hugh A. Drum, wife of the commander of the 6th corps area, may be addressed at Room 1013, Postoffice Building, Chicago.

THE BLACK INQUISITION REVIVED.

Frank E. Gannett, publisher of a chain of newspapers, was instrumental in forming the National Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government to fight the court-packing bill. This committee is now engaged in rallying opposition to the reorganization bill which would give the President enormously greater power than the executive has ever before possessed.

Needless to say, any citizen in this country [though not in Russia, Germany, or Italy] has the right and, indeed, the duty, if he feels that way about it, to oppose legislation favored by the administration. Until this administration came to power, the right had not been seriously challenged in this country in time of peace since the alien and sedition laws. Lese majesty is thus a new crime in this country. The punishment awaiting the citizen suspected of this crime is persecution by government bureaus, or smearing, or both.

The smearing has been entrusted largely to the so-called lobby investigating committee, formerly headed by Senator [now Justice] Black, the Ku Kluxer. The expectation that without Senator Black's unique gifts the committee could not function effectively has not been wholly realized. He has a successor in Senator Minton of Indiana, who is striving to live up to the polecat tradition of the office, as was demonstrated when the committee went to work to smear Mr. Gannett's organization.

The obvious fact about the reorganization bill is that the senators, if allowed to form their own judgments, would vote it down. The bill is a fraud and they know it. It is intended not to promote efficiency and economy in government, but to aggrandize the executive, increase his patronage, and give him another weapon with which to bludgeon congress. The bill is opposed by every man in congress who agrees with Senator Byrd that the executive departments and bureaus should be rearranged to promote efficiency and reduce costs. No other reorganization is worth bothering about.

The only lobbying of any consequence in connection with the bill has been the lobbying for it by the administration. The Farley organization has gone about the business with characteristic ruthlessness. Local politicians, who know nothing about the matter and care less, have been prevailed upon to press their senators to vote for it. Promises have been made of public expenditures in exchange for support, and there have been rumors of withdrawal of such appropriations as a reprisal for opposition. These tactics have been exposed on the floor of the senate, but the so-called lobby committee was not interested. It was out to smear Mr. Gannett and his associates—that and nothing else.

The Minton committee had the effrontery to summon the executive head of the National Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government, Dr. Edward Rumely, and demand books and papers. The Black inquisition had stooped to thievery in its seizure of private telegrams. Minton sought to commit a crime of equal magnitude.

Dr. Rumely properly refused to comply and stood on his constitutional rights. When the committee renewed its pressure at a subsequent hearing he still stood firm.

"I'm standing on a fundamental American right," Dr. Rumely said.

"O, yes?" Senator Minton retorted. "I used to hear lawyers plead the same grounds in defense of bootleggers."

This remark is highly significant. It indicates all too clearly that in the smearing mind, the citizen is always guilty when accused by a government official, even a prohibition agent. It means, also, that a citizen who dares to disagree with the fuehrer in Washington has, so far as the smearers are concerned, surrendered all the rights guaranteed by the constitution.

The lobby committee is the GPU of this administration. Its conduct establishes the real nature and the real purposes of that administration. What they are out to accomplish is the centralization of all authority in one man's hands in Washington. Neither the courts, nor the constitution, nor the decencies of human behavior are to be allowed to halt the totalitarian trend. For exposing this purpose and resisting it, Mr. Gannett, Dr. Rumely, and their associates deserve the thanks of all free men.

Editorial of the Day

DEMOCRACY THE ONLY SAFEGUARD.

[Philadelphia Inquirer.]

In this new age of dictators is there any safeguard against despotism? The one and only protection for humanity lies in the preservation of democratic government. It didn't save Austria? No, but Austria didn't protect democracy, either. Austria, on the day of its doom, was a helpless, impoverished totalitarian state.

When a people, any people, surrender their rights as free men to one wilful autocrat or group of autocrats they sign away their independence and, perhaps, their lives. When they permit a one-man government to dictate their laws and their judgments they seal the death warent of their liberties.

Hitler speaks and acts for Austro-Germany. Mussolini speaks and acts for Italy. Stalin speaks and acts for Russia. The democracies must speak and act to protect themselves.

The first step in protection is the determination to preserve inviolate the representative form of government which guarantees liberty and justice. It is a task to which, in particular, the people of the United States, though remote from old world tyrants, must devote unceasing effort.

About Horowitz.

So many tales have been in circulation about Vladimir Horowitz, the great Russian pianist, pertaining to his physical and mental condition that you might be interested in news about him as delivered recently by his wife, Wanda Toscanini Horowitz. Mme. Horowitz, who was in America to see her father before he sailed for Palestine, telephoned from New York several times to her friend Gitta Gradova (Mrs. Maurice Cottle), Chicago concert pianist. Her husband is in good health, is busy making recordings in Paris, and expects to play in London in May, she said.

A DRUNK APPROACHED a trafic officer and inquired: "Have you seen 'Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs'?" "Yeah," answered the cop. "Well," asked the drunk, "which way were they going?"

SNOW WHITE and the seven bores, some call it.

THE CHICAGO CLUB.

The most aristocratic and conservative club in the middle west is the Chicago club, inside the sacred portals of which today's old school gentlemen were calling their elders old school gentlemen a half century ago. George M. Pullman, N. K. Fairbank, Marshall Field, and other builders of Chicago frequented its round table in earlier days; Chief Justice Melville Fuller, Lyman J. Gage, Franklin MacVeagh, and Robert Lincoln of the club's roster became cabinet members, and Gen. Philip H. Sheridan with his flashing black eyes and Indianlike features was a frequent visitor to the club after the close of the civil war.

Charles H. Hamill, president of the Chicago Orchestral association, is president of the Chicago club. Stanley Field preceded him. One of the older members who is a frequent visitor is Edward S. Blair, a distinguished-looking gentleman who looks like a Spanish grandee with his small pointed beard and dark eyes. The elder John Farwell, A. A. Carpenter, and Dr. Arthur Dean Bevan, also are older habitués. Handsome portraits of distinguished members look down from the balcony overlooking the grand staircase. Most famous of these is Zorn's portrait of the late Arthur Caton in silk hat and Inverness.

Most famous of the "rooms" — the clubs within the club—is Room 100. Club presidents have always belonged to Room 100. One of the popular and livelier rooms is Room 800, in which Charles Daniel Frey is a moving spirit. The rule that members could not bring guests into the main dining room of the Chicago club has been relaxed now, with the exception of New Year's day. The New Year's day luncheon is one of the great traditions of a club of traditions, and members attend even if they have to come in wheel chairs. Thomas H. Hinde has been chairman of the house committee for many years, and wives of Chicago club members wail over their failure to compete with the fare provided their husbands at the club. We know of one north shore wife who has lobster prepared at the Chicago club and brought out by taxicab when she is having a party because her husband thinks it superior to that her cook can turn out.

Just as railroad men prominent in the life of Chicago and of the club frequented it in early days—T. B. Blackstone, who built up the Alton road, Perry H. Smith and George Dunlap of the North Western, and others—there is a railroad presidents' table today. Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington, S. T. Bledsoe of the Santa Fe, and W. B. Storey, former president, are among those who sit there. Various Ryersons, Clows, and Blairs are among the younger men who lunch in the second floor grill. One of the phenomena of the club is the "young man's table," as it was called by older members—on the Van Buren street side. Here the late beloved Dr. Frank Billings sat when he was in his seventies. And his place remained empty in tribute until more than a year after his death.

MISCONCEPTIONS ABOUT TUBERCULOSIS.

THERE are more do's and don'ts relating to tuberculosis than almost any other malady. The trouble is that many of the do's should be don'ts and vice versa. The human family has had a long experience with this ailment and certain axioms have been handed down from generation to generation until they have acquired the weight of oracles. Some arise from unusual circumstances and others from long followed customs.

Most of us understand that, when sputum contains blood which is coughed up, a warning signal is flying. We must make certain that the hemorrhage does not come from the nose, the structures about the mouth or throat, or the stomach. Expectorated blood from the lungs carries with it, as a rule, but one meaning—the probability that a fairly early infection is present. In one sense we should welcome the announcement, as the more promptly a sufferer can be placed under proper care, the better.

A peculiar but fallacious theory is that if the patient has been spitting blood he should not be permitted to live even 2,000 feet above sea level because of the old saying, "The higher you go the greater the hemorrhage." Naturally a person with high blood pressure may need to watch the symptom closely and not proceed abruptly to the mountains, but there is no indication that altitudes of 5,000 to 8,000 feet are in the slightest degree deleterious to victims with active lung lesions. Bleeding ceases following rest, fatigue disappears, and weight is added.

Another reason for urging sea level as the most desirable environment for recovery is the illusion that one with a weakened heart cannot stand even a hilly region. Regardless of murmurs, if the heart beat is regular and the muscle reasonably sound, this point may be disregarded. With a flabby heart muscle, however, lower elevations may be more advantageous.

One of the most disastrous of all our popular notions is that every "lunger" should expose himself to direct sunlight, allowing the healing [?] ultraviolet rays to strike the skin. I wish it were possible to shout "No!" to this advice loud enough to be heard by every one. Time and time again it has been shown that this is a very dangerous practice. In fact, many experts in the management of the disorder prohibit it entirely inasmuch as it is likely to stir up activity in the acute form and reawaken dormant or "arrested" lesions.

Specialists relate that after every swimming and sun bathing season they encounter an increased number of supposedly "closed" cases with fresh symptoms. Foci of the malady break down, encapsulated areas are set free, and the disease is all ablaze. Old Sol, however, is our best aid in the bone and skin form of the difficulty. The summer months will soon be upon us and it is none too early to caution against exposure to the sun on the part of those afflicted with pulmonary tuberculosis.

Another common error is that the winter time is ideal for improvement, while spring and summer are bad. As far as the body as a whole is concerned, it recognizes only minor shades of difference between seasons. Clothing can be adjusted so that weather changes may be disregarded. In fact, discomfort from heat is rarely felt, as the patient may lie practically naked. High humidity is the only depressing factor, but this will occur in most localities on only a few days during the summer. If the individual is up and about, the cooler portions of the day may be used for exercise.

Physicians have learned so much about the great white plague that not one of us need give much heed to these old saws, many of which are unsound.

WEATHER AND COLDS.

B. H. writes: I am very anxious to locate some material on how the weather influences head infections such as colds, hay fever, and asthma. This information is for a high school class.

REPLY.

Mills, C. A., "Living with the Weather."
Durham, O. C., "Your Hay Fever."

INFERIORITY COMPLEX.

G. M. writes: I have an inferiority complex due to large, peculiarly shaped ears. I would like to know if it is possible through the aid of plastic surgery to place the ears close to the head.

REPLY.

Plastic surgery may help you. Be sure, however, that you are in the hands of a highly skilled operator. But why wish to be like every one else? Many people have protruding ears; nevertheless they are happy and popular. You are probably the only one aware of what you consider a physical defect. Why worry?

PROPERTY PURCHASE.

Chicago, March 19.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—If Mr. Smith buys a building for $10,000 and [1] wishes to mortgage it for $5,000 and then have a second mortgage of $5,000 before paying for building and finds he cannot meet [2] notes, who gets the building?

3. Will the mortgage holders lose their money?

4. Can one mortgage a building for more than the original cost?

5. Does the mortgage holder get a deed to building?

6. Do you have to get a permit from the one you are purchasing building from to mortgage it? I. S.

1. We assume that you mean that this plan falls through.

2. It is not clear what notes you refer to. We will assume that you mean that he is purchasing the building on contract and cannot meet the contract payments.

3. You have not stated that there are any mortgage holders. If their mortgage is valid they can force a sale to satisfy the mortgage debt. If there is no redemption, they will presumably get the building.

4. Yes, if he can find a lender willing to lend.

5. The security instrument would be in the form of a deed, if that is what you mean to ask.

6. If the proposed borrower does not have the legal title, but is merely purchasing under a contract, he would not be in a position to borrow on ordinary terms. We cannot advise to advantage without having your facts more clearly before us.

ANOTHER FAST ONE.

Benson, Ill., March 19.—It seems we must wage a continuous warfare not against communists and revolutionaries alone but against the powers that be in Washington to keep our democratic form of government intact.

First, the administration tried to drag us into the world court despite our loudly shouted protests. The world court snake being scotched, the Supreme court packing scheme hove into sight. This was a more bitter and harder fought battle than the first. The people, however, emerged weary but victorious. Now, with our attention much diverted by the very troublous conditions in Europe and the Mongolian war, the office reorganization bill is trying to slip by not too much noticed by the general public.

It will pay all of us to insist on knowing just what this bill is trying to do before it is too late. One thing we know, it does away with the controler general, which means that we will have nothing more to say about what is done wtih public moneys. It will be none of our business how the money is spent until after it is spent.

The bill is too vicious to be considered in a short letter. However, let us be awake and watchful, and again give encouragement to those senators and representatives who fought our battles before and who, with an army of right thinking and alert Americans behind them, will fight and win again. The same old back slapping and hoop jumping is going on. Also the same old threats of reprisal for those who do not bend to the yoke.

A DISILLUSIONED DEMOCRAT.

TO END WAR.

Lemont, Ill., March 16.—Your success in bringing great fighters together in the Golden Gloves contests is something which should make it possible for THE TRIBUNE to prevent a world war by the staging of a match between the two well known scrappers, Battling Mussolini and Wildcat Hitler. By having John Bull for referee and Gen. Franco for timekeeper such a bout would not only stop the god of war dead in his tracks, but it would also be a complete knockout.

F. C. SMITH.

QUESTION.

St. Charles, Ill., March 16.—Do you suppose Mr. Roosevelt has lost that list of the unemployed? LILLIAN STOLL.

From Across the Sea

BY W. A. O'CARROLL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SYDNEY, Australia. — Fifty-three feminist and industrial organizations from the various states of Australia were represented at the conference of the council of action for equal pay when it was resolved to press for an alteration of the commonwealth constitution to give every woman worker the right to be paid wages at the same rate as male workers doing the same kind of work, notwithstanding any Australian laws, regulations, or awards to the contrary.

A petition to parliament will be prepared seeking to put the necessary constitutional alteration to a vote of the people at an early date.

"Marriage cannot be regarded today as the economic haven for women," declared Muriel Heagney and George Weir in a joint presidential address. "Equally false is the concept of woman as essentially a nonworker. Each period of depression and consequent constriction of employment brings forward a claim to exclude women from competing in the market with men. No alternative employment is suggested. It is irrational to attempt to reserve for males any class of work because it once needed their fathers' muscles, if, by reason of mechanization, the necessity for physical endurance is replaced by the necessity for dexterity."

The industrial law in New South Wales was altered recently to provide for employment of a greater percentage of males to females in retail stores, and the elimination of females from certain departments. This was designed to prevent exploitation by employers of cheaper female labor to the exclusion of many thousands of youths unable to get a start in life.

PREPARING FOR A DELUGE.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 21.—Now that war clouds are gathering once more over the European continent, the acid test is being prepared for our American public as to whether it can withstand the great flood of propaganda that will soon flow into our country from such European countries as England, Germany, France, with England probably taking the lead.

When this great "education program" will commence we will have to be able to withstand a mighty barrage in order to retain our complacency and sense of equilibrium.

Certainly the majority of Americans hate war and, more than that, they have a greater distaste for fighting for some cause very remote and idealistic as was the case in the last war.

Yet all this vehement hatred of war and entanglements that lead to war on the part of citizens will go for naught unless our government policy is one that will keep this country out of such entanglements. Every peace loving person should consider it his duty to influence our government officials as much as possible by means of pen and ballot to keep us on an absolute nonentanglement policy. FRANK PAULY.

OLD PEOPLE'S HOMES.

Chicago, March 20.—I have been putting my eyes to an unusual strain looking for some more articles about old people's homes, written by Miss Lockerman.

Maybe it was not pleasing to some mortals to have their pictures shown as residents of homes, but, on the other hand, publicity always helps. In the majority of cases, no doubt, endowed institutions are run as nearly as possible in accordance with the donor's wishes, but the minority might be benefited by the limelight.

Your paper has always been famous for helping to set matters right, and I hope you haven't discontinued the articles altogether.

Right now there are more old people in need of homes where they can end their days in peace and comfort than ever before. LU I. HAWKS.

FOR EARLIER BALL GAMES.

Chicago, March 19.—During baseball seasons, bus, "L," street car, and auto trafic in the evening rush hour frequently is completely tied up in the vicinity of the Cubs' park by thousands of homeward bound ball fans. If the game starting time was advanced from 3 to 2 p. m., most games would be finished before the rush hours, not only enabling transportation lines to give better service for rush hour patrons and eliminating congestion for motorists, but giving the fans more comfort on their way home.

CONSTANT READER.

WPA HUMOR.

Chicago, March 21.—Watching some WPA workers on the street, most of whom have seen better days but have not lost their sense of humor, I asked one who was measuring the circumference of a tree what he was doing that for, and he said: "You know that tree is going to grow by the next time the New Deal is up for election and the New Deal wants to say, 'We did it.'"

LEONARD GARR.

IT WAS A DIXOPUS.

Chicago, March 17.—In Bill Holman's cartoon on March 15 he draws an octopus with ten arms whereas it should have shown eight, as its name implies.

RICHARD WEIL.

AFRAID OF THE LIGHT.

Chicago, March 21.—The reasoning back of A. M.'s letter of March 16, entitled "They Can't Take It," is devoid of all logic.

If, as he assumes, there is no basis for Dr. Morgan's accusation, then why dignify the program by strenuous efforts to avoid investigation? Why the necessity for having a favorable commission conduct the investigation? In any case of litigation one side would naturally prefer a favorable judge; but wouldn't that be unfair to the opposition? Are not both sides entitled to a fair, impartial trial? And since when has our President been motivated by economical tendencies, as he states? Hasn't just the opposite been the rule?

During the last five years of peace time we have spent 18 billion in excess of income to correct our ills; the money is gone, but the ills remain. We have gotten out of previous depressions without resorting to such tactics, so what is the answer? Is it not about time we had a few honest admissions that we were so enthusiastically promised?

M. G.

FOREIGN BIRTH.

Chicago, March 21.—I have often wondered why so-called Americans are so down on aliens, even though their own fathers or mothers are from a foreign country. Where would most of them be if it weren't for foreigners? They do their part for Uncle Sam, and if there was a war tomorrow the foreigners would be first in line to fight for your country.

I'm an alien. I have been here for fourteen years and love your country. When my husband, who is American, was out of work, I wouldn't let him go on relief, so he found a nice job. We haven't much, but we're getting along nicely, living clean, honest lives with our two children, who are proud to tell the world, "My mother came from Ireland." No doubt there's a few no-goods, but what country is free of them?

Like any Irishman, I'll close saying, "God bless America." A READER.

PROPHECY.

Chicago, March 21.—I make this rather annoying prophecy: Unless world democracies take some collective action to stop the mad dictators the United States and Canada will be compelled to become a federation in order to insure the security of both. Long coast lines, which England cannot defend, make vulnerable an enemy back door entrance into the United States through the 3,000 mile unguarded boundary. Canada is menaced by the same condition. It will become necessary, then, for the United States and Canada to merge their autonomy if both are to be secure. J. FRANK LINDSEY.

A LONG WALK BEFORE A SWIM.

Chicago, March 21.—Now that the bathing season is not far off, something should be done for Chicagoans who use the Jackson park beach. Why cannot the street car company be forced to give transportation from 63d street and Stony Island avenue to the beach instead of forcing people to walk about a mile or pay 10 cents extra for bus service? SOUTH SIDER.

CONTUMACY.

Oak Park, Ill., March 19.—President Roosevelt in his private investigation has charged Chairman Morgan with "contumacy." "It is a 'contumation' devoutly to be wished." M. DICKASON.

EVANSTON FREES STRIKE AGENT OF THREAT CHARGE

Policeman Hears Talk with Dairy Driver.

Evanston police yesterday released after cursory questioning a teamsters' union official arrested by a policeman who overheard him threatening a dairy wagon driver who was making a delivery at the Orrington hotel, 1710 Orrington avenue. The hotel is being picketed by the painters' union.

Police Chief William O. Freeman gave as his reason for freeing the agent, who is Jerry Ford, of 7221 South Laramie avenue, Chicago, that he had established Ford is a bona fide representative of the union.

Policeman William Johnson, who arrested Ford, declared he heard him warning the dairy driver not to make deliveries at the hotel. "You've got your orders," he quoted Ford as saying. "You had better stay out if you know what's good for you."

Called Peaceful Picketing.

This, according to Chief Freeman, is considered peaceful picketing. There was no violence, he said, adding that Evanston police will not tolerate violence. At the same time Mayor Henry Penfield issued a statement that Evanston will protect both union and nonunion workers.

When Ford was taken to the police station his notebook was found to contain the names of three dairies, two laundries, a grocery company, a garage, and a bakery whose drivers have beened warned not to make deliveries at the Orrington.

Shortly after the agent's arrest, Chief Freeman was visited by John M. Sears, business agent of local 54 of the Painters' union, who called a strike of painters at the hotel a week ago, and George W. Harrison of the Carpenters' union. Then Attorney John V. Clinnin, who had been engaged by the Painters' union, asked Evanston police either to charge Ford with an offense or release him. The release followed.

Asks Thorough Investigation.

Lieut. Charles Egan of the state's attorney's police stated that he had notified the Evanston police that Ford should be thoroughly investigated before being freed.

The trouble at the Orrington hotel followed the refusal of its manager, Palmer Jones, to dismiss several old employés who had been doing interior maintenance work and replace them with union men. Several painters who were doing exterior work then were called off the job by the union and the picketing began.

Sues Husband

MRS. EDNA LA MAR.

Charging her husband with misconduct, Mrs. Edna La Mar, 31 years old, of 925 Gunnison street, filed suit for divorce yesterday from Robert La Mar, 52 years old, a voice teacher with studios at 1105 Lawrence avenue. Mrs. La Mar's bill also charged that her husband has struck her several times in the past two years.

RECOVER BODY AT PERU.

The body of Joseph Koslyanic, 50 years old, was taken from the Illinois river at Peru yesterday. Koslyanic had been missing from his home in Rockdale, a suburb of Joliet, for several days.

TEACHERS NAMED ON MERIT BASIS, SAYS DR. JOHNSON

Replies to P.-T. A. at Board Meeting.

Dr. William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, said yesterday that all appointments and promotions in the public schools are being made in strict conformity with legal and educational requirements. His statement, in reply to a letter from the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, was read at a meeting of the board of education.

Mayor Kelly on Tuesday assured a committee of the P.-T. A. that the board would give them a sympathetic hearing, but none of the women appeared. A letter making a complaint by inference, however, was received from Mrs. Holland Flagler, chairman of school education of the P.-T. A., and was read into the record.

Dated prior to the meeting with Mayor Kelly, at which he asked for facts to support any charges against the school system, the letter read:

"The P.-T. A. believes only in the good teacher properly trained through certification according to law. Appointments should be made entirely on a merit basis and should be free from any political domination.

"The parents of Chicago respectfully ask that the board of education and the superintendent of schools appoint only teachers trained according to the highest law of certification and character."

Dr. Johnson's reply, addressed to President James B. McCahey of the board, agreed that these standards are essential to the schools.

Asserts Law Is Observed.

"I am most highly in accord with the suggestion that appointments and promotions in the education department should be 'made entirely on a merit basis and should be free from any political domination,'" he wrote.

"It is the function of the superintendent of schools so to appoint members of the education department. This duty is being carried out in complete accordance with the laws on certification of the state of Illinois, and in the case of the high schools in complete accordance with the requirements not only of the law but of the various accrediting agencies—namely: the University of Illinois, state department of public instruction, and the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools."

Board Head Calls for Critics.

All of these agencies have approved the Chicago school system.

"Our doors are always open, but we have not seen any critics appear here today," Mr. McCahey said after the board meeting. "All we received was the letter, typical in its vagueness.

"There has been nothing of a concrete nature offered to substantiate any charges being circulated. We welcome facts."

SEIZED AS EVANSTON SLAYER.

John Williams, 28 years old, colored, was under arrest last night in Modesto, Cal., charged with slaying Samuel Gillebeux, colored, in Evanston on July 4, 1936. Police said Williams has confessed.

WHAT BUICK'S DOING AND WHY

You'll find Buicks everywhere!

Their bright bonnets set boulevards asparkle, their quickening wheels put new life in traffic—they seem to be more in evidence than some of the big-production bottom-price cars!

It's reasonable to ask "How come?"

What is a car of Buick's size and price-class doing up in that ubiquitous company?

The answer goes back to the time when we built this Buick for you.

We had an engine that was Big News. We had a new spring suspension that was sensational. We had a choice of presenting them then—or waiting for a "psychological" time.

But we didn't hold back. It seemed to us that any time we had something to offer that people could use and would go for was the right time to let them have it.

So we gave Buick its DYNAFLASH engine.

We put the magic coils of TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING on it. We sprinkled it with other new features, from a battery put up where you can get at it, to a new means of silencing road noise and vibration.

And then we priced this star-studded stepper to fit the demand we expected would greet it.

That did it. More value—more features. Low price—easy buying. No eight of its size costs as little as this Buick—some sixes actually cost more!

So you see lots of Buicks because, in good times or bad, people will buy when they get an ample money's worth.

BUYER'S DIGEST OF THE 1938 BUICK

★ NEW DYNAFLASH VALVE-IN-HEAD STRAIGHT-EIGHT ENGINE ★ NEW TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING ★ TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE IN SEALED CHASSIS ★ NEW QUIET ZONE BODY MOUNTING ★ ANOLITE PISTONS ★ AEROBAT CARBURETOR ★ NEW BULL'S-EYE STEERING ★ TIPTOE HYDRAULIC BRAKES ★ KNEE-ACTION FRONT SPRINGING ★ UNISTEEL BODY BY FISHER ★ BUILT-IN DEFROSTER CONNECTIONS ★ AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION OPTIONAL ON SERIES 40

NO OTHER CAR IN THE WORLD HAS ALL THESE FEATURES

T. V. SMITH PUFFS A PHILOSOPHER'S PIPE IN PRIMARY

Professor with the Radio Voice Out for Congress.

[This is another in a series of informal sketches of major candidates for state offices in the April 12 primary.]

BY PERCY WOOD.

T. V. Smith is fond of calling himself an ignorant man and a philosopher. The first time his colleagues in the senate at Springfield heard the phrase they were variously nettled, amused, or suspicious. This was about three years ago and Senator Smith, who represents the University of Chicago district, is still a political enigma to them although he is now less of a novelty.

T. V. Smith.

He is, however, a distinct novelty to most of the downstate voters he is currently addressing in his campaign to win one of the Democratic nominations for congressman at large on Gov. Horner's slate. His thin, meticulously employed voice has often been heard on the radio—many listeners have mistaken him for the town crier, Alexander Woollcott—but this is the first time he has been placed on the political stump for state-wide office. It is not often that a professor of philosophy—Smith's rank at the University of Chicago—is so displayed.

Makes the Senate Listen.

Senator Smith is lean and tall, with thinning reddish hair and sharp features. He stoops slightly from continually bending an attentive ear. When he talks to a large audience he is somewhat at a disadvantage for his voice, although enunciating words with almost painful exactness, does not carry far. He had no difficulty in the senate, however. When he spoke there he was given a maximum of attention.

Although he won his seat in Springfield through the combined aid of the Nash-Kelly machine and of Gov. Horner—this was in 1934 and the Democrats were still united—Smith pursued the course of an independent at each legislative session he attended, exhibiting fealty to neither the governor nor the Chicago organization. He gained additional renown because he refused patronage and introduced only one bill. It created the Illinois Legislative council and became a law last July.

Swings to Horner Side.

"T. V."— to use the designation his friends employ—is now a factional partisan and refers to Gov. Horner as "a Democratic leader of free men." Not many months ago he was scoring the governor for spending too much time trying to manage the legislature. But in the polysyllabic trouncing he gives the Nash-Kelly organization in his speeches, Smith is consistent with his record at Springfield. He once held the senate in almost glassy eyed bewilderment for upwards of an hour while he charged the Chicago leaders were afflicted with agoraphobia—the fear of open spaces. This was during the fight for permanent registration.

Senator Smith was born in Blanket, Tex., almost 50 years ago. At the age of 15 he was the champion cotton picker of his county. He earned his lesser degrees at the University of Texas and his doctorate in philosophy at Chicago, where he has been on the faculty since 1922. He has written half a dozen books on philosophy, composes labyrinthic verse for pastime, is married and has a son and a small daughter, who are the apples of his eye.

Newspaper Boy, 14, Loses $1.25 in Evanston Swindle

Paul Moore was delivering his newspapers in Evanston last night when a stranger asked him to call at a cleaners for a suit and deliver it to an automobile agency. The stranger promised 30 cents for the errand, but asked $1.25 as security. Paul, who is 14 years old, gave him the money, and found, when it was too late, that he had been duped. He lives at 1526 Washington street, Evanston.

DEFEND HOUSING BOARD AGAINST COUNCIL ATTACK

Reason for 2 Suburban Members Told.

Two of its members defended the Chicago Housing authority yesterday against charges made during an investigative session of the city council housing committee. The inquiry was begun two weeks ago after allegations that the three low rent homes projects in the city were being mismanaged and that eligible tenants were being turned away because of discrimination.

Yesterday's session was concerned chiefly with charges that the CHA had been set up in violation of both state and federal housing acts and that work on a homes project for colored families was being needlessly delayed.

Defines Position of Members.

Replying to the first accusation, made by Ald. Edwin F. Meyers [45th], that two members of the CHA live outside Chicago contrary to the act, W. J. Lynch, a member, replied:

"It is true that Chairman John R. Fugard and T. J. Carney live in Evanston and Wilmette, respectively. It is also true that neither of these men asked to be members of the CHA. They were appointed by Mayor Kelly and therefore served.

"Their appointments were approved by the state housing board and they, therefore, are answerable only to that board. The members of the CHA are not on trial here."

Ald. Lynch then asserted that faulty construction work has been discovered at the Julia Lathrop housing project at 2000 Diversey parkway. The sidewalks are broken and sunken, he said.

Promises an Investigation.

"Your charges will be investigated," Lynch replied. "If they are found to be true, the faults will be remedied by the state before the projects are turned over to the city."

It was then pointed out that legislation providing for raising the city's 10 per cent of the costs—to meet the funds amounting to 90 per cent supplied by the government—will be necessary before the projects can be turned over to the city. State and local housing authorities have conferred with Gov. Horner, who has indicated he will call a special session of the assembly, according to Allan C. Williams, executive secretary of the state housing board.

Explains Money Angles.

"Legislation concerning the financial structure as well as taxation is needed," said Mr. Lynch. "In order to supply low rents, contributions must come from someplace. The government provides for amortization and if it decides to give annual subsidies [to the city] it will be necessary for the city to supply 20 per cent of this amount. The 20 per cent can be covered by writing off taxes, but the government won't release any money until the tax question is settled."

This was in reply to complaints that the South Park housing project for colored people is being delayed. The government has earmarked $18,000,000 for Chicago projects, $10,000,000 of this being for the South Park homes, but it has not been released.

Anti-Cruelty Society Denies Responsibility for Handbills

Handbills being circulated in Chicago which contain scurrilous statements against the Jewish population, and which purport to issue from the Anti-Cruelty society office, 157 West Grand avenue, are forgeries and frauds, representatives of the society said yesterday. They said neither the society's officers, agents, nor employés have any knowledge of the printing or distribution of the bills.

OBITUARIES

Clement L. Manning.

Funeral services for Clement L. [Clem] Manning, veteran police reporter for THE TRIBUNE, who died Sunday in St. Francis hospital, will be held at 10 a. m. today from his home at 5345 North Linder avenue, to St. Cornelius church. Burial will be in All Saints cemetery. The Rev. L. H. Lyons will officiate, and Medill post of the American Legion, of which Mr. Manning was a member, will conduct a military funeral. Six members of THE TRIBUNE editorial staff, with whom Mr. Manning was associated for many years, will be pallbearers. They are James Doherty, George Hartmann, Edwin Kennedy, Moses Lamson Jr., John Schultz, and George Wright.

Charles T. Schroeder.

Charles T. Schroeder, one of the last of the fire fighters who struggled to quench the Chicago fire of 1871, died yesterday in his home, 2106 Fremont street. He was 92 years old. Surviving are his widow, Mary; two sons, Alexander V. and Walter G., and four daughters, Ida, Viola, and Pearl Schroeder, and Mrs. Blanche Brietzke. Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday in the chapel at 845 Armitage avenue. Burial will be in Rosehill cemetery.

Mrs. Emma A. Hopkins.

Mrs. Emma A. Hopkins, widow of Albert J. Hopkins, former United States senator who died in 1922, died yesterday in Aurora at the age of 84. She had been a resident of Aurora for eighty-three years and was born in Du Page county. Three sons, James S. and Mark S. of Aurora, and Albert J. Jr. of Cincinnati, and one daughter, Mrs. D. J. Peffers of Aurora, survive.

Edythe Beaumont.

Waukesha, Wis., March 23.—[Special.]—Funeral services will be held on Friday for Miss Edythe Beaumont, 63 years old, at 2 p. m. from St. Mathias Episcopal church here, with burial at Hartland, Wis. She died today at Oconomowoc. Her father served as sherif of this county in 1856 and 1857.

Albert Cahn.

Omaha, Neb., March 23.—[Special.]—Albert Cahn, 77 years old, veteran Omaha shirtmaker and oldest native born Jewish resident of Nebraska, died Tuesday in Los Angeles. Cahn and the late Julius Rosenwald were fellow apprentices in New York. Mrs. Cahn died almost 30 years ago. A son, Albert Jr. of Chicago, deals in bonds.

Walter Scott.

GUELPH, Ont., March 23.—(AP)—Walter Scott, first premier of Saskatchewan, died today. He was 70 years old. As a member of the house of commons and an editor and publisher in Regina, Scott played a leading rôle in the fight for the autonomy of Saskatchewan and Alberta.

William Stuchlik.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow for William Stuchlik, 94 years old, in the chapel at 6507 Cermak road, Berwyn. He was one of the pioneer Bohemian settlers of the Chicago area. During the civil war he was an engineer on the famous steamboat War Eagle, which transported troops down the Mississippi river, and as a volunteer fireman he helped fight the conflagration of 1871. Mr. Stuchlik was organizer of the Bohemian Old Settlers' association of Chicago. He died Tuesday in his home at 2301 South Harvey avenue, Berwyn.

Frank A. Leavens.

Neenah, Wis., March 23.—[Special.]—Frank A. Leavens, 73 years old, died today at his home. He founded the F. A. Leavens company, dealers in paper mill supplies. He was born in East Berkshire, Vt., the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Leavens, pioneer residents of Neenah. He left a widow, one daughter, Mrs. Edmund P. Arpin Jr., a sister, Mrs. Addie Keyes, all of Neenah, and two brothers, Albert Leavens of Milwaukee and Fred Leavens of Long Beach, Cal. Funeral services will be held Friday with burial at Oak Hill cemetery.

Dr. James W. Putman.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 23.—(AP)—Dr. James W. Putman, 77 years old, neurologist and expert witness for the state in the trial of Leon Czolgosz for the assassination of President McKinley, died here tonight. Dr. Putman had been ill six months. He was the son of James O. Putman, former United States minister to Belgium and chancellor of the University of Buffalo. Dr. Putman was born in Fredonia, N. Y., was graduated from the University of Buffalo, and later studied abroad.

Samuel J. Brockman.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 23.—[Special.]—Samuel J. Brockman, 84 years old, died today. He was commissioner of public works from 1894 to 1900 and was active in the building of the city hall, the public library, many police and fire stations and school buildings. Born in England, he came to America as a journeyman bricklayer in 1873.

Gen. Harry Rene Lee.

Nashville, Tenn., March 23.—[Special.]—Gen. Harry Rene Lee, former commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans, died here today at the age of 92. He favored and was a southern commissioner for the joint blue and gray reunion to be held at Gettysburg next June on the 75th anniversary of that battle.

Peter D. Erickson.

Peter D. Erickson, 76 years old, former head of a tanning company, died yesterday in his home at 3071 Palmer square. He came here from Denmark sixty-two years ago. Surviving are two children, Mrs. Elizabeth Stone and George Erickson; four grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

W. E. Defenbacher, manager of the Gary hotel and president of the Indiana Hotel association, died yesterday after a short illness. Funeral services will be held at 7 p. m. today in Gary, and burial will be tomorrow in Dover, O.

STRICKEN IN STEEL PLANT.

George Dragosovich, 48 years old, 9023 Mackinaw avenue, died yesterday after he collapsed, apparently of a heart attack, in the Carnegie Illinois Steel corporation plant at 3428 East 89th street, where he worked.

GROUND BROKEN FOR 1ST $1,000,000 FLATS SINCE 1929

Ground was broken yesterday for Chicago's first privately owned $1,000,000 apartment project since 1929. It will be erected at the northwest corner of Granville and Hoyne avenues. Mayor Kelly, speaking at the ceremonies, asserted the work would benefit local building tradesmen and predicted other big housing projects would follow. John R. O'Connor, state manager for the Federal Housing administration, turned the first spadeful of earth. A $750,000 FHA loan is financing the apartments, which will consist of fourteen buildings. They will be known as the Granville Garden apartments.

VOLIVA RETURNS FOR A ROUND IN POLITICAL FIGHT

Back from Florida in his old ten gallon hat and a new coat of tan, Wilbur Glenn Voliva was planning a political comeback in Zion yesterday. He put three of his followers in the field for the Zion school board posts to be filled in an election April 9.

They are Carl Q. Lee, elder of Voliva's Christian Catholic church, for president of the board; and Deacons Frank Scacia and Harold Zweizig for board members. Opposing the Voliva men are Onias W. Farley, former deacon whose election to the presidency in 1934 was Voliva's first political defeat in twenty-three years, and Miss Cornelia Shaw and Delbert Lucy for board members.

Farley is seeking a fifth term. Voliva has not won an election since Farley's first victory.

REV. PLEZNIK, 64, PRIEST IN JOLIET SINCE 1915, DIES

The Rev. John Pleznik, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church in Joliet since 1915, died yesterday in St. Joseph's hospital, Joliet, after a brief illness. He was 64 years old.

Father Pleznik came to the United States from his native Jugo-Slavia in 1891. He completed his theological education at St. Mary's seminary, Baltimore, Md., and was ordained a priest by Cardinal Gibbons in 1897. Before going to Joliet he was pastor of parishes in Chicago and Waukegan. He was spiritual adviser for the Grand Carniolian Slovenian Catholic union, which has 35,000 members in the United States.

Funeral services will be held in St. Joseph's church next Monday at 11 a. m.

BRIDGE PLAYING HUSBAND THUMPS PARTNER'S FACE

She hadn't wanted to learn contract bridge in the first place, Mrs. Edna Slaughter, 26 years old, told Judge Walter J. La Buy yesterday. But at the insistence of her husband, Frank, an advertising salesman, who is 30, she did try to learn. It was difficult and Frank grew more and more impatient. At last one day he hit her in the face, she testified.

When this happened a second time on Feb. 18 she left him, ending six years of marriage. Mrs. Slaughter, who lives at 1340 Albion street, was granted a divorce. Her attorney, Sol R. Friedman, said a property settlement of $3,600 had been arranged.

KILLED IN AUTO CRASH.

Bloomington, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—Melvin Carmichael, 26 years old, of Clinton, was killed and Albert Eads, also of Clinton, was injured early today. The auto in which they were riding crashed into a transport truck stalled on route 51, nineteen miles south of Bloomington.

THE RAJAH OF PATIALA DIES; HAD AN INCOME OF $4,500,000 A YEAR

LAHORE, India, March 23.—(AP)—The tall, bearded, and heavily bejeweled maharajah of Patiala, one of the wealthiest of the Indian princes, died tonight. He was 46 years old. The maharajah governed 1,600,000 subjects, mostly the warlike Sikhs in the state of the Punjab, a realm of about 6,000 square miles in India's extreme northwest.

Rajah of Patiala.

Thousands of weeping Indians surrounded the maharajah's palace and the whole state went into mourning. The maharajah, who had an income of $4,500,000 a year, was succeeded by his 24 year old son.

He had served with the Indian expeditionary force in the world war and in Afghanistan. Soldier, sportsman, and imperial statesman, he held the honorary rank of lieutenant general in the British army and last year was appointed extra honorary aide-de-camp to King George VI.

FILLS GAS TANK BY LIGHT FROM LANTERN; BURNED

Transformed into a human torch when the gasoline he was pouring into his automobile caught fire from the kerosene lantern he was carrying, Edward Krupa, 22 years old, was seriously burned last night. He ran from the private garage in which he kept the car to his home, a few doors away at 1070 North Hermitage, but when he arrived his clothes had been burned off. Chief John A. Groves of the 5th fire battalion sent Krupa to the county hospital, where his condition was found to be critical.

HERO DEBOWSKI, ON STRETCHER, TO ATTEND INQUEST

Lige Debowski, who killed two robbers last July after they had shot him five times during a holdup, will go to the county morgue on a stretcher today for the final session of the inquest into their deaths. But he will walk into the inquest room. Debowski has been in the County hospital since the shooting.

At first he wanted to walk the whole way, about three blocks, through the tunnel that connects the buildings. He reminded his physicians that he has been able to rise for an hour each day, but they told him it might endanger his life to walk so far.

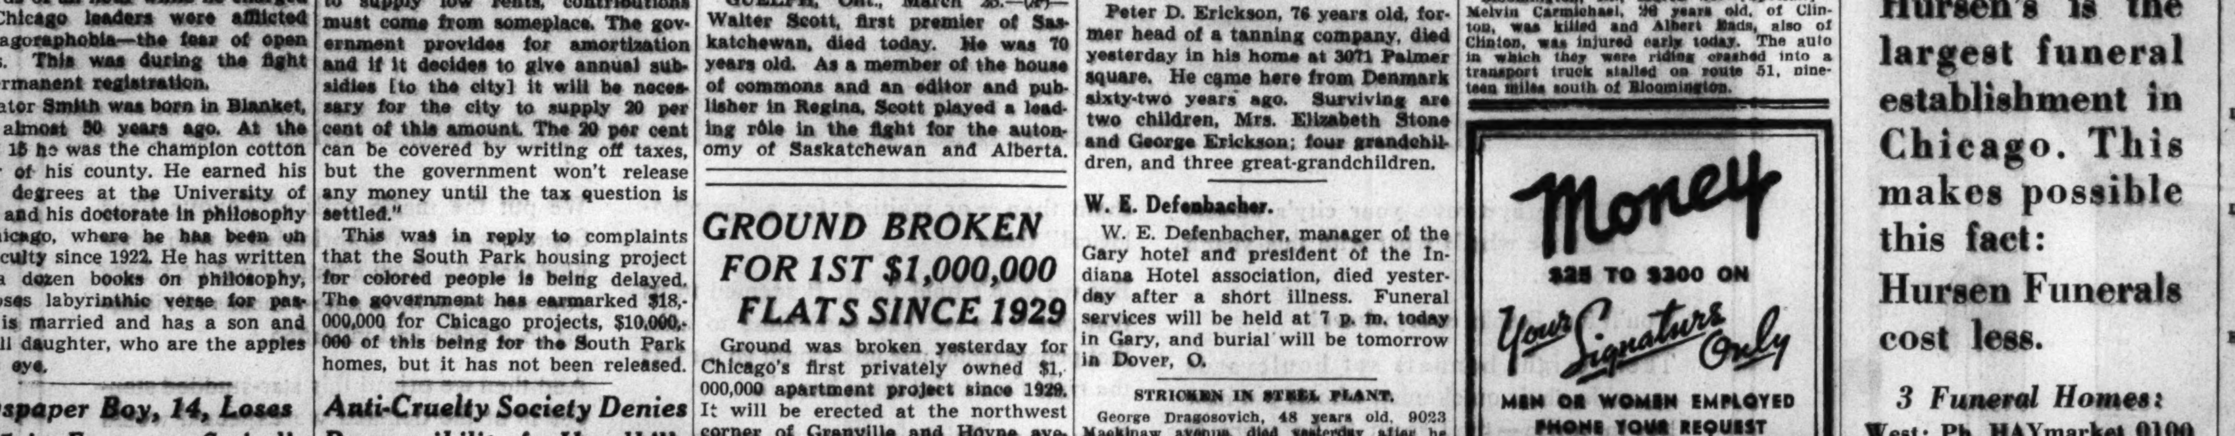
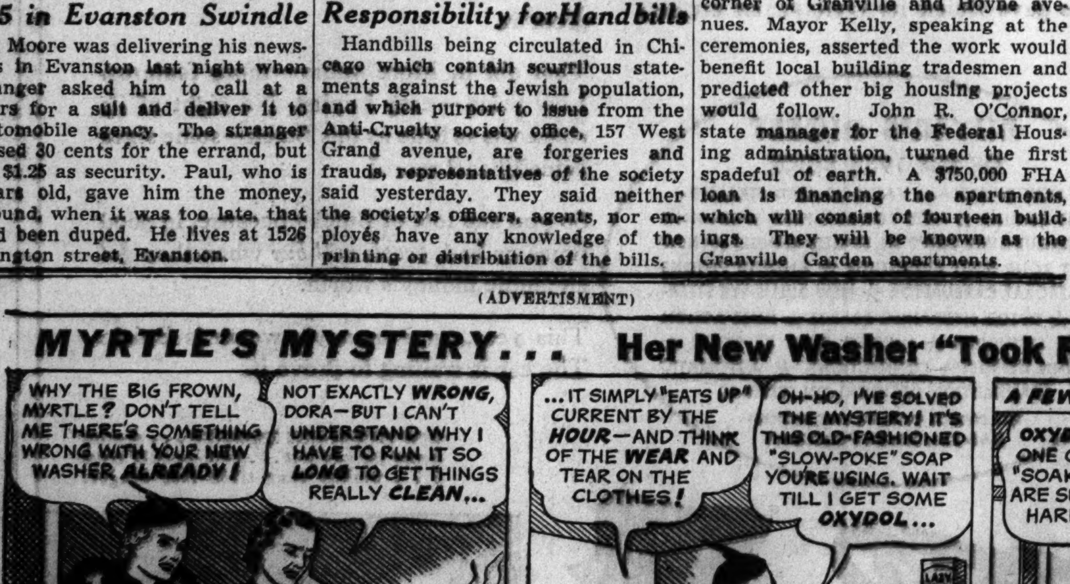
MYRTLE'S MYSTERY... Her New Washer "Took Forever" to Get Clothes White Until... By E. LONDOS



WHY THE BIG FROWN, MYRTLE? DON'T TELL ME THERE'S SOMETHING WRONG WITH YOUR NEW WASHER ALREADY!
NOT EXACTLY WRONG, DORA—BUT I CAN'T UNDERSTAND WHY I HAVE TO RUN IT SO LONG TO GET THINGS REALLY CLEAN...
...IT SIMPLY "EATS UP" CURRENT BY THE HOUR—AND THINK OF THE WEAR AND TEAR ON THE CLOTHES!
OH-HO, I'VE SOLVED THE MYSTERY! IT'S THIS OLD-FASHIONED "SLOW-POKE" SOAP YOU'RE USING. WAIT TILL I GET SOME OXYDOL...
A FEW MINUTES LATER—DORA COMES BACK
OXYDOL? BUT ISN'T THAT ONE OF THOSE FAST "SOAKING" SOAPS THAT ARE SUPPOSED TO BE SO HARD ON COLORS?
OXYDOL IS A NEW, SAFE KIND MADE BY THE IVORY SOAP PEOPLE. I'VE WASHED THIS PRINT DRESS IN IT SCORES OF TIMES AND LOOK HOW BRIGHT IT IS!
TALK ABOUT SPEED! THE MACHINE'S BEEN RUNNING NO TIME AT ALL—YET THE CLOTHES ARE 4 TO 5 SHADES WHITER ALREADY.
THAT'S BECAUSE OXYDOL SOAKS OUT DIRT WHILE THE WASHER'S RUNNING—YOU GET DOUBLE-ACTION WASH. IT'S LOTS FASTER—AND EASIER ON THE CLOTHES!



THROUGH ALREADY! AND DON'T THE CLOTHES SMELL FRESH AND SWEET?
EVEN BEFORE I GOT MY WASHER I SCARCELY EVER TOUCHED THE WASHBOARD—BECAUSE OXYDOL SOAKS DIRT OUT IN 15 MINUTES!
WEEKS LATER
I TELL YOU, MYRTLE, THAT WASHING MACHINE'S A WONDER! THESE SHIRTS NEVER LOOKED SO WHITE—AND WE'VE CUT OUR CLOTHES BILL ALMOST IN HALF.
DON'T GIVE ALL THE CREDIT TO THE NEW WASHER, DARLING—PART OF IT GOES TO DORA AND OXYDOL.

NOW—GET CLOTHES 4 TO 5 SHADES WHITER

In Washing Machine or Tub

NOW—see white clothes come 4 to 5 shades whiter, whether your washer is old or new. See colored clothes sparkle as never before—in 25% to 40% less time!

To do this:—simply switch to OXYDOL—the amazing laundry soap creation that soaks out dirt while the washer is running—gives you DOUBLE-ACTION wash! You save wear and tear on clothes, cut electricity bills—because you don't run the washer so long.

In tub washing, OXYDOL soaks out dirt in 15 minutes—without scrubbing or boiling. Even "grimy" spots come clean with a few quick rubs. Yet OXYDOL is so safe that every washable color comes out brilliant, fresh! Even sheer cotton prints washed 100 consecutive times in OXYDOL's lively suds showed no perceptible sign of fading.

OXYDOL is particularly economical in washing machines. Tests against popular package soaps show that, cup for cup, OXYDOL gives 28% to 60% MORE SUDS! So—whether your washer is old or new—by all means, try OXYDOL! Ask your dealer for a package today! Procter & Gamble.

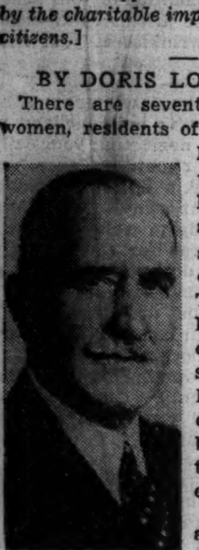
BRITISH HOME'S OLD PEOPLE LOOK TO BETTER DAYS

Seek Funds to Replace Insull's Charity.

[This is another in a series of articles to acquaint The Tribune's readers with the work of Chicago institutions which are supported wholly or in part by the charitable impulses of the city's citizens.]

BY DORIS LOCKERMAN.



R. H. Cabell, head of endowment fund campaign. [Moffett Photo.]

There are seventy-five men and women, residents of the British Old People's Home, who are still living in the shadow of the stock market crash of 1929. They have been hopeful of better days, however, since the recent launching of a campaign to bring $300,000 to their diminished endowment.

Thirteen years ago, when many of them were as young as sixty-five, they were invited to enter the rambling Y-shaped home at the edge of suburban Hollywood to spend their last years in comfort and security. The institution was new, modern. It was one of the most comfortably equipped in the country, and it was, they were assured, a pet charity of Samuel Insull, who had contributed the site of the building.

Times Change at Home.

For several years, the British old people were envied among their indigent friends. They could well be complacent. There were generous monthly allowances for them all, clothing orders on downtown department stores, paid entertainers, and a genteel air of well being. Mr. Insull's check came regularly.

Then came the end of the Insull empire. The old people said nothing. Thereafter they measured their assets with a new yardstick. In place of a monthly check, they had contributions from the Daughters of the British Empire and other loyal British-American organizations. There were no opera stars to entertain them, as in former days, but they had a fine portrait of Queen Victoria and a set of Dickens. They had no debts.

There was no ready made clothing provided for under the new order, and sewing machines hummed as the old ladies stitched their own dresses. Trips to town were abandoned and neighbors noticed more and more elderly people taking daily walks around the grounds. The staf was cut to a minimum, and the oldsters themselves took over the dishwashing, the dusting, and the mending.

Artist Sells Landscapes.

One old lady, remembering she had been an artist, got out her water colors and her apron. She has since painted and sold 100 landscapes for the home. Brittle fingers turned out enough crocheting, embroidering, and petit point to stock a bazar counter each year. Thus they managed, these old people who had been promised security, to make both ends meet.

Though the admission fee was raised to $1,000, few applicants have been accepted for lack of money to support them. Recently, when the generosity of a friend provided money to complete 50 new rooms in an unfinished wing of the building, the home found itself in an anomalous position. It had vacant rooms, a long waiting list of needy men and women, but no money to sustain them should they be accepted.

To answer this need a campaign to raise a $300,000 endowment fund was launched early last month. Robert H. Cabell, president of Armour & Co., who organized the American club during his residence in London, is heading the campaign. He expressed confidence that Chicagoans, who always are so willing to support their charitable institutions, will see that this goal is reached. Lawrence H. Armour has been appointed treasurer of the endowment fund and C. R. Whitworth chairman of the advanced gifts committee.

Inmate Gets Two Deputy Sherifs Confined to Jail

Deputy Sherifs Harold Goodlow and Ralph Hawbecker of Du Page county are able peace officers, men of good character, who have never been in trouble. Yet yesterday they were confined in the county jail at Wheaton with the fifteen inmates. Donald Tolty, one of the inmates, was stricken Tuesday night with scarlet fever. He was removed to a hospital, but a quarantine was placed on the jail, confining the deputies who now are on 24 hour duty.

SENTENCED FOR SWINDLING.
Judge Michael G. Kaspar in Felony court yesterday sentenced Louis Bergere, alias Mack Carter, 1012 East 53d street, to 30 days in the Bridewell for obtaining money under false pretenses.

STATE CONTROL URGED TO STOP FRAUD IN RELIEF

Charges Against Local Head Speed Plan.

Rules which their sponsors claim will prevent misuse of state funds allocated for relief purposes are contained in a plan for closer supervision of Illinois relief expenditures proposed by the Illinois Council on Public Assistance and Unemployment.

This was learned yesterday after charges had been made that the Randolph county relief administrator, W. P. Isom, had obtained at least $5,600 by fraud. He is alleged to have submitted the same merchants' bills for payment several times. It is reported that he was permitted not only to recommend bills for payment but also was allowed to cancel them when paid and to deliver the checks to merchants.

Audit Authority Withheld.

Relief officials agreed that the case points to a basic weakness of the present law, which practically withdraws state supervision once funds have been put in the hands of local agencies. The Illinois Emergency Relief commission, after allocating funds, has no authority to check up on the expenditures. The state auditor may make audits in the 1,400 township and county relief units but is not required to do so.

"Careful supervision of local expenditures by a central agency would deter mishandling of funds," said Walter L. Gregory, chairman of the council formulating the new plan. "Better integration of local units and prescribed administrative procedures must be provided."

How to reach these goals will be discussed in the next report of the council, which will be completed next month, he said.

Urge State Department.

Relief experts have long agreed that all forms of public assistance should be controled by a permanent state department. Under the law there is no requirement for uniform standards of relief budgets, eligibility, or administration.

Meanwhile demands for more state relief funds to augment local funds were carried to Springfield. A caravan of buses and automobiles carrying about 150 representatives of the Illinois Workers' alliance and of union locals arrived in the capital. Most of them were from Cook county.

Chicago's relief treasury will be empty before the end of April. Leo M. Lyons, Chicago relief administrator, has asked that the legislature act soon to prevent hardship. Mayor Kelly has called a meeting of business men and social workers in his office tomorrow to discuss the situation.

YOUTH ACCUSED OF KILLING SISTER INVOLVES UNCLE

Prairie du Chien, Wis., March 23.—(AP)—The defense rested late today in the delinquency trial of Harold Best, 15 years old, after a psychiatrist testified the boy, when undergoing the truth serum test, told him he confessed killing his sister, Mildred, 11 years old, to protect his uncle, the late Orla Shaw.

Dr. William F. Lorenz told a jury of three women and nine men Harold said he didn't know why he suspected Shaw, but that he acted funny a couple of times, at Mildred's funeral for once.

Harold denied emphatically from the stand that he killed his sister. He said he confessed the slaying because of persistent questioning and threats by officers which he said were enough to scare any one.

Shaw died 11 days after the shooting. State Toxicologist Frank Kozelka testified his death was caused by poison.

Taxi Strike Echo: Lawyers Sue Union for $3,750 Bill

Suit for $3,750 was filed yesterday by Attorneys Joseph H. ••THIS YOUNG MAN

MAY SOON BE BALD

True, he now has a good head of hair. But he knows that he is rapidly losing it, because each morning his comb and brush are filled with fallen hair. His scalp is covered with scaly, sticky dandruff, and it itches constantly. He has tried to ward off baldness by dousing his hair with miscellaneous "cure-all" lotions, but has concluded that they merely make his hair fall faster.

Unless he takes immediate steps to find out exactly what is causing his loss of hair, he'll surely soon be bald. Please tell him, for his sake, that Thomas effectively treats 1600 cases similar to his each day; that Thomas has helped a quarter-million other men to avoid baldness, and can help him, too.

A Thomas scalp specialist will gladly examine his scalp (without charge) and determine exactly which of the 14 local scalp disorders are attacking his hair-growing structure. The reliable, 17-year proved Thomas treatment will then be directed to overcoming those scalp troubles, and almost before he realizes it his abnormal hair-fall will stop; dandruff will disappear; and new hair will start to grow on the thin and bald spots. Why not come in TODAY for a free comprehensive scalp examination?

Alter Waffle Recipe Just for Variety

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune.]

There'd be many more waffle suppers if wafflemaking for a family weren't such a slow process. Crisp waffles are almost universally popular, but it's discouraging waiting one's turn for the next instalment.

Some of the new waffle irons provide for baking two cakes at one time, which fact is cheerful news for waffle lovers. There are two types of double waffle bakers, one of which consists of two separate "irons" in one set, the other of which is a utensil which swings over and bakes a waffle on top and bottom at once.

PLAIN WAFFLES.
[About six.]
2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar
2 eggs, separated
1¾ cups milk
⅓ cup melted butter

Sift dry ingredients together. Beat egg yolks and add milk and melted shortening. Stir into dry ingredients, beating the mixture until smooth. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in a hot waffle iron [iron should be hot enough to sizzle when a drop of water is sprinkled on it]. Serve with sirup, honey, crushed fruit, or jelly.

CORNMEAL WAFFLES.
1 cup flour
1½ cups cornmeal
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
2 eggs
1¾ cup sour milk or buttermilk
¼ cup melted butter

Sift the flour, measure, and resift with other dry ingredients. Beat eggs and add sour milk and melted butter. Add to the dry ingredients and mix well. Bake in a hot waffle iron.

PINEAPPLE WAFFLES FOR LUNCHEON OR DESSERT: Make plain waffles by the recipe given and add ¾ cup drained, crushed pineapple to the batter before folding in the egg whites. Serve with pineapple sauce made by thickening 1 cup pineapple juice with ½ tablespoon cornstarch mixed with 1 tablespoon cold water.

WHOLE WHEAT WAFFLES.
[About four.]
¾ cup whole wheat flour
½ cup white flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
⅓ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
⅔ cup milk
2 teaspoons molasses
2 tablespoons melted butter

Mix and sift the dry ingredients. Combine the beaten egg yolks with the milk, molasses, and butter. Add liquid to dry ingredients and beat until smooth. Fold in the beaten egg whites. Cook in a hot waffle baker and serve with sirup.

CHEESE WAFFLES.
[Five.]
2 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
3 eggs, separated
1 cup milk
¼ cup melted butter
1 cup grated American cheese

Sift the dry ingredients together. Combine the beaten egg yolks with milk and butter and add to the first mixture. Beat until smooth. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and cheese. Bake in a hot waffle iron. Serve with sirup.

Three hundred alumni will hold a dinner-dance at the Edgewater Beach hotel this evening to celebrate the eightieth anniversary of the founding of Iowa State college at Ames.

A Practical Princess Dress

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

For wear at home, for spectator sports and for days in the country there is nothing smarter or more practical than this simple princess dress which is flattering to all types of figures. Straight, slim paneling creates a long line. The sleeves may hang full or be gathered into tight bands above the elbow. Buttons or a slide fastener may do duty down the front. A belt may be used from the side seams around to the back, or may be dispensed with entirely.

There are so many colorful linens and cottons which you can use for this model. Wash silks are ideal, too, and our recommendation is to select gay prints. They're quite the thing this season, and all figures may wear prints as long as the pattern is not too large. If you're young and very slender, of course, the "louder" the print the better!

This garment is easy to wear, since one may slip into it and out of it again in a jiffy.

Style No. 3431 is designed for sizes 16, 18, and 20 years, and 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material.

Girls Prefer Men Who Are Well Groomed

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A discussion was in progress among a mixed group of young women and women of middle age when one of the older women raised her voice in protest: "But there's nothing new about that, young people. It is exactly what women always have disliked in men and will until the day they die."

What is it that women dislike in men? That is, the average woman's objections? Just what the young girls in the above mentioned group were holding forth on, bad manners and personal untidiness. Two young men were being raked over the coals by the aforesaid young women. One was anything but fastidious about himself. The other, although college trained, reverted to the dem-des-dose school of speech for no good reason that could be seen, and was rude of manner. It may be reported that the latter was proclaimed the victor in the contest over which would be chosen did one or the other of them have to be lived with.

The question of personal grooming is assuredly not only a feminine problem, as some men would seem to believe. Men would be surprised did they hear the comments made by their dancing partners, for instance. But, as has been said before, the advertisments which used to be aimed at feminine charm now are prodding the men, too, into greater personal care, so that an offender stands out even more offensively in this particular era.

Young men are more handicapped than are young women in the matter of fresh hosiery daily and such other personal niceties. But if they can't usurp the woman's privilege of rinsing out her own, they will have to make other provisions somehow to meet the current grooming demands. They have insisted upon the girl possessing an alluring person. In compensation now they must offer the same.

Young men should avail themselves of the opportunities to attain a conventional manner of behavior. As a business asset alone, good manners are essential. So why not learn them in the "salad days," when they serve equally well, when acts of courtesy and good breeding will soften a critical analysis of eyes, nose, or figure?

Mr. Culbertson will discuss this hand in tomorrow's column.

People who claim to be "discoverers" are almost as boring as the people who say, "I told you so," but, at the risk of being tiresome, we're doing some "discovering" today. We feel all puffed up about it, too.

Two French perfumes have given us this grand sense of being a Christopher Columbus. They're both made by the same house, they're both of the fine quality we wish more present day perfumes were, and they're totally unlike each other.

One of these is a jasmin. What a jasmin! As sweet, as thrillingly rich as any jasmin we've ever known. Maybe it has the edge, as a matter of fact, on those we've known. This is highly concentrated and it LASTS. Are you, like us, getting pretty tired of perfumes that fade almost instantly?

Manufacturers always tell us, when we complain, that this must be a purely individual reaction, that perfumes just don't last on some people—but we're beginning to have some low suspicions. Too many women tell us the same thing. We can't all be perfume freaks. We have every reason to believe that there won't be any complaints on this score where this divine French jasmin is concerned.

The second of these little known French perfumes that we're wild about is a blend. Of what? There you've got us. It's not predominantly floral nor is it oriental, though there is a faint whiff that could be called sandalwoodish. As it dries it gets gayer and more interesting. It's that find, a totally "different," tantalizing perfume. Not heavy, though you can't say it doesn't have body. The nice thing about it is that it will puzzle and charm your friends as much as it does you. You can buy it in bulk if you like.

We think you'll like these. They're not exorbitantly expensive, but they've both quality and beauty.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

While you're thinking about a new spring wardrobe, and planning it so you'll look your smartest, don't you think it a good time to give some thought to the condition of your skin? You want it to be just as fresh, clear, and free from wrinkles as your new clothes.

If, after the long winter months during which you've been inclined to hug the fireside, neglecting your daily walks and other outdoor exercises, you find your skin dull and sallow, get after it right away. Don't wait until you're ready to wear your new togs. Be prepared for them with a skin that will do you proud. Perhaps you may find some blackheads that need to be dislodged. Well, girls, get out your complexion brushes and use them morning and night, to send the blood coursing through your veins as it should. Cleansing the skin with warm water and a bland soap, using the brush, soon will eliminate the blackheads.

After the thorough cleansing, use your favorite skin tonic or astringent lotion to contract the pores. It's surprising how quickly you can throw off any trace of sallowness under the stimulus of quickened circulation, and give to the skin a fresh, rosy glow.

The skin, too, will relish a little pampering with nourishing creams to counteract the drying effects of the cold and overheated homes and offices in which we spend our time. Each night devote a few minutes to massage and, while you're doing this, keep in mind any possible lines or wrinkles that need to be eradicated. Use an upward and outward stroke in the application of the cream. Then, leave some of this nourishing cream on the skin so that it may get in its softening influence while you sleep.

Analyze your skin now. Find out just what it needs. Get in your good work, and you will be prepared to step out looking the part of the well groomed woman, with a skin that is as good to look at as your new clothes.

And knowing that your complexion is as lovely and as fresh as your outfit gives you assurance, and makes you feel that it's not such a bad world, after all.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: The following hand was played at a weekly duplicate game in which I participated. This was an eleven table section and we were the only East and West players who received a plus score on the hand for a top. The point that I wish to bring out is that defensive bidding seems to be somewhat lacking in most players who are not in the expert class.

South, dealer.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	*1 spade	Double	Pass
2 hearts	Pass	2 spades	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

"*West's spade overcall was the bid that upset the North and South pair. As you can see, there was an easy four spade contract in the North and South hands.

"You will no doubt be surprised to find West, with this type of a hand, daring to put in a bid with his holding. However, the result was very satisfactory.

"I was West. Against the two no trump contract I opened my fourth best club and North and South were helpless. If I had not bid at the first opportunity I am sure the North and South pair would have reached a four spade contract [which was the bid at most of the other tables].

"Assuming that South had allowed the one spade doubled contract to stand I would have bid two clubs, and then the opponents could have known that my spade bid was psychic.

"I believe that defensive bidding is an important element in duplicate contract bridge, and when hands like these come up one must take some action, otherwise he might as well be a robot.

"What is your opinion?

"Yours truly, F. C., Chicago."

I am grateful to this correspondent for bringing up a point that has been somewhat neglected in bridge writings. But, despite this gratitude, I cannot be enthusiastic about the psychic spade bid that encompassed the downfall of North-South. Its success was due solely to the subsequent bad bidding of North and South, particularly the latter, who apparently never had encountered a psychic bid. South's bidding throughout was very bad. In the first place, he should have opened with one no trump instead of one club, his five bare honor tricks and 4-3-3-3 distribution conforming perfectly to the maximum no trump requirement. Had he started with this bid North would have known that South had at least three spades and, therefore, would have insisted on playing at a spade contract. But South's opening bid would not have been fatal if he had later carried on intelligently. He should not have dreamed of taking out the one spade double. In fact, with his substantial honor strength and spade holding he should have welcomed such a double with open arms.

To show how many errors South had to make, however, in order to "fix himself," he still had the opportunity to reach the correct spot after North's two spade bid, which he should have raised. His persistent denial of spade support is hard to excuse. I do think that North might have made one more effort by bidding three spades over two no trump. But this is only the mildest criticism, advanced for the one reason that North must have suspected that West was psyching and that South was "at sea."

In conclusion, it is my opinion that West's psychic, a very dangerous type, by the way, did not deserve much credit, because it was a clear case of stealing candy from a baby.

Chicago Group Aids Evanston Musical Fete

BY JUDITH CASS.

At the first meeting of the woman's auxiliary of the Chicago committee of the Northwestern University Festival association held yesterday at luncheon at the Casino, the members could have gotten several valuable pointers from Dr. Frederick Stock as to how to sell tickets. His wit and understanding of what the average man thinks of a music festival make him a perfect pep talker for the Evanston Music festival.

Dr. Stock appreciates thoroughly that Honegger's "King David" and Brahms' "Requiem" are rather difficult to sell to tired business men, but he pointed out delightfully that neither of these compositions fills an evening, so after "Honegger's onslaught," as he termed "King David," there will be thirty minutes of songs and operatic arias by the attractive artists who will take part in the festival. The same sort of program will follow the "Requiem."

Bruna Castagna, Agnes Davis, William Miller, and Mark Love will be the soloists with the festival chorus and the Chicago Symphony orchestra in "King David" on the opening night, Tuesday, May 17, and Miss Davis, Richard Crooks, and Julius Huehn will sing with the chorus and orchestra in the "Requiem" the second night, Thursday, May 19.

A children's festival with Robert Basso, violinist, as soloist on Saturday afternoon, the 21st, and a gala concert that night will round out the festival's brilliant program. Helen Jepson, Giovanni Martinelli, and Mr. Huehn will sing in the concert.

Season Tickets Are Selling Well.

Tickets for single performances will not go on sale until after May 1 and from the way season tickets are going on the north shore, where the committees started work several weeks ago, there will be no single performance seats left by that date. Mrs. Walter R. Kirk is chairman of the committee that will be in charge of the Chicago sales and Mrs. Loyal Davis, Mrs. Arthur Meeker, Mrs. Silas H. Strawn, Mrs. Walter Wolf, and Mrs. Charles S. Dewey are vice chairmen.

Edwin S. Mills, president of the luncheon festival board, also talked at at the luncheon yesterday, giving the women enthusiasm and necessary details about the 26th festival, of which Dr. Stock is musical director. For the convenience of Chicagoans, a nontoll telephone, Enterprise 2000, has been installed in the general ticket headquarters in Evanston. Mrs. Kirk and all of her vice chairmen except Mrs. Strawn were at the luncheon, together with Mrs. Gilbert Smith of the Evanston committee, and the following of the Chicago committee: Mrs. Sewell Avery, Mrs. Charles S. Davis, Mrs. Chester C. Doherty, Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, Mrs. Ralph James, Mrs. Orville Taylor, Mrs. Paul Starr, Mrs. Harold Pynchon, Mrs. Errett Van Nice, Mrs. Louis Eckstein, and Mrs. Frederic W. Upham.

Mrs. William B. Cudahy, Mrs. Richard Cooper Jr., Mrs. Gaylord Donnelley, Mrs. Paul Rowan, Mrs. Mark W. Trude, Mrs. A. Thomas Taylor, Mrs. Albert H. Wetten, and Mrs. Allyn Warren complete the Chicago committee.

Lecture Today at Woman's A. C.

"The Power Behind the Pen" is the title of a lecture Bertita Harding will give at 11:30 o'clock this morning at the Woman's Athletic club.

Mrs. William F. Petersen, Mrs. Alfred C. Tyler, Mrs. Dewey Ericsson, Mrs. Augustus M. Maxwell, Mrs. William N. Pelouze, Mrs. Henry B. Vanzwoll, Miss Lila Woodruff, Mrs. Frederick Clarke, Mrs. George Rossetter, and Mrs. M. M. Gridley are some of those who have made reservations for luncheon following the lecture.

"Madame Has Her Diploma," a French comedy, will be presented at the weekly causerie of the Alliance Française this afternoon. Mrs. Allen C. Howes and Mrs. Walter B. Bracken will be the hostesses at tea following the program.

Miss Eleanor Phelps, who once sang at the Vassar House restaurant during the cocktail hour, will return there at luncheon tomorrow to be the guest of many of her Vassar friends. Miss Phelps now is appearing with Maurice Evans as the queen in "King Richard II.," and as Mistress Quickly in "King Henry IV., Part I." She was graduated from Vassar in 1927, and was studying music here when she was singing to aid the cause of scholarships.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

In an address before the Chicago Young Men's Christian association, the Rev. Dr. Harold L. Bowman of First Presbyterian church warned religious folk against spiritual fatigue, despair, and from the contentment arising from mere conformity with surrounding patterns of conduct. He referred to Abraham Lincoln's letter to Gen. George B. McClellan, who complained to his chief about tired army horses.

"May I be pardoned," asked President Lincoln, chiding his Potomac general for inactivity, "if I ask what has happened to horses of your army since the battle of Antietam that would fatigue anything?"

Speaking of the smugness arising from conformity to patterns, Dr. Bowman said:

"You listen to the conversations of the average successful business man and you know just what he is going to talk about, what he thinks about taxes, what he thinks about labor unions, and so on. All his attitudes conform to an exact pattern. You listen to the average doctor and he will give you the conventional, conservative point of view of the American Medical association.

"You listen to the average religious individual, and if you know to what kind of church he belongs, you know just exactly what he is going to say, you know how he feels. You see we fit into these patterns and we accept them without scrutiny—trying to answer today's questions with yesterday's answers."

Allied Drug Club.

The Woman's Allied Drug club will hold its annual philanthropic card party following luncheon at noon today at 209 South State street. Mrs. George F. Moyen, ways and means chairman, is in charge.

Avoid Contest of Wills with Your Children

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Suppose, in going on with this subject of stubbornness, that if you've been faced with this trait in your little boy or girl, you accept [just as an experiment] my theory as I expressed it yesterday:

[a] That children aren't naturally stubborn. That they are rather either determined or desire things keenly.

[b] And that if they have grown to be really stubborn it is due to circumstances or wrong handling, or both.

If you will look at your small Betsy or Teddy with this idea to the forefront, things will take on a different complexion and you will find yourself meeting your child's apparently stubborn behavior quite differently.

One of the first changes you'll make in your management will be that you'll immediately stop taking issue with your child over stubborn behavior. You'll stop having a "showdown"; you'll stop seeing "whose will is the stronger" and finding out "who's master here." These methods don't work well, anyhow, so from a practical standpoint they're out. They usually result in a deadlock; you usually have to call it a draw, or there's a "scene."

Or you'll stop coaxing to get results or weakly giving in—neither of which is good.

Or you'll stop trying to gain your end through severity, punishment, or a long drawn out struggle with the stubborn one, which again is not good and which may break that asset valuable in life to your child: his will.

After deciding to forgo these ways of making an issue of stubborn behavior the next thing you'll do will be to try to see why your child is putting up this barrier.

Why is it, you'll ask, that every so often you find yourself bang up against a stone wall of stubbornness with him?

Look for the reason, get your child's viewpoint, and you'll be surprised at how smooth things can become.

I have seen children with strong wills and intense desires so thoroughly understood, so wisely managed, so tactfully handled that stubbornness never reared its head; yet those same children, unwisely treated could have been real problems.

Study your child with these points in mind. It will help you to prevent stubbornness developing or to cure it if it has already appeared.

This subject will be continued tomorrow.

"Is Tact in Your Bag of Tricks?" is a booklet helpful to parents and teachers. It will be sent on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

Hollywood Mirror.

Hollywood, Cal., March 23.—This is a town of adopted children, movie stars having adopted at least fifty little orphans. . . . As the youngsters grow up, the problem is how to tell a child that he or she has been adopted. . . . One star, who shall be nameless, solved it with rare graciousness. . . . He and his wife took their little adopted daughter out shopping. . . . They told her that she could have whatever she chose, and she selected a lot of things that a kid would like.

When they returned home they asked her, "Why did you pick out just these things, honey, instead of others?" and with juvenile logic the girl replied that she'd selected certain things because she wanted them most.

So then they told her that one day they went shopping for a little daughter, and that, although they'd seen hundreds and hundreds of little girls, they'd chosen her because they wanted her most. . . . There may be gentler real life stories than that in this town, but I haven't heard them told.

No stage 13 in any movie studio out here, as a concession to actors' superstitions. . . . The stages go from stage 12 to 12A. . . . Tommy Farr, Fiancée Eileen Wenzel, and her sister, Rose Granlund, watching Errol Flynn, Rosalind Russell, Olivia De Havilland, Hugh Herbert, and Pat Knowles emoting for Director Mike Curtiz on the Warner lot. . . . Farr gives out a "woo-woo" when he meets Herbert, product of New York's "Hell's Kitchen."

From eastern reports, the movie people had been led to expect in Farr a surly, bad-mannered lout, and are pleasantly amazed at his pleasantries and his shrewd comments on pictures. . . . Miss Wenzel, a former Earl Carroll eyeful, is prettier than most movie heroines, and I've got a hunch you'll see her in flickers.

Exiting from NBC, Lum and Abner, probably the only NBC team that doesn't have to submit a script in advance of a broadcast. . . . Kay Francis and her Baron Barnekow. . . . He's really a handsome guy. . . . Harry M. Warner, on his way to the doctor's office to be X-rayed . . . He hasn't been feeling very well. . . . Joe Frisco sitting with the Joe Penners at the Troc.

Franchot Tone in a liquor store buying a bottle of vodka, which is Russian white mule. . . . Gregory Ratoff, who should take off some pounds. . . . Robert Young chatting with Edgar Allen Woolf. . . . Gloria Stuart, who doesn't know that she started Olivia De Havilland on a screen career. . . . Gloria was supposed to have played the rôle of Hermia in Max Reinhardt's "Midsummer Night's Dream" in the Hollywood Bowl, but couldn't get to rehersals because of picture work. . . . So Olivia, her understudy, got the rôle and popped into pictures.

Maxie Rosenbloom, in his night club, tells the diners: "My success has gone to my ears." . . . Rosenbloom's night club continues its cover charge of 15 cents. . . . "It keeps out the rabble," explains the ex-ring champ.

Recently, in this column I wondered aloud that while kids who appeared on Eddie Cantor's radio program became stars, nobody graduated from his pictures. . . . Cantor wires: "Dear Ed: Know you will be interested in the facts. In 'Special Delivery,' a silent picture, a chap played a small part. He was William Powell. You've forgotten that the blonde in 'Whoopee' was Virginia Bruce. In 'Palmy Days,' the gangster was George Raft. The emperor in 'Roman Scandals' was Edward Arnold; Robert Young was in 'Kid from Spain,' and George Murphy in 'Kid Millions.' See you soon."

The wire reminds me of Harry Seymour's story of a beautifully mounted fish he saw, with this inscription: "If I hadn't opened my mouth, I would not be here."

Ethel Merman and Caesar Romero. . . . Paul Leviton, who will be best man at the Chicago wedding of Harry Richman and Hazel Forbes. . . . Prince Mike Romanoff pitching pennies with Tyrone Power and Don Ameche: "In the imperial court, we used to pitch gold sovereigns," says Mike. . . . Ameche had a bad few days as a result of two abscessed teeth. . . . He reported too soon to the studio, and the heat of the lights spread the infection to both sides of his face.

Wires from Billy Rose and Abe Lyman, protesting the line here about actors playing Casa Manana without pay, every Sunday night. . . . Rose points to the work he has created for actors. . . . Abe says that friendships result in actors volunteering their services at Casa Manana. . . . The fact remains that a prosperous night club does not need benefit performances.

Edward G. Robinson, cigar in mouth, yells: "What do you hear from the mob, Butch?" . . . A letter from Chicago, pointing out that Daisy Spencer, after whom Spencer Tracy was named, works there in the Celotex corp. . . . The letter is signed by the entire office staf. . . . H'ya Daisy! . . . Sonia Henie, in slacks. . . . Cary Grant, hiding behind dark glasses, with Harry Cohn and Frank Capra.

W. C. Fields and Joe Leone of the Spaghetti Leones. . . . Wish he'd open a place here. . . . Nan Grey, one of the prettier kids in pictures. . . . A wire from the Western Union chief at Tampa, Fla., saying that the town was raving over Ronda Hatton's performance in "Old Chicago." . . . He's a Tampa boy.

Jimmy McLarnin, playing a slot machine. . . . Loretta Young, who is a lovely looker, if ever I saw one. . . . Sam Bischoff, who is now marketing ear trumpets, after cutting his bank roll on a razor factory. . . . Ray Milland and his attractive young wife. . . . Joel McCrea, in from his ranch for a studio visit. . . . Eleanor Powell, driving down Sunset.

Herbert Horn Successful in Debut Recital

BY CECIL SMITH.

Herbert Horn, a young pianist hailing originally from Sacramento, Cal., made a highly successful recital debut in Kimball hall last night. It was by no means his first public account of himself in Chicago, however, for he has already played with four symphony orchestras and has served as accompanist for the corps de ballet of Vincenzo Celli.

Last night he put his powers to a more searching test than any he has undertaken before. His program was exacting and many sided, even though it included no music earlier than that of Chopin. The massive "Prelude, Chorale and Fugue" of Cesar Franck was followed by a well selected group of short pieces by Brahms, five works in modern idiom, and a final Chopin-Liszt group.

Mr. Horn has developed a technique equal to almost any demands of speed, fluency, and sonority. When he plays you sit back comfortably, recognizing that the piano is in the hands of a completely dependable young man, who will negotiate every measure sturdily, cleanly, and accurately. His tone is big and round without becoming strident.

Whether because of immaturity or because of a naturally stolid disposition, he seemed insensitive to many opportunities for gracious phrasing and delicate tone color. Each piece sounds somewhat monolithic, a single huge chunk of rocklike tone, and each piece sounds much like every other piece. Before the evening was over I longed for some light, filmy playing and for some phrases that were allowed to delight in their own contours and to finish with charm and finesse.

Without sacrificing the honesty of his approach, he can turn himself into an all-around good pianist if he will investigate the less aggressive qualities of his instrument.

Finishes Series of Murals for Historical Society

A new mural, just put on the wall of the Chicago Historical society at North avenue and Clark street, completes the series by a staf artist, Hans Werner, depicting important periods in American history from the landing of the pilgrims to the "opening of the west." This last was taken from an original Currier and Ives print, and hangs in Lee hall. The dedication will take place April 3 on the 82d anniversary of the society.

Match a Penny and You Have Season's Color

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Flowers, birds, jittery looking hats, veils, sheer blouses, spick and span new suits, spring coats and the gleam of patent lether bring on sudden attacks of a fine spring fever. From head to toe, all the newest ideas have been launched. Fashion shows pull record audiences to see all the best designs, all the brave new colors and the slickest of spring streamlines.

Copper is by far the color of the hour. It's known by half a dozen names, but it's the sultry tone of a new penny and it goes with navy and all the blue tones with a flattering effectiveness.

Another bright arrival is called blue eyes; it's a lovely shade of blue similar to cornflower. It's worn with navy and with gray. You'll see it in the handbag collections and in the new spring hosiery showings. It's one of the best blues we've ever shopped and unquestionably has a big future as a subtle color accent for spring clothes.

Those who plan to invade the country should see the flannel skirts and matching silk tailored blouses. The skirts have a single hip pocket, a beige calfskin belt over the belt of the skirt and all kinds of snap in each smooth seam. The blouse has short sleeves, a convertible collar and clever tailored details.

Three colors—dusty pink, blue and a clear sun yellow—make them finds. Moderate price marks keep them within the limits of a small clothes budget. They'll go with sweater jackets, or separate jackets of wool or suedes in contrast colors.

Business Women, A. of C. Told Austria Will Rule Germany

Austria eventually will turn the tables and dominate Germany as in an earlier day, Miss Bertita Harding, the former Countess Karolyi and "biographer of the Hapsburgs," yesterday told the annual joint meeting of the Chicago Association of Commerce and the Alliance of Business and Professional Women.

"That history repeats itself is terribly true," she said. "Some day monarchies will return, and they will be the old dynasties reincarnated, not new ones formed by present dictators."

The women pretty much ran things at the luncheon. Miss Anne V. Zinser, vice president of the alliance, presided over the meeting and introduced more than a score of women who occupied places at the speakers' table.

SYNOPSIS.

Karen Gilbert meets Gordon Stone returning after eight years in prison. Gordon was framed by Karen's ruthless uncle and guardian, Lyn Gilbert, owner of Bar B B ranch, and his foreman Curt Ford. Gordon joins Jack Turnbull, who is in hiding after trouble with Gilbert. Gilbert sends a posse of Bar B B riders after them, headed by Cheyenne. Karen gets a friend, Hal Ferguson, to take her to Gordon. She warns him in time to fight off the posse and escape. Gordon, suspicious of Gilbert's niece, refuses to thank her. To punish Karen Gilbert threatens to make her marry Firkins, his secretary, and confines her to the ranch. Gordon and Jack go to Carbondale to look up Linc Conway, who was kept from testifying at Gordon's trial. They enlist his aid to help end Gilbert's domination.

INSTALMENT XVI.

A PUBLISHED LETTER.

The eyes in the brown wrinkled face gleamed. "Would you trust me, after the dirt I did you, Gordon?"

"To the limit, Linc. You've been through hell, and you'd never throw down on yourself again."

"Then, by Godfrey, I'm with you. Tell me what you want done."

"Let's hear your story first," Stone suggested. "What is it you know about the Brock killing?"

"Not a thing about the killing itself. We were on the roundup, you remember. I had come in early from the branding to drag up some wood for the cook. We were camped in a bunch of cottonwoods. As I came forward, hidden by the trees, I saw a man putting a small canvas sack in your war bag. The man was Curt Ford. It kinda puzzled me, but I didn't get the hang of it till I learned about the pay roll robbery. When Gilbert tried to fix it on you I knew it was a frameup. Instead of talkin' with yore lawyer I went to Curt and kicked—said I wouldn't stand for it. That night three men hustled me back into the mountains and kept me there till after you were convicted. They laid it on the line—Curt and his boss—that if I ever let out a bleat I would be rubbed out pronto."

"So you kept quiet," Turnbull said.

"I kept quiet, but I thought about it all the time. Couldn't sleep. Couldn't forget that Gordon was an innocent man serving a sentence in the penitentiary. Curt watched me like a hawk. He was scared for fear I'd burst out and talk some day. Well, he gave me on my string of mounts a bay gelding he'd just picked up. Said it was a good safe horse. I never was a bronco buster and didn't figure to tackle outlaws. This bay was a notorious bucker, one of the kind that trampled on a rider after he was throwed. Curt fixed it so I mounted this brute in a bed of bowlders. I got piled pronto. Broke a leg and had internal injuries.

"They took me to a hospital, where I stayed four months. Course I knew Curt had hoped I would get killed. He and Gilbert visited me at the hospital, to let me know if I opened my mouth I would never come out alive. I knew doggoned well they weren't going to leave it lay like that. Soon as they got me out in the hills I would be dry-gulched. So I slipped outa the hospital unexpected and lit out from Barranca for parts unknown. I've been living under cover since. That's the whole story."

"Will you tell that story before a notary?" Stone asked.

Conway drew strength from the courage of the others. His jaw tightened. "By gorry, yes," he cried. "I've waited for a chance to even the score with those devils and figured I never would get a break. Now it has come I'll go through with you all the way."

Next morning they took the train for Tie Siding. They carried with them the story of Lincoln Conway, sworn to before a notary of Carbondale.

Nine hours later the three men stole a ride on a local freight to Barranca. They slipped from the train in the yards and made a detour around the town in order to reach, unobserved, the residence of Hatfield of the Courier.

The editor came to the door in slippers and shirtsleeves when they knocked.

"My name is Gordon Stone," the leader of the delegation said, and introduced his companions. "We would like to have a talk with you."

"I was glad to get your letter and to publish it, gentlemen," he said. "The Courier is here to give the news. You will understand that though we are politically against Mr. Gilbert we are not conducting a personal fight against him, nor are we taking sides in any feud."

Gordon Stone liked his straightforward manner.

"Fair enough," he said. "We've come to bring you a news story, but one with dynamite in it. Perhaps you won't want to publish it."

"I'll know better about that when you've told me what it is," the editor replied.

The appearance of Stone surprised him. He had expected the ex-convict to be strong, rough, and probably sinister, but he was looking at a face which immediately attracted him. There was power there, but it was not brutal.

Without comment Gordon handed to the editor the signed statement of Conway. Hatfield read it twice.

"Very interesting," he commented at last, "and as you say, full of dynamite. If I publish this—and if it isn't true, or if Mr. Conway weakens and recants—I'll be blown out of Barranca."

"Yes, but it is true," Gordon said quietly. "We're taking it to the district attorney in the morning."

Hatfield asked searching questions, many of them. He sent a reporter up into the Kettle Hill country to make investigation of certain facts alleged by Conway. Not until he was thoroughly satisfied of the truth of the story, three days after the night visit of the three men, did he run the statement of the sheepherder in the Courier.

But he did not wait that long to tell the fugitives a bit of news that interested them. Just as they were leaving his house he mentioned it.

"I've been told that Gilbert has sent his niece to the Bar B B ranch to live, as punishment for warning you of his intended attack on you. She wrote a letter to a young lady in town explaining the facts. He gave her a choice. She could go there or to the reform school."

"To the reform school," Stone echoed. "What had she done?"

"He claimed she had spent the night in the hills with outlaws and that he could no longer be answerable for her moral character."

Gordon's eyes grew hard and cold as chilled steel. His jaw tightened. He said nothing.

The court of public opinion, which was in session all warm and sunny days throughout the year, sat at Pratt's feed store to consider the case of Gilbert vs. Stone and Turnbull.

Jasper Pinckney was the most outspoken of the ancients lined up in chairs against the adobe wall.

"Not a word in that letter in the Courier ain't so, in my opinion," he announced flatly. "Gordon came back not lookin' for trouble, like he had a right to do. Curt Ford and that tinhorn desperado Buck Hayes jumped him. He cleaned 'em up proper. Then Lyn's Bar B B warriors started in to put him and Jack Turnbull outa business. I got the story from Hal Ferguson, who was kinda drug into the fracas."

"Gilbert's story is that it was a posse of deputy sherifs they attacked unexpected," old Greeley Shattuck demurred.

"No such a thing," Pinckney cried. "Lyn's trying to save his face. Every last one of the crowd was a Bar B B man. O' course, Scott eats outa Gilbert's hand. He is Lyn's sherif, not ours."

"You're going to talk yoreself into trouble, Jas," another old-timer told him sharply.

"Trouble for who?" he wanted to know. "If enough folks say what they think there won't be trouble for anybody—except for those who override the law themselves and use it to hogtie those who stand on their rights."

"That's so," a big shambling man in overalls agreed. "This here is a free country, and we got a title to speak our minds. If those boys are being hounded unjustly like they claim Barranca had ought to know it."

The Housewife

An absolutely sanitary gadget for your kitchen is a glass funnel. It has no seams nor cracks. It's excellent for use in filling the baby's bottle, for measuring liquids for invalids, etc. And it is not expensive.

Another clever new item is a thin metal iron rest which clamps to the ironing board. As it is level with the board you can slide the iron off instead of lifting it.

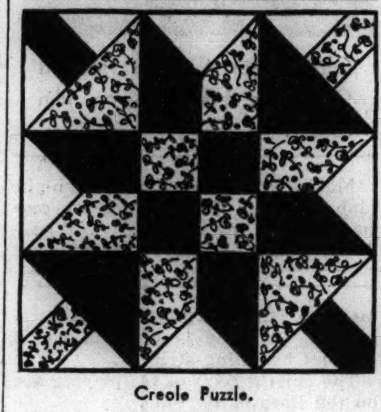
CreolePuzzleQuilt Possesses Charm of French Quarter



Creole Puzzle.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Of the myriad of "puzzle" patterns which are listed in the quilt world few possess the charm and beauty of the "Creole puzzle." It is based on the simple nine patch pattern and ingenuity alone has devised the attractive arrangement of patches in this block. A combination of print and plain material is used to achieve that old fashioned quaintness so typical of the old French quarter in New Orleans where this block was originally pieced. The finished coverlet measures 90 by 105 inches and the entire quilt is composed of pieced blocks set together to form an all over design.

For a limited period Nancy Cabot offers 10 quilt patterns of her own choice at a price of 10 cents for the group (12 cents by mail). Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower.

liam E. Ullman, Mrs. Nathaniel T. Lane Jr., and Mrs. Cyrus R. Smith are some of those who will meet for luncheon tomorrow with Miss Phelps. Others are Mrs. Carl Bingham, Mrs Charles Pratt, Miss Mary Swissler, and Mrs. Ernest A. Hamill II.

Duo Pianists Will Play at Arts Club.

The Russian artists, Vitya Vronsky and Victor Babin, who will play two pianos Sunday night at the Arts club, will be dinner guests of Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, president of the club, preceding the concert.

Among others entertaining at dinner before the concert are Mrs. James Mullen, Mrs. Gilbert Smith, Mrs. Lamar Warwick, Mrs. Franklin M. Miller, Mrs. Gabriel Slaughter, Mrs. Albert Hopkins, Mrs. George B. Everitt, Mrs. Pauline Palmer, and Mrs. Thomas H. Fisher.

Two lecture teas have been planned by the Junior Auxiliary of La Rabida Jackson Park sanitarium to fill the program of activities during the Lenten season. The first will be held next Tuesday, when Miss Helen Sisson will speak on "Art in Dress" at 2 o'clock at the Windermere East hotel. Mrs. Robert E. Langford will be hostess for the afternoon.

The second lecture will be a coast to coast travelogue at the Lake Shore Athletic club at 2 o'clock April 19, at which Miss Marian Gates will be the narrator during a moving picture of a trip by air from New York to California. This lecture will be followed by a fashion show showing appropriate clothes for air travel.

Barn Dance Benefit Will Be Repeated.

The barn dance that the North Shore Service league of the Chicago Maternity center gave last year was so successful that the league is planning another for the first Saturday after Easter, April 23, at the Vista del Lago club. Mrs. Jack C. Griffin is chairman of the party. Mrs. Griffin was charter president of the league, which was founded two years ago. Her mother, Mrs. Ralph E. Heilman, was charter president of the North Shore auxiliary of the center, parent organization of the league.

Mrs. Gilbert J. Stecker is president of the league and is active in making arrangements for the party. Members and their husbands are planning to come in costume and are inviting their guests to join them in donning denim and gingham for the evening. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes.

President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago and Mrs. Hutchins are leaving this morning for Tampa, Fla., where he has a lecture engagement. They will spend a week fishing at Boca Grande before returning to Chicago.

Mrs. Isabel Requa, who spent several weeks here earlier this winter, has returned from California, where she has closed her house. She is staying at the Drake hotel for a month.

Mrs. Hallett Thorne Visitng Her Brother.

Mrs. Hallett Thorne, formerly of Winnetka, has returned for a visit with her brother, Howard Andrews, and his family. Mrs. Thorne will return to her home in Pasadena on Saturday.

Mrs. Stanley Morrill has gone to Ocean Springs, Miss., for a visit with the W. W. Haerthers at their winter home there. Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Welles will return Saturday from a trip to Jamaica.

The Howard Fentons will return about April 1 from a trip to England. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Dawes will return to Winnetka next Monday from a sourthern trip. Mrs. Howell B. Erminger Jr., and Miss Bertha Erminger arrived at home from Havana Sunday.

Mrs. Rufus C. Dawes, a graduate of Lake Erie college, has presented the college with a sterling silver archery cup, to replace the cup which was given years ago by the Chicago alumnae. The cup is known as the Helen Palmer Dawes archery trophy.

Students Plan Easter Trips.

Young Andrew Armstrong, who is at Culver Military academy, does not have an Easter holiday, but his sister, Priscilla, is at home from Mount Vernon, and his brother, Julian Armstrong Jr., is coming home from Dartmouth in time for the Dartmouth Glee club concert and dance on April 2 at the Drake hotel.

Miss Carolyn Chapman, who is at Vassar, will join her mother, Mrs. John A. Chapman, and sister, Miss Elinor Chapman, in Palm Beach for the Easter holidays.

Miss Janet Musselman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Musselman of Winnetka, will arrive at home Saturday from Pine Manor for her spring vacation.

Miss Margaret Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Barker, will spend her Easter vacation from the Finch Junior college in Bermuda with Mrs. Barker. Miss Carolyn Brown of San Antonio, also a student at Finch, will accompany them.

Miss Karen Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gardner, will spend her vacation from Finch with Mrs. Gardner in Palm Beach.

Miss Mary Florsheim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Florsheim of 334 Wellington avenue, is at home for her spring vacation. She will return to Marot Junior college in Connecticut in two weeks.

Miss Marion Johnson is returning Saturday from Sarah Lawrence to spend the spring holiday with her parents, the Joseph Fernando Johnsons, in Hawthorne place. Miss Ruth Delamater Vezin of Litchfield, Conn., will come west later to be Miss Johnson's guest for the latter part of the holiday. They will return to Sarah Lawrence April 5.

Doctors know how effective the bubbling of active oxygen is for blackheads, surface pimples, and similar blemishes. And DIOXOGEN CREAM is the only cleansing cream that contains active oxygen. When you put this fragrant white cream on your face, its oxygen forms millions of microscopic bubbles. These soften the hard fatty deposits in which grit and blackheads become embedded, and then force the loosened specks out to the surface of the skin . . . leaving the complexion clean, clear, and smooth—as nothing else can. Approved by Good Housekeeping.

Finds Big Audience Not Efficient for Teaching by Radio

Large gatherings of children do not make a good radio audience for educational purposes, David J. Heffernan, assistant county superintendent of schools, decided yesterday at a meeting of student leaders of achievement clubs of the county schools. The meeting was held at the Morrison hotel.

Heffernan made his report to the audience of 1,100 children after the reception of two broadcasts. He said the members of the audience were too much interested in each other to pay close attention to the radio.

"From 30 to 40 children in a classroom is about right," he added. He reported that a survey showed that 40,000 of 103,000 children in Cook county outside of Chicago listen to broadcasts in school.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Helm of Evanston announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie, to Dr. Verne Wilson Swigert, son of Mrs. Charles Swigert of Boone, Ia. Miss Helm was graduated from the Roycemore school and from Northwestern university, where she finished last June.

Dr. Swigert is a graduate of the University of Iowa and of the Northwestern university medical school, class of 1935. At present he is engaged in research work in Boston. The wedding will take place in July, and Dr. Swigert and his bride will make their home in Boston for the next year.

At a tea Sunday at their home in Winnetka Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Keith Smith announced the engagement of their daughter, Jean, to Arthur Lloyd Howland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Howland of Swarthmore, Pa.

Miss Smith is a graduate of Kemper Hall and attended Northwestern university. Mr. Howland was graduated from Cornell university and did graduate work at Northwestern and Princeton. He now is a member of the faculty at Northwestern. No date has been set for the wedding.

AMUSEMENTS.

Benny Travels 6,000 Miles for Program! Why?

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Quiz programs being in vogue just now in radio, we propound this question: Why is Jack Benny traveling 6,000 miles [from coast to coast and back] to do a single broadcast from New York City?

Everyone, however, is entitled to his own guess. One is that Jack is considering various stratagems to get his listener rating back up into first place, now occupied by Charlie McCarthy and playmates. Move No. 1 is this New York trip with Fred Allen, Kate Smith, Abe Lyman, and Robert Ripley to join him in a half hour comic circus at 6 p. m. Sunday. It should be a riotous session.

Jack said yesterday that he plans to lay off thirteen weeks this summer starting July 3. During his vacation he expects to finish building his new Hollywood home. Sponsor will fill in with a quiz program titled "What Would You Have Done?" in which real life dilemmas are dramatized before a studio audience. Then three members are selected from the audience and asked what they would have done under similar circumstances. Doesn't sound very exciting for the radio audience, does it?

Kay Kyser is making such a hit at the Chicago theater with his Kollege of Musical Knowledge [which he started on W-G-N] that he is being held over three additional days until Monday, when he leaves Chicago for New York and his new NBC coast to coast broadcast series. In New York he will play for a fortnight in April at the Paramount theater and in June he will open at the Hotel Pennsylvania roof.

News and Notes: The Morin sisters, who have been missing from network schedules for several months, will be guests of Harold Stokes on the Mutual "On a Sunday Afternoon" variety show next Sunday. . . . Maxine Grey is out of the hospital but has been unable to rejoin Hal Kemp's orchestra, because of injuries to several vertebrae sustained in that train wreck a few weeks ago. Meanwhile Roslind Marquis continues to sing with the Kemp crew. . . . Skinnay Ennis, formerly with Kemp, now has a band of his own in Hollywood and is appearing in Paramount pictures. . . . The movie adaptation of the Lone Ranger, popular W-G-N-Mutual western serial, will be introduced in several local theaters this week-end.

James C. Petrillo, boss of the Chicago Federation of Musicians, has declined the offer of the National Association of Performing Artists to make him president at a reputed salary of $100,000. N. A. P. A., led by such men as Paul Whiteman, Fred Waring, Wayne King, and Guy Lombardo, seeks to protect artists from unauthorized use of their recordings, arrangements, and such.

Julia Orahan, director of education for Iran [Persia], is consulting with Zenith Radio corporation officials regarding plans that government has for expanding its broadcasting activities. . . . A swing band composed entirely of grandmothers will be presented on We, the People, at 6:30 p. m. today over WBBM-CBS. . . . Senator Borah is to discuss "Foreign Affairs" on the next Radio Forum broadcast Monday evening over WCFL-NBC. . . . Nelson Eddy's next radio appearance will be Sunday, April 3, on Henry Ford's concert hour from Detroit. . . . Anne Seymour, headliner of Mary Marlin and Cross-Roads, is directing the production of "The Valiant" at Eli Bates Settlement house. . . . Maj. Bowes rounds out three solid years with his amateur hour today. While one hears little talk about his show, nowadays it still has one of the biggest and most loyal followings.

CUBS DEFEAT SOX, 6 TO 4; THIRD STRAIGHT

FENWICK WINS FIRST START IN CATHOLIC MEET

Marquette and St. Xavier Advance.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The national Catholic high school basketball tournament opened last night in Loyola gymnasium with two games that verged on the spectacular and another that was thoroughly workmanlike.

Fenwick of Oak Park, the defending champion, St. Xavier of Louisville, and Marquette University High school of Milwaukee were the teams which survived their first round games.

Don Kruger's long throw that found the basket and broke a tie with a minute to go was the high spot of the game in which Fenwick defeated St. Thomas academy of St. Paul, Minn., 31 to 28. In the closing seconds, Kruger also sank a free throw to bring the score to its final total.

St. Xavier Wins.

The evening's other spectacular touch was provided by St. Xavier, which defeated Central Catholic High school of Fort Wayne, Ind., 37 to 34, after trailing 28 to 12 at one stage of the third quarter. St. Xavier, which had won twenty-seven games without a defeat during the regular season, lived up to its reputation for brilliant teamwork during this remarkable rally.

In the game which opened the tournament, Marquette made a businesslike job of beating St. Bede's academy of Peru, Ill., 34 to 28. St. Bede's, which holds the downstate Catholic high school championship, gave Marquette considerable trouble during the early stages, and the Milwaukee team led by only 13 to 12 at the half. In the third quarter, however, Marquette began drawing away and protected its advantage handily in the later stages.

Three other Chicago teams will play their first round games this afternoon and this evening. Leo, Catholic league champion, will go up against Canisius of Buffalo at 2 o'clock, after which St. Ignatius will take the floor against Calvert Hall of Baltimore, Md. Loyola academy will meet St. Ambrose of Davenport, Ia., in the 9:30 game this evening.

Exciting Moments.

The above mentioned basket and free throw by Kruger, that decided the Fenwick-St. Thomas game, was the climax of some precarious moments. The defending champions had been having rough going throughout the game, trailing, 10 to 9, at the half. They held a 19 to 16 lead going into the last period, but St. Thomas quickly took that away from them on baskets by Ghizoni and Salscheider.

The advantage seesawed until, with a minute and a half to go, Fenwick led, 26 to 25. Then St. Thomas got a chance for three free throws on one play, a personal and a technical foul having been called. Donahue sank one and Ghizoni made the other two. Elder then got a chance at two free throws for Fenwick—and made both, tying the score with less than a minute to go. Then Kruger's long field goal and free throw settled it.

JEAN BAUER AND DOROTHY KIRBY AUGUSTA VICTORS

Augusta, Ga., March 23.—(AP)—Three young players and the medalist moved into the semi-finals of the Augusta women's golf tournament today.

Victorious by scores of 5 and 4 were Helen Dettweiler of Washington, D. C.; Dorothy Kirby, southern champion of Atlanta, and Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I. Advancing with them was Mrs. Warren W. Beard of Boston, whose 82 gave her medal honors.

Mrs. Beard, a former Massachusetts state champion, eliminated Grace Amory of New York, two up, while her opponent tomorrow, Miss Dettweiler, defeated Mrs. Dorothy C. Howe of Philadelphia. Mrs. Charles Harbaugh of Cleveland lost to Miss Kirby, and Miss Bauer, who meets the Atlantan tomorrow, eliminated Mrs. Charles Newbold of Kansas City.

IT'S DO OR DIE IN CUP PLAYOFF FOR HAWKS TONIGHT

Meet Canadiens in 2d Game in Stadium.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

Barring the unexpected, Chicago's hocky season comes to a close tonight when the Blackhawks, already one game behind, meet the Montreal Canadiens in the second part of the C series of the Stanley cup playoffs. Only a victory in the Stadium tonight and another in Montreal on Saturday will enable the faithful to enjoy another look at their Blackhawk heroes this spring.

Manager Bill Stewart brought the Hawks back to Chicago last night a trifle dazed, albeit determined. He was heartened by the report that Carl Voss, a center, would be able to rejoin the club tonight and even figured that the Hawks had a chance.

Records Favor Montreal.

There were factors, however, which prevented less partisan observers from arriving at the same conclusion. Foremost is the season's record against the Canadiens. The Hawks have met them seven times since last November, including Tuesday's playoff opener, in which the Canadiens were victorious 6 to 4. They have been able to win only one game. Three ended in ties.

It is possible, of course, but not probable that the Canadiens will permit such a soft touch to eliminate them from a money series. They were generous enough to surrender four goals in each of their last two meetings with the Hawks, but when it really counted on Tuesday night they matched the Hawks goal for goal and sped on to two more.

Blake Is Just Too Good.

The Hawks' troubles apparently are defense and Toe Blake, the Canadiens' young wing. Beyond reciting the score of Tuesday's game, 6 to 4, there is no need to dwell on the defense. Blake made three of the Canadiens' goals Tuesday night, duplicating his performance the last time the two teams met in a regular season contest. If some means of checking Blake can be devised before tonight it is possible that Chicago's hocky season will carry over for another week. If it goes that far it well might continue until early in April.

While the Hawks are attempting to remain in the race for the world championship, the Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs, winners, respectively, in the American and Canadian divisions, will open their five game series for the National league championship in Toronto. The victor in this series qualifies to meet the survivor of the Hawk-Canadien and Ranger-American series for the world title. The lineup:

CARAS DEFEATS PONZI TO REGAIN WORLD CUE TITLE

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Jimmy Caras, youthful star from Wilmington, Del., regained the world's pocket billiards championship tonight by defeating the veteran Andrew Ponzi of Philadelphia, 125 to 22, in the final game of a second playoff series.

Caras routed the Philadelphian in 16 innings to win after both players had beaten Willie Mosconi in the afternoon.

Palmer Defeats Curtis in Two of Three Falls

Walter Palmer of Texas defeated Jack Curtis of Oklahoma two out of three falls in the wrestling show last night at the Rainbo Fronton. Palmer threw his rival in the first fall with a body press in 15 minutes and 20 seconds. Curtis came back to toss Palmer with a reverse body hold in 9:05. Palmer scored in the third fall in 16:55. It was the first time in three years that a contest was decided on the best two out of three falls in Chicago. Other results:

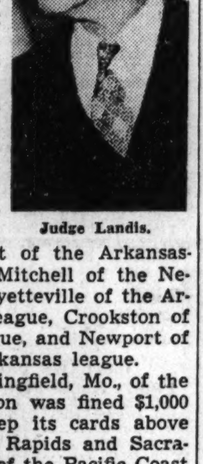
Landis Strikes at Cardinal Farms; Frees 100 Players

Belleair, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—In a sweeping denunciation of the St. Louis Cardinals' system of working agreements with minor league clubs, Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis made free agents today of an estimated 100 players belonging to six teams and fined offending owners $2,176.



Judge Landis.

The baseball czar set free all players except one belonging to Cedar Rapids of the Three Eye league, and all owned by Monett of the Arkansas-Missouri league, Mitchell of the Nebraska league, Fayetteville of the Arkansas-Missouri league, Crookston of the Northern league, and Newport of the Northeast Arkansas league.

In addition, Springfield, Mo., of the Western association was fined $1,000 for failing to keep its cards above the table. Cedar Rapids and Sacramento, the latter of the Pacific Coast league, were each penalized $588.

Opening of Drive on Rickey?

Ultimate effects of the judge's decision could not accurately be told, but it undoubtedly was the opening gun of a campaign aimed principally at Branch Rickey, vice president of the Cardinals and father of the farm system.

Judge Landis promised an additional statement within a fortnight, in which he was expected to list all of the players affected by today's decision.

Branch Rickey, in nearby St. Petersburg, after reading the decision, said "I can't yet see how it's going to affect us. The Springfield decision seems harsh, but I'll have to digest the whole thing better before I can make a real statement."

Basis of Dispute.

Basis of the entire dispute was, the decision discloses, a series of deals that has been going on between the Cardinals and Cedar Rapids for the last two seasons. Cedar Rapids wasn't listed as a Cardinal affiliate, yet, says the judge, "investigation establishes beyond doubt or question that the Cedar Rapids club and its affiliates in 1936 and 1937 were merely adjuncts to the St. Louis system and that St. Louis controled the players of two clubs in each of the three Class D leagues in 1936 and in each of four Class D leagues in 1937.

"Throughout this period," the judge continued, "St. Louis and Cedar Rapids represented that there was no agreement or understanding between them, and so certified officially in purported compliance with the rules."

No major league club is permitted to control two clubs in the same minor league. That is what the Cardinals are accused of doing.

"Gentlemen's Agreement."

Mitchell, Fayetteville, Crookston and Newport were involved because they have been farm teams of Cedar Rapids, and, presumably, have been juggling around with players that the Cards wanted to keep strings on through Cedar Rapids.

The Cardinal owned Springfield club was accused of having done some dealing with the Monett team, ostensibly for itself, but actually for St. Louis. Judge Landis refers to it as "another gentleman's" agreement.

Sacramento, also owned by the Cards, was charged with having transacted a "wash sale" with Newport. This is a transaction in which a player is "bought" legally, Judge Landis notified, and then the money returned.

DENIED IN CEDAR RAPIDS

Cedar Rapids, Ia., March 23.—[Special.]—President Harry S. Johnson of the Cedar Rapids Three-Eye league club today denied that his team had a secret working agreement with the St. Louis Cardinals during the 1936 and 1937 seasons.

"During the years 1936 and 1937 neither the Cardinals nor any club in the Cardinal organization held an optional agreement, written or oral, on the Cedar Rapids club or any of the Cedar Rapids working agreement clubs," Johnson said.

Helen Moody Is Named to U.S. Cup Team

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Helen Wills Moody will return to Wightman cup competition this summer for the first time in six years, it was revealed tonight by the United States Lawn Tennis association in announcing the makeup of the 1938 cup team.

Mrs. Moody definitly has determined upon a comeback campaign that will include the British and American singles tournaments, the U. S. L. T. A. announced, and has been named to a cup squad which includes Alice Marble, Helen Jacobs, Dorothy Bundy, and Gracyn Wheeler, all of California, and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan of Brookline, Mass. Miss Wheeler was chosen as alternate on the team.

Gives U. S. a Strong Team.

This combination includes five of the six top ranking singles players and gives the United States a strong hand for the cup matches against the British at Wimbledon June 10 and 11.

The Americans will be seeking their eighth successive cup triumph and their twelfth since the series was inaugurated in 1923. The British have won only four times.

Second Comeback.

Mrs. Moody's comeback, putting an end to all reports that she planned to turn professional, will be her second since a back injury forced her to default in a dramatic match with Helen Jacobs for the 1933 American singles title. She emerged from retirement in 1935 and startled the tennis world by defeating Miss Jacobs in the Wimbledon finals after trailing 2-5 in the third and decisive set.

Lou Brouillard Is Battered by Gus Lesnevich

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Gus Lesnevich of Edgewater, N. J., battered Lou Brouillard, former middleweight champion, into submission in a gruelling ten round bout at the Hippodrome tonight before about 1,200 fans. Brouillard weighed 163; Lesnevich, 165½.

The one time middleweight and welterweight champion never had a chance against the sharp hitting youngster. Lesnevich took every round except the fifth on the Associated Press score card and the fifth was even. He staggered Brouillard in the second and seventh and halted a last round rush with three stinging rights to the mid-section.

PLATAK, WEILLER ADVANCE IN A.A.U. HANDBALL PLAY

Memphis, Tenn., March 23.—(AP)—Roy Leu and Robert McGuire of San Francisco defeated Ben Moore and Louis Byall of Memphis, 21-3, 21-9, in the opening match of doubles competition in the National A. A. U. handball tourney today.

Joe Platak and Bob Weiller of Chicago defeated Carl Brown and Louis McWalters of Memphis, 21-9, 21-2, in tonight's opening match.

Kansas City's Jack Rawlings and Joe Matthew eliminated Herbert Silverson and Dudley Jefferson of Memphis, 21-1, 21-10, while Fred Miller and Clary Ehlers of Milwaukee defeated Eddie Sloan and James Patterson Jr. of Charlotte, N. C., 21-4, 21-9.

Durocher Enters Hospital; Physicians Fear Influenza

Clearwater, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—Leo Durocher, the Brooklyn Dodgers shortstop obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals in the winter trading, was taken to a hospital today for observation. He has been suffering from a heavy cold and physicians said influenza threatened.

GHEZZI SHOOTS 68 AND LEADS PINEHURST GOLF

Dudley, Nelson Tie, One Stroke Behind.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pinehurst, N. C., March 23.—Sig. Victor Ghezzi, the lank and swarthy Deal, N. J., professional who is rated as one of the handsomest gents in golf, today turned in a card as good looking as himself to take the first round lead in the thirty-sixth North and South golf tournament at the Pinehurst Country club.

The card fashioned by the 27 year old Jerseyman was composed of a pair of 34s for a 68, four under par for the No. 2 layout and one over the competitive course record. Ghezzi was up bright and early to do up his four birdies and fourteen pars.

Here's Some Competition.

Later in the day Ghezzi was notified by a couple of pretty good golfers that they will be right on his heels through tomorrow's second eighteen and Friday's final thirty-six. They were Ed Dudley of Augusta, Ga., and Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., who clicked as a team in last year's Ryder cup foursomes. Dudley swung over the No. 2 course in 35—34—69, and Nelson, playing what he called one of the luckiest rounds of his life, had a 34—35—69.

Just back of Dudley and Nelson came a trio of 70 shooters, any one of whom may well be champion come Friday night. They were Denny Shute of Boston, national professional titleholder; Bobby Cruickshank of Richmond, Va., and the young Leonard Dodson from Springfield, Mo.

Cooper, Revolta Well Up.

Chicago's delegation has a couple of able representatives still within reach for the remaining fifty-four holes. They are Harry Cooper, leading the score averages for the year, and Johnny Revolta, head of the money winners since Jan. 1. Each had a 73. Horton Smith, the defending champion, had a 74, as did Ky Laffoon. Tommy Armour and Frank Walsh were deadlocked at 75. Ralph Guldahl, national and western open champion, needed 79, while Johnny Bulla took an 82.

The amateur argument is providing one of the best fights of the show. Tommy Tailer of Newport, R. I., is in front with a 74, two shots ahead of the three headliners—George T. Dunlap Jr. of Pinehurst, N. C.; Ross Somerville of London, Ont., and Frankie Strafaci of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Par out	444	553	443—36
Par in—	544	443	534—36—72
Ghezzi—Out	444	453	343—34
Ghezzi—In	544	442	434—34—68
Dudley—Out	445	443	353—35
Dudley—In	544	433	434—34—69
Nelson—Out	354	443	443—34
Nelson—In	544	443	425—35—69

Vic Has a Good Day.

Ghezzi reached the fourth green in two for his first birdie and rolled home a ten footer for another at the seventh. In the first nine he blew chances for birdies at the fifth and ninth. A six footer for a deuce fell at the fifteenth, and he nearly chipped in for an eagle at the next green.

Dudley failed to hit the third green, but reached the next in two for a birdie. He overshot the eighth green, but came back and holed an eight foot putt at the 14th and was on the sixteenth in two.

Nelson got a birdie on the first with a ten footer, and then overshot the second. He was on the 476 yard fourth in two, and holed a 10 footer on the next after coming out of a bunker. He earned every par therefrom, to the turn, being in trouble on every hole. He was on the sixteenth green in two and then wound up with two very quaint holes.

Nelson Gets Funny.

His drive to the 186 yard seventeenth was buried in the sand, and he was permitted to move it, after which he holed out for a deuce.

His second to the home green wandered so far that it landed on the first tee, near an iron fence. The tournament committee ruled that he could move it two club lengths in order to swing. He was short on his first try, but his chip from off the edge hung on the lip of the cup.

GALAN'S TRIPLE, DOUBLE LEAD 14 HIT ATTACK

Whip Whitehead, Lee and Stratton.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 23.—The White Sox still are saying that spring exhibition games, at least in the spring of 1938, don't mean anything. This afternoon they took their fifth licking in as many games of their formal exhibition schedule when they were tanned for the third time by the Cubs, 6 to 4.

The White Sox, who did their early spring training on a prescription of reading, smoking and a bit of light running and easy tossing, continued to look aimless, spiritless, perplexed, punchless and a teeny bit unprepared for the violent exercise involved in vying with the aroused Cubs.

Stratton Stands Out.

Manager James Dykes used first string pitching against the Cubs for the first time. He started with Johnny Whitehead, who was maltreated for three runs and six hits in three innings. Thornton Lee was next and he, too, yielded three runs. Monty Stratton was the third Sox workman, and as anticipated, was the best pitcher in the arena. Monty, who pitched three perfect innings last Sunday, allowed two singles today and nothing more.

Larry French pitched the first four innings for the Cubs and was solved for one infield hit in the first inning and three which netted a run in the second inning. Bill Lee gave up a run on three hits in the fifth inning and two on two hits in the sixth. In the last three innings he suffered only one White Sox to get on base, Norm Schlueter, who walked with two out in the ninth.

Augie Galan, who made a homer, a triple, a double, and a single against the Sox yesterday, got four hits again today, but had to struggle along without a homer. The best Augie could do today was triple, a double, and two singles.

Owen Has Busy Day.

The White Sox offensive consisted almost exclusively of Marv Owen. The former Tiger figured in the first Sox run with a single, scored the second one after tripling, and drove in the other two with a single. The triple was a shot against the wall in deep left center under which Joe Marty crashed into the bricks with such force that he injured his right shoulder and had to leave the game.

Joe Kuhel made his bow as a member of the White Sox after arriving from Orlando, Fla., at 8 o'clock this morning. Joe started his endeavors with a single in the second inning, an accomplishment which was tempered somewhat by the fact that he fanned with two runners on base and none out in the sixth inning.

Sox Tie Score.

The Sox tied the score in the second inning, but needed three hits to do it. With one out, Kuhel singled to right, but was forced by Kreevich. Owen singled to left, Kreevich stopping at second, after which Sewell singled to center, scoring Kreevich.

A double, triple and three singles, knocked successively, were good for

The Calvert Distillers of San Francisco, Cal., rolled into second place in the five man event of the American Bowling congress at the Coliseum with a score of 3,023 on games of 970-951-1,102 late last night. They missed the lead by thirteen pins. A stubborn No. 6 pin which refused to fall for Elmer [Red] Irwin, an A. B. C. vice president, in the tenth frame cost the west coast team the lead.

In the final game, in which the Calverts rolled the second high team game of the meet, Juan Salcedo hit 203; Jim Toomey, 223; Walter Koetz, 249; Irwin, 201, and Ora Mayer, 226.

Several other scores that will cut into the $198,300 prize money were recorded, but leaders in the singles, doubles, and all-events classes held their positions. The Weingartens of Houston, Tex., took eighth in the five man competition with 2,947 on games of 860, 1,019, and 1,068.

I. A. C. Veterans Collect.

The best doubles total of the day was turned in by Edward Grosse and Arnold Prachthauser Jr. of Milwaukee, who piled up 1,251 on games of 411-430-410 for twelfth place in the event.

Two Illinois Athletic club veterans, Gil Porter and Dr. George Haley, turned in the second best doubles count, 1,232, on games of 398-384-450. The I. A. C. pair rolled into the prize class when Porter shot a consistent 203-203-213 series and Haley, president of the Monday division of the I. A. C. league, hit 195-181-237.

Eddie Koller of Wilmette moved into an enviable position in the race for all-events laurels when he collected a sparkling 1,336 total in his doubles and singles.

Pick 1939 Site Tomorrow.

Approximately 1,500 A. B. C. officers and delegates from coast to coast will attend the 38th annual convention in the Medinah club ballroom tomorrow. While the election of officers and discussions of rules and legislative problems will be on the agenda, the choosing of the site for the 1939 tournament will be the most important topic of day.

Buffalo and Cleveland are the leading bidders, but Detroit and St. Louis also are contenders.

At previous tournaments bowling has been suspended during the convention, but this year, owing to the heavy program, there will be no cessation of activities. Yesterday's leading scores:

Blueshirt Is Favorite in Steeplechase

AINTREE, England, March 23.—(AP)—Arthur Sainsbury's wild little gelding, Blueshirt, now a clear favorite to win Friday's 100th running of the Grand National steeplechase, threatened today to stir up the wildest betting panic in recent British racing history.

Coupled with Edward Esmond's Phakos on thousands of "doubles," Blueshirt will cost the bookies around $5,000,000 if she wins Friday as Phakos did in the Lincolnshire handicap today.

Royal Mail Second Choice.

In the next to last callover of odds at the Victoria club, the gelding was established at 100 to 12 as the favorite in the stiff test of four miles and 856 yards. Thus the earlier favorite, Mrs. Camille Clifford Evans' Royal Mail became the second choice at 10 to 1.

With Davy Jones, Freeman, Pencrauk, and Santa Luz scratched, it looked as if the field probably would be reduced to 33, the same as ran in 1937. The passing of Davy Jones was regretted because of his heartbreaking accident in 1936, when after sporting a long lead, he broke his rein at the last fence and ran out.

The crowd was expected to exceed 250,000, although the king and queen will not attend.

Of the four American-owned horses still on the starting list, most interest centered about J. B. Snow's Delachance. In a last-minute announcement, Trainer G. Beeby said Delachance's regular jocky, Fulke Walwyn, would not ride the horse in the race because he has not recovered from a fall he suffered Feb. 19. Instead, Beeby said, J. Maloney, was given the nomination.

In the late callover, Delachance's odds were shortened slightly from 15-1 to 100 to 7. The Snow entry is the fourth favorite in the race, trailing Blueshirt, Royal Mail, and James V. Rank's Cooleen, 100-8 shot.

Phakos Falters at Start.

Phakos, showing no signs of an old knee injury, overcame a faltering start today to win the Lincolnshire, the first big event of the 1938 racing season.

The bay son of Pharos-Phi Phi stepped to the front a quarter mile from the end of the mile journey and then withstood a final challenge to lead Z. G. Michalinos' Zaimis across the finish line by three-quarters of a length. Phakos' time of 1:41.8 was only three-fifths of a second short of the record for the event. Lord Pender's Kyles of Mindard took third money in the field of 27.

Indict 23 in $80,000,000 Tip Swindle

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—The offices of fifteen race horse tip services and magazines were raided by detectives and federal agents today as the federal grand jury indicted twenty-three defendants on charges of conspiracy and mail fraud in an alleged turf tip swindle amounting to more than $80,000,000.

United States Attorney Lamar Hardy said the indicted group mulcted "clients" of $500,000 to $750,000 a year.

He charged the group, which has been operating seventeen years, was headed by Jacob Adelman of Brooklyn. Others indicted with Adelman included his four brothers and eight brothers-in-law.

Mr. Hardy declared that the group, which had a sucker list of more than 15,000 names, published four turf magazines to advertise the horse race tipping services the ring operated under 107 fictitious names.

The magazines are Thorp Racing Weekly, Supreme Flash, Track Cracks, and Clocker's Review.

SKATE STARS TO RACE IN C. Y. O. MEET IN ARENA

A speedy group of skaters will take part in the national indoor speed skating meet and ice pageant, sponsored by the Catholic Youth Organization in the Chicago arena on the nights of April 1 and 2.

Three speedsters, Leo Freisinger and Madeline Horn, defending national champions, and Marvin Swanson, who competed in the world championship races in Europe, are preparing for next week's meet.

In addition to these three Vic Ronchetti, national and North American outdoor champion; Mary Dolan of Minneapolis, women's national outdoor queen; Eleanor Thiel Dyer, women's North American indoor ruler; Bob Peterson, who was a member of the United States Olympic team in 1936; Bob Hackenbach, Silver Skates Derby winner and runner-up to Ronchetti for the national title this year; Janet Milne of Saranac Lake, N. Y., women North American outdoor title holder, and Elaine Bogda, Illinois state champion.

CELTICS' RECORD ENDANGERED BY GLOBE TROTTERS

The New York Celtics' record of never having been beaten by a colored quintet in Chicago is in danger. The Celtics play the Harlem Globe Trotters tomorrow night in White City arena. The National Professional Basketball association is to award the winner a trophy.

The B. B. R.'s play the Wabash Y. M. C. A.'s and the Cyncos meet the Off the Street Boys' club in preliminary games.

Spartas Play Racine Team in Warmup for Title Series

The Sparta soccer team will play the Deutscher Sport club of Racine, Wis., Sunday in Sparta stadium. The Spartas are preparing for their national championship series with the eastern title holders.

AGREE ON RULES FOR LOUIS AND THOMAS FIGHT

Contracts Not Yet Filed with Commission.

Rules under which Joe Louis will defend his heavyweight title against Harry Thomas in the Stadium on April 1 were agreed upon yesterday at a special meeting of the Illinois boxing commission.

Formal inspection was made of the gloves to be used. The rival contestants fitted the gloves, which weigh 6⅛ ounces, in the presence of Joe Triner, commission chairman, and Commissioner J. R. Fitzpatrick. The gloves first were examined and approved by the fighters last Saturday.

The no foul rule will be in force. In event of a low blow the referee will confer with the judges as to whether the boxer guilty of the foul should lose the round.

If a boxer is knocked down on the ring apron he will receive a ten count, the same when floored inside the ropes. A twenty count will apply if either is knocked out of the ring.

Contracts Not Filed.

Chairman Triner revealed that contracts of the windup principals and contestants in the five preliminary matches have not yet been filed with the commission. He explained, however, that Promoters Mike Jacobs and James Norris have until Monday [the rules specify contracts must be posted five days in advance of a show] to deliver the agreements. These documents will be available after Promoter Jacobs approves them on his arrival from Detroit today. He was reported to be conferring with civic leaders there about the availability of Detroit as the site for Louis' next engagement, probably against Maurice Strickland, late next month.

Louis' contract says he will receive 40 per cent of the net receipts. Thomas will be paid 12½ per cent. These percentages include an estimated $10,000 revenue from radio and movie rights. There is a clause guaranteeing Louis a rematch if Thomas wins.

Challenger Drills.

After the ceremonies, a necessary item in connection with big fights, Louis returned to rest at his home on the south side and the challenger worked out in Trafton's gymnasium. Thomas went six rounds, two each with Bruno Dooley, Bernie Bowman and Jack Fargo. He floored Dooley twice.

Abe Simon vs. Elza Thompson [6], heavyweights.
Buddy Knox vs. George Nicholson [6] heavyweights.
Alex Kettles vs. Russ Wasser [6], heavyweights.

Both Louis and Thomas will be on the job this afternoon.

WOLFSON NAMED NORTHWESTERN SWIM CAPTAIN

Harb Wolfson, a graduate of Sullivan High school, Chicago, was elected captain of Northwestern university's swimming team last night at the North Shore hotel. Wolfson, a junior was high scorer on the Wildcat team this year, competing in the 50 and 100 yard free style events.

Dan Zehr, retiring captain, will leave by plane today for Rutgers university where he will compete tomorrow in the national intercollegiate swimming championships. Zehr will not enter his specialty, the backstroke, because of a shoulder injury. He will enter the 220 and 440 yard free style events in which he was a place winner in the Big Ten meet.

WALTHER TEAMS OPEN PLAY FOR TITLE TOMORROW

Tournament basketball play will commence tomorrow evening for thirty-two Walther league sectional winners. Four games are on the opening schedule in Concordia college gymnasium. A field of ninety-five teams have been fighting for tournament places since December. The thirty-two entrants represent first end second place zone winners.

8—St. John of Forest Park vs. St. Luke of Itasca.
9—St. John of Mayfair vs. Westmont.

ARENA PLAYERS NAMED TO FACE WISCONSIN STARS

Can Ali Baba Go to Town in Londos Bout?

Jim Londos and Ali Baba will be meeting for the second time in the Coliseum north hall tomorrow. A few weeks ago Baba went the scheduled distance with the former heavyweight wrestling champion. Although Londos won the decision his squat, bemustached opponent is proud of the fact that he wasn't thrown.

"I'll give Londos a hard battle again," boasted the former United States sailor after he ended drills yesterday. Baba owns $40,000 worth of property in California. He never tires of relating this apparent proof of his prosperity. "Sometimes I pay $25 a day for room in New York hotel," he said, beating his hairy chest.

John Henry Lewis, light heavyweight champion, sparred three rounds yesterday in Trafton's gymnasium, two with Elza Thompson and one with Young Jack Blackburn, and then left for St. Paul for a ten round overnight contest with Bud Mignault in that city tomorrow.

ATHLETICS SCORE 10 IN 1ST; ROUT GIANTS, 19 TO 9

Bob Johnson Hits Triple with Bases Filled.

Baton Rouge, La., March 23.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics fired their totally unexpected big guns at the New York Giants for the second straight day today and clubbed out a 19 to 9 exhibition victory.

They started out with ten runs in the first inning at the expense of young Tom Baker by coupling five walks and six hits, among them Bob Johnson's triple with the bases loaded. Dick Coffman was touched for five more runs in the fourth and after that it didn't matter.

TIGERS, 9; SENATORS, 4.

Orlando, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—Detroit came from behind today to defeat Washington, 9 to 4, in ten innings.

Trailing, 4 to 0, in the sixth, the Tigers put over three runs on two doubles and two singles. They tied the score in the ninth on Rookie Mark Cristman's hit, and then scored five more runs in the tenth. Score:

YANKS WHIP BEES.

Bradenton, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—The New York Yankees took advantage of wildness on the part of opposition pitchers today to whip the Boston Bees, 6 to 2.

While Atley Donald and Joe Vance baffled the Bees the Yanks broke up the pitching battle by scoring two runs in each of the last three innings, when Bill Weir and Dick Errickson lost control. Through the first five innings Johnny Niggeling blanked the Yanks with four hits. Score:

New York [A.]......000 000 222—6 8 1

INDIANS BEATEN.

Lafayette, La., March 23.—(AP)—Jersey City shaded Cleveland, 9 to 8, today. The Indians held a four run lead when Jersey City scored seven runs in the eighth inning off Johnny Humphries on four passes, four hits, and an error.

Jersey City [I. L.].000 000 27*—9 10 2

DODGERS OUTLAST REDS.

Clearwater, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, paced by Kiki Cuyler's pair of home runs, barely outlasted the Cincinnati Reds today to win, 14 to 13.

Cuyler hit his first homer with a man aboard in the first inning and his second in the second with the bases empty. The Dodgers battered Ted Kleinhans for five runs in the first and landed on Rookies Harkader and O'Flynn for seven more in the seventh.

BROWNS WIN, 4-0.

Laredo, Tex., March 23.—(AP)—After being held to four hits in six innings the Browns scored three runs in the seventh and swept a two game series with the San Antonio Missions today, 4 to 0. A triple by Don Heffner, scoring Sammy West and Roy Hughes, followed by Ethan Allen's double, scoring Heffner, broke the deadlock. Heffner scored another run in ninth.

St. Louis [A.] ....000 000 301—4 10 1
San Antonio [T. L.].000 000 000—0 4 2

RED SOX ESCAPE SHUTOUT.

Sebring, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—A home run by Leo Nonnenkamp, a recruit, today saved the Boston Red Sox from a shutout at the hands of the minor league Newark Bears. The Bears won, 8 to 2, scoring five runs in the second inning.

only two runs in the Cub third. With one out French doubled off the left field wall and scored on Galan's triple off the base of the right field screen. Herman singled, scoring Galan. Cavarretta and Demaree both hit outfield singles, but on Demaree's effort, Herman stopped at third and the bases were loaded. Marty then hit into a double play, Appling to Hayes to Kuhel.

T. Lee Has Trouble.

Thornton Lee disposed of the Cubs in order in his first turn, the fourth, but got touched up somewhat in the fifth. Reynolds, batting for French, singled to center and reached second on a passed ball. Galan fanned, then Herman walked. Cavarretta singled to center, but Reynolds was out at the plate, Rosenthal to Sewell. Demaree doubled to center, Herman scoring and Cavarretta stopping at third. Marty beat out a high bouncer toward third, Cavarretta scoring. Hack then flied to Walker.

The sixth inning saw the Cubs make one run and the Sox two. Jurges opened the Cub half with a single to left, and was forced by O'Dea, who went to second on Bill Lee's tap in front of the plate, and scored on Galan's third hit, a single to right.

Walker opened the Sox half with a dribbler in front of the plate and Appling walked. Kuhel fanned and Herman threw out Kreevich. Owen came through with his third straight essential hit, this time a single which scored Walker and Appling.

ACT TO COLLECT ARLINGTON PARK OVERDUE TAXES

Appointment of a tax receiver was requested by the civil division of the state's attorney's office in the County court yesterday in an effort to collect $49,745 in taxes from the Arlington Park Jocky club. The suit covers unpaid general taxes for the years 1929 to 1935, inclusive.

Partial payments, amounting to approximately half of the total assessment, have been made annually, the petition, prepared by Assistant State's Attorney John T. Fitzgerald, sets forth.

Arlington Park officials described the suit and their failure to meet the entire assessment each year as a routine policy to effect a settlement which would be recorded with the court, thus precluding the possibility of later litigation.

No date has been set for the hearing. It was indicated the $49,745 would be paid at the direction of the court when the case is called.

Sox Return to Calisthenics as Cubs Play Angels

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 23.—Manager Charles Grimm thinks his Cub regulars have had enough work, so he will reward them with a day off tomorrow. There is an exhibition game with Los Angeles to be disposed of, but this will be taken care of by the Yanigans, who will be presented as follows: Mattick, ss; Lazzeri, 2b; Mesner, 3b; Asbell, lf; Triplett, rf; Collins, 1b; Stainback, cf; Garbark, c; Epperly and Logan, p.

The White Sox have no exhibition date to fill for the next couple of days. They'll spend their time at their Pasadena camp, engaging in the usual training maneuvers. They haven't had time to get themselves in physical condition, but that is nothing to fret over. The season doesn't open until April 19.

Some of the terrific extra base hitting which has been going on in the games at Wrigley field here is easily explained. The Pacific Coast league ball is being used and it is a very lively object.

Walter Kirby Higbe, the young Cub pitcher who made three unsuccessful starts for the training camp, finally has been told to remain at his Columbia, S. C., home and await orders. Higbe's first start got him as far as Chicago, but at the last minute he hustled home because his wife was ill. His next start finished at Knoxville, Tenn., where he was taken ill, supposedly. In his third start he went as far as Spartansburg, S. C., before turning back. Eventually he'll be shipped to some minor league.

When Joe Kuhel, the new first baseman, reported to the White Sox today, he confessed he was glad to get away from Washington. Kuhel didn't reveal the cause of his discontent there, but admited he was slightly ill last December when he read reports from Chicago that the proposed trade for Zeke Bonura had fallen through.

Jack Doyle, one of the Cub scouts, is snooping around the National league camps in Florida in quest of trades, but apparently has discovered nothing of a startling nature. At least he hasn't communicated with Manager Grimm or Clarence Rowland, chief of the trade department.

The Cubs have that old college spirit. When Joe Marty crashed into the wall in pursuit of Marvin Owen's drive in the fifth, every Cub on the bench charged out to assist him.

Mrs.Jameson Gets Divorce; She's Jane Cothran Again

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—Jane Cothran Jameson, the golfer, obtained a divorce today from Miles Finley Jameson of Greenville, S. C. Her former name, Jane Sirrine Cothran, was restored.

Plan Classes for Owners of Spaniels

BY BOB BECKER.

The only training classes for springer spaniel owners anywhere in the middle west will open next Sunday, according to an announcement made yesterday by Charles S. Goodall, an officer of the English Springer Spaniel Field Trial Club of Illinois. This club will sponsor the classes.

Springer spaniel enthusiasts who want to learn how to train their dogs for hunting and for field trials which are held here in Chicagoland every autumn are being advised that this first meeting will be held in the city hall, Aurora, Ill., Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. Those wishing to attend will not be required to bring their dogs with them, as Sunday will be devoted to organization details, motion pictures of springer spaniels at work in the field on game, and a demonstration of a trained Springer Spaniel.

Spaniel to Perform.

A. P. Moecher of Aurora, secretary of the spaniel club, again will have charge of the training class. Following the Sunday afternoon meeting in the Aurora city hall Moecher will use his field trial champion springer, Busy of Ashaba, to put on a demonstration of how a trained spaniel works ahead of a gun, how it responds to vocal and hand signals, drops to shot and flush, and other points which the spaniel must master to be efficient on a hunting trip or in a field trial.

These training classes for spaniel owners will continue through the spring and summer. Meetings are held near Aurora in the open where dogs and their owners have an opportunity to demonstrate what they have learned in the classes.

All Owners Invited.

Any springer spaniel owner interested in learning how to train his dog for hunting and field trials is invited to attend the meeting Sunday in Aurora. Those wishing further details of the class, how often it meets during the season and how it is conducted, are advised to contact either Charles S. Goodall, 745 Chicago avenue, Downers Grove, Ill., or A. P. Moecher, the class instructor, North Farnsworth, Aurora, Ill.

May Stops Zale in 4th Round of Armory Bout

CHICAGO DISTRICT OPEN IS SET; PRIZE REDUCED TO $5,000

The second annual Chicago district open golf tournament will be held at Olympia Fields Country club July 22, 23, and 24, the Chicago District Golf association announced yesterday. The prize money last year totaled $10,000, but this year's event will be worth $5,000. The 1937 tournament, won by Gene Sarazen, was held at Medinah Country club.

Hannin Wins B'nai B'rith Title, 25 to 24

Three championships of the annual B'nai B'rith Youth Organization city-wide basketball touranament were decided last night at the Boy's Brotherhood of Republic.

In the 105 pound division, the Hannin Periods triumphed over the Albany Park Boy's club, 25 to 24, in overtime. Albany led, 19 to 18, at the close of third quarter and the score was tied at 24 to 24 at the end of the game. In the extra period Milt Smitossky, a guard, made a free throw to decide the title.

The Morovitz Hebrews won the heavyweight championship by beating the Bronze Memorials, 53 to 48. A. Rottner of the losers was the high scorer with sixteen points.

DRILLON WINS HOCKY LEAGUE SCORING TITLE

Toronto Star Beats Apps, Teammate, by 2 Points.

Montreal, Que., March 23.—(AP)—By a margin of two points, Gordon Drillon, Toronto's sharpshooting sophomore, won the National Hocky league's individual scoring honors for the regular season just completed. He made twenty-six goals and twenty-six assists for fifty-two points.

Drillon scored two goals and two assists during the final week to maintain his slim edge over his teammate and rival, Syl Apps, who finished in second place. Paul Thompson of Chicago's Blackhawks, heading the league's American division, finished in third place with forty-four points.

Drillon held the league's scoring lead almost from the start of the season and finished in the lead after fighting off challenges by Apps and Cecil Dillion of the New York Rangers, who slumped in the late weeks and finished in a tie for fifth with thirty-nine points. Sweeney Schriner of the New York Americans, leader for the two previous years, dropped to seventh with thirty-eight points. Drillon led the league in goals with twenty-six.

Red Horner of Toronto wound up as the league leader in penalties. He spent eighty-two minutes in the penalty box during the season. The scoring leaders:

MILLIONS SAY: "THE MOST ENJOYABLE CIGAR WE'VE EVER SMOKED"

- More than 10,000 cigar dealers were recently asked: "What is your largest-selling cigar—and why?" 8 out of every 10 of these dealers answered "PHILLIES".

The reason they gave was this: "Most of our customers say PHILLIES is the most enjoyable cigar they have ever smoked."

If you can't say the same thing about the cigar you smoke—here's a suggestion. The very next time you enter a store selling cigars—look for the box of PHILLIES with the big, blue band across the lid. Then say to yourself: "Any cigar that pleases such a big per cent of cigar smokers must be good. I certainly owe it to myself to try a few."

Do this and we guarantee you'll discover something new in the enjoyment you get for your money.

ACT TO PROTECT FARMERS FROM MEAT IMPORTS

Marketing Group O. K.'s Increased Duties.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

American farmers are alarmed over the danger of an increase in the importation of foreign beef and pork as a result of the federal agricultural program under the new farm law, inadequate tariffs, and New Deal trade agreements. Definite steps to protect farmers were taken by the board of directors of the National Live Stock Marketing association at their annual meeting in the Sherman hotel yesterday.

The directors passed a resolution approving the action of the house of representatives in placing excise taxes of 6 cents a pound on preserved and fresh pork and 3 cents a pound on beef products. This would result in forcing importers to pay 9¼ cents a pound on foreign pork and 6 cents a pound on foreign beef sold in this country.

Need Additional Protection.

The reasoning back of the resolution is that farmers would need additional protection against foreign pork and beef if the new farm law raises the price of corn, hogs, and cattle to artificially high levels, as is anticipated by the proponents of the legislation.

The National's board, representing twenty-three terminal live stock marketing agencies that sold coöperatively more than 184½ million dollars' worth of farm animals last year, also opposed in a resolution reciprocal trade agreements unless they are ratified by the senate.

This resolution is designed to encourage senators to reassert their authority in connection with the signing of trade agreements that work a hardship on American farmers. In 1934 a law was passed giving the executive branch of the government, through the secretary of state, the power to negotiate foreign trade agreements. Officials of the National want this authority given back to the senate so that in the future trade agreements may be passed on by representatives of the farmers.

Ask Sanitary Regulations.

As a further means of protecting live stock farmers the board members ask for strict sanitary regulations, the same as those prevailing in the United States, on importations of live stock and live stock products. They support the provisions prohibiting importers from bringing in live stock and its products from any country where animals are found to be infected with foot and mouth disease, rinderpest, and all other infectious and contagious diseases.

P. O. Wilson, general manager of the National, reported that the sale of live stock by the organization's member agencies was the largest since the agency was established eight years ago.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

The New Farm Law.

March 23, 1938.

UNDER authority of the new farm law the secretary of agriculture has asked southern planters to reduce their cotton crops this year to 26,930,000 acres. That is about 14¼ million acres under the average during the five year period from 1928 to 1932. It is more than 7½ million acres less than were harvested last year.

The secretary of agriculture expects a crop of 10 to 11 million bales of cotton from this year's allotted acreage. Growers harvested 18,74?,000 bales last year.

The secretary's cotton acreage allotment of nearly 27 million acres for 1938 is being broken down into state, county, local, and individual farm allotments. Each farmer will be told how much cotton he can produce this year. If planters follow the secretary's orders they will reduce their cotton acreage and plant other crops according to the government's agricultural adjustment plan and thereby qualify for subsidy checks to be paid out of a federal fund of $440,000,000. If they fail to coöperate they will not receive checks under the federal soil law.

Carryovers Are Big.

Officials have ordered a heavy cut in the cotton acreage this year because of big carryovers from previous years. Last year's crop was the biggest on record. The total supply for this year is expected to be so large that a marketing quota will be put into effect under provisions of the farm law. This marketing quota plan will require cotton growers to withhold from the market a certain amount of their cotton crop, beginning with the next marketing year, which starts Aug. 1.

More than 90 per cent of the growers voting in a recent referendum favored the marketing quota plan for cotton.

In future years marketing quotas become effective when the secretary of agriculture finds that the total supply of cotton for any marketing year exceeds by more than 7 per cent the normal supply. After this year the secretary is to make his findings known not later than Nov. 15. If one-third of the growers voting oppose a marketing quota it will not become effective.

These provisions of the law concerning acreage allotments and marketing quotas for cotton do not apply to cotton where the staple is 1⅛ inches or more in length.

Loan Program Included.

The federal government's Commodity Credit corporation is directed to make available loans in the cotton states to growers who coöperate under the AAA program and plant crops and follow cropping practices approved by the government. These loans are to be made when the average price on Aug. 1 of seven-eighths middling spot cotton on the ten markets designated by the secretary of agriculture is below 52 per cent of parity, or the August crop estimate for cotton is in excess of a normal year's domestic consumption and exports.

The loan rate on cotton is to be not less than 52 and not more than 75 per cent of parity price of cotton as of the beginning of the marketing year. The marketing year for cotton is from Aug. 1 to July 31.

Parity as applied to cotton is considered that price for cotton that would give the planter a purchasing power in nonagricultural goods equivalent to the purchasing power of cotton from August, 1909, to July, 1914.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Lighter receipts reversed the trend of the hog market yesterday. Advances ranged from 5 cents per hundred pounds in top grades to as much as 25 cents in heavy butchers. The top and average prices, $9.40 and $9.10, respectively, were only 30 cents apart, equal to the narrowest midweek spread since Dec. 1.

Most of Monday's losses in cattle have been recovered in the last two days of trading. Yesterday's extremely light receipts resulted in another sellers' market, with prices strong to 25 cents higher.

Slaughter lambs dipped 25 cents to the lowest levels in a month. Most sales were $1.00 under Wednesday of last week. Top loads brought $8.50.

COTTON

Cotton prices recovered late to overcome a sharp early decline yesterday. The early selling was attributed to weakness in securities and some pressure from Bombay. The trade and shorts bought on the decline and later there was a fair rally in sympathy with the recovery of stocks. Closing trades on the Chicago Board of Trade were .02 to .06 cent higher on the active future. Other American markets were .01 to .06 cent a pound higher.

Spot cotton closed unchanged, with New Orleans, 8.85 cents; New York, 8.65 cents, and Galveston and Houston at 8.45 cents a pound. Prices follow:

SWIFT'S FOREIGN PLANTS REPORT HIGHER PROFITS

Some Other Firms Also Show Gains.

Compania Swift Internacional, which operates foreign plants of Swift & Co., packers, yesterday reported an increase in profits for 1937. Consolidated net earnings for the year amounted to $7,155,890 [Argentine gold] compared with $5,640,204 in 1936. The equivalent in American dollars was about $4,770,000, or $3.20 a capital share, in 1937, compared with $3,760,000, or $2.50 a share, in 1936.

Charles H. Swift.

Charles H. Swift, president, informed stockholders in the annual report that inventories increased by $6,416,621 [Argentine gold] to $35,677,574, "due partly to higher costs, but chiefly to larger stocks and new lines of products."

To finance the heavier inventories, Swift said, the company sold securities totaling $3,613,187, reducing securities holdings to $6,293,067 [Argentine gold. The company has adopted for its report the free market rates of exchange for the Argentine gold peso effective Dec. 31, 1937. This was $149.51 Argentine gold to 100 United States dollars.]

Import Duty New Factor.

Swift said that although 1937 was the first year in which foreign meat imported into the United Kingdom was subject to import duty, conditions in the kingdom showed "general improvement." Commenting on the European outlook, he said:

"The situation in Europe still is unsettled, and although our sales in continental countries are substantial, the resumption of normal conditions in Europe would afford us a wider outlet, and would be an encouragement to international trade generally."

For the twelve months ended Feb. 28, the Public Service corporation of New Jersey reported consolidated net income of $23,842,993, equal after preferred dividends to $2.54 a common share. This compared with net in the preceding twelve months to $24,910,933 or $2.73 a share.

United States Smelting, Refining and Mining company reported net profit for 1937 amounted to $6,653,324, equal after preferred dividend requirements to $9.48 a common share, compared with 1936 net profit of $5,455,276 or $7.22 a share. The company's properties are in western United States and in Mexico.

Air Reduction Earns More.

The Air Reduction Company, Inc., and its wholly owned subsidiaries had 1937 net profit of $7,326,835 after all charges, including federal taxes, which were the largest in the company's history, the annual statement said. The earnings were equivalent to $2.85 each on 2,566,191 shares of capital stock outstanding. Net profit in 1936 was $7,064,553, or $2.79 each on 2,532,065 shares.

The Public Service Company of Indiana reported 1937 net income of $871,933, compared with $567,978 in 1936. However, the company lacked $193,520 of earning preferred dividend requirements.

Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron company last year had net income of $1,474,827 or $11.19 a share. This compared with net in the preceding year of $863,463 or $4.14 a share.

Plymouth Oil company had 1937 consolidated net earnings of $2,935,342 or $2.85 a share on the capital stock against net in 1936 of $1,739,681 or $1.65 a share.

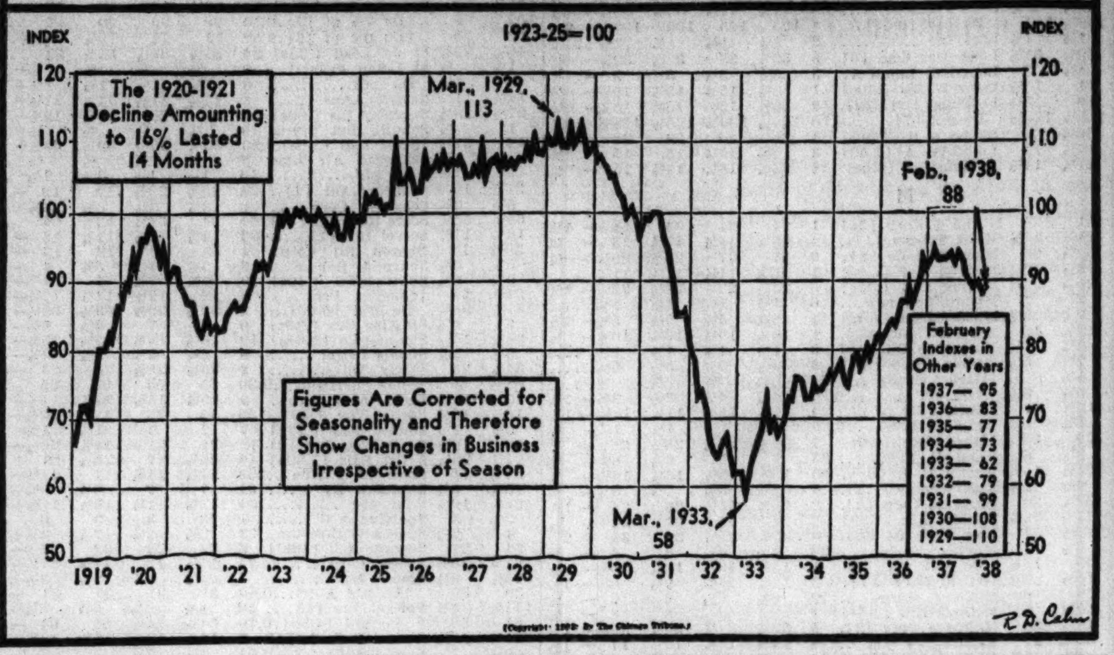
New York, March 23.—[Special.]—The adjourned annual meeting of the Utilities Power and Light corporation, scheduled to be held today, has again been postponed, this time to March 30.

2 Plants Open; 16,500 Buick and Fisher Workers Return

Flint, Mich., March 23.—(AP)—The Buick plant and Fisher Body corporation plant No. 1 reopened today after a one week shutdown. Approximately 12,000 men returned at Buick and 4,500 at the Fisher plant.

Department Store Sales in the United States as Reported by the Federal Reserve Board



U. S. Suspends Butter Buying at Chicago

The federal government has suspended its butter buying program in the Chicago cash market this week because of an Illinois state ruling that makes government purchases subject to the Illinois retailers' occupation tax, it was learned yesterday.

If the tax ruling is held valid Chicago traders who have sold nearly 900,000 pounds of butter to the Federal Surplus Commodity corporation since Feb. 1, will be liable for $7,950 under the occupational levy—3 per cent of the total amount, $265,000.

Although the ruling by the state department of finance lifting the tax exemption provision from government transactions became effective Feb. 1, attention was not called to its effect on the butter buying until this week.

Exchange Makes Ruling.

The Chicago Mercantile exchange, in whose spot market the FSCC has been making all Chicago butter purchases ruled Monday that traders selling butter could ask the purchaser to give a certificate saying the purchase was being made for resale purposes.

Under the Illinois occupational tax law the 3 per cent levy must be paid by the seller involved in the last cash transaction taking place before consumption of the product. Because the government is buying butter for relief and not for resale, its purchases actually are the "last cash" transactions before consumption.

M. Porges, assistant attorney general of the state department of finance, said yesterday that apparently sellers of butter to the FSCC would be liable under the department's ruling of Feb. 1.

The department, which had previously specifically exempted federal government transactions from the state occupational tax, changed its ruling Feb. 1 as the result of a United States Supreme court decision made last December.

Purchases Made in East.

This week the FSCC has been purchasing butter and also eggs in the New York market, but not here.

Traders on the mercantile exchange said yesterday that if butter prices were raised in an attempt to absorb the tax the FSCC could buy in neighboring states at a saving.

Cash prices for undergrades of butter showed losses up to ½ cent, and "extras," which the government had been buying at 29½ cents, slipped to a 29¼ to 29½ cent range.

LARGE DECREASE IN RAILROAD CAR USE PREDICTED

Toledo, O., March 23.—[Special.]—A decrease of 44.7 per cent in railroad car requirements for the second quarter of the year in the Great Lakes area was predicted today at the annual meeting of the Great Lakes Regional Advisory board.

A. H. Gass of Detroit, district manager of the American Car Service bureau, estimated that 305,539 cars will adequately handle the quarter's business. In the same quarter last year 549,321 cars were used. The estimate is based on present conditions, he pointed out.

Standard to Raise Gasoline Price to Meet Freight Hike

The Standard Oil Company of Indiana will advance gasoline prices from 2-10ths to 3-10ths of a cent a gallon, effective Monday, to absorb the recently granted increase in railroad freight rates, officials announced yesterday. Because the freight rate is figured to the nearest 1-10th cent per gallon, the price change will vary at different points according to the distance the products are shipped.

Group Life Insurance Premiums Exempt from Tax

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—Companies which give group life insurance policies to their employés do not have to pay social security taxes on the insurance premiums, the internal revenue bureau said today. The cost of the insurance should not be considered as wages paid to employés, the bureau said, because the employés have no equity in the policies.

STEEL ORDERS EXCEED SHIPMENTS FIRST TIME SINCE EARLY IN 1937

Orders for steel are running ahead of shipments, probably for the first time since the first half of last year, Iron Age said yesterday in reporting that the industry is operating at 34 per cent of capacity and producing ingots at the highest rate since the middle of November.

"Although this change of trend is too small to be highly significant," the publication said, "the industry derives some encouragement from even a minor release from the stalemate of recent months.

Excepting Ford, auto manufacturers' inventories are much reduced and fairly substantial steel buying is expected next month."

"The Chicago territory, where both steel products and consuming interests are widely diversified, has shown perhaps the most marked increase in new steel buying in the last week," said the publication. "One producer there reports a 20 per cent gain in orders over the previous week and expects a lift in its steel ingot production of 10 points within two weeks. The rate for the entire district is up 1½ points to 31½ per cent, two mills showing an advance.

SMALL BUSINESS NEEDS U. S. AID, ROPER ASSERTS

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—Secretary of Commerce Roper has transmitted to President Roosevelt, congress, and several government departments an analysis of 3,900 letters received from the nation's small business men. The analysis contained no recommendations, but Roper told questioners he believed the business men need immediate government assistance.

He said completion of the analysis reversed the opinion he previously voiced that the little business men seemed to suggest everything except "self-help."

Most of the letter writers, he said, contended "that the banking system, including private and official agencies, failed to meet the needs of the small business man. A number held that the difficulty was in the severity of national banking regulations and the restrictions imposed by bank examiners, especially those of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation."

The letters also urged lower taxes, less competition from chain stores, and a more stable federal policy.

SEC IS AIDING STOCK EXCHANGE TO REORGANIZE

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—Coöperation between the New York Stock exchange and the Securities and Exchange commission in carrying forward the proposed program for reorganization of the exchange was strongly indicated tonight after William O. Douglas, chairman of the SEC, conferred for more than two hours with Robert B. Flinn, chairman, and Robert J. Hamerschlag and John W. Walters, members of the exchange's nomination committee. The conference was sought by the representatives of the stock exchange.

It was said that no names of possible nominees for governor were mentioned at the conference and that Douglas informed the exchange representatives that the commission had no slate of candidates for the board or for other positions. The selection of such candidates, it was emphasized, was in the hands of the exchange.

Douglas characterized as "utterly false" rumors that the SEC believed members of the so-called "old guard" should be returned to positions on the board of governors because their experience was necessary or desirable.

Plan to Shut Mill Unless Union Approves Pay Cuts

Apollo, Pa., March 23.—(AP)—A. M. Oppenheimer, president of the Apollo Steel company, said today the company will close its Apollo mill, April 1, unless the Steel Workers Organizing committee [C. I. O.] agrees to wage cuts. Approximately 1,000 are employed at the plant. The company's contract with the C. I. O. union expired last month but was extended pending negotiations for renewal. Union officials announced that workers voted against accepting any reduction.

Armaments Aid Sales of Plane Makers

The "boom" effect of bigger government armament programs on aircraft producers is indicated in the annual report for 1937 issued yesterday by the Glenn L. Martin company, Baltimore, Md., manufacturer of airplanes, largely for military use.

Glenn L. Martin.

The Martin company in 1937 had the highest sales and profits in its history, and entered 1938 with a backlog of undelivered orders of $17,624,576—largest backlog on record and more than twice the total sales for all of last year.

Earns $1.32 a Share.

Net income last year amounted to $1,144,858, or $1.32 a capital share, compared with 1936 net income of $732,652, or 87 cents a share, and a loss of $318,364 in 1935. Net sales in 1937 totaled $7,839,356 against $6,219,774 in 1936 and $1,754,701 in 1935.

Glenn L. Martin, president, told stockholders that a breakdown of the backlog of orders showed $10,922,002 of foreign contracts, $6,151,538 of United States government contracts, and $551,036 miscellaneous and spare parts orders. In December, 1937, the navy department awarded the company a contract to build twenty-one seaplanes for $5,299,538.

Company Expands Plants.

To meet the needs of its expanding business, the company in 1937 built a three story engineering and laboratory building, and enlarged its factory facilities, bringing the gross floor area of its expanded quarters to 753,474 square feet.

"The market for aircraft is expanding throughout the world," Martin told stockholders. "The importance given to military types in the national defense programs of all countries is rapidly increasing, while the economic demand for the benefits of air transportation is developing a permanent and continuing market for commercial aircraft equipment."

The company, which made the China Clipper and her sister ships, the Hawaiian and Philippine Clippers, is progressing with the development of large flying boats for ocean service, Martin said. In January, 1938, delivery was made of a $690,000 flying boat, which would carry a payload three times as large as that of the China Clipper, he said.

$208,288 IN FEES ARE APPROVED IN HOTEL 77-B CASE

Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan yesterday approved the payment of $208,288 in fees, expenses, and other items in connection with the 77-B reorganization of Lott Hotels, Inc., recently declared effective by the court.

The largest payment authorized went to the bondholders' committee composed of Chester R. Davis, James B. McCahey, and Murray Wolbach. The committee was awarded $103,299. The court allowed $23,000 for Defrees, Buckingham, Jones & Hoffman, counsel for the committee.

Other allowances include: John Jay Fox, trustee, $9,965; Poppenhusen, Johnston, Thompson & Raymond, attorneys for trustee, $17,000; Michael F. Ryan, also counsel for trustee, $5,200; Harris F. Williams, attorney for debtor, $23,631; A. J. Schanfarber, attorney for noteholders, $7,078; Levinson & Levinson and Silvester E. Quindry, attorneys for a group of bondholders, $1,500; Schwartz & Cooper, bondholder attorneys, $2,000; Charles H. Albers, trustee for bond issue, $3,500; Charles A. MacDonald, special master, $7,500.

Coal Operators Called to Price Fixing Meeting

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—The Bituninous Coal commission ordered all district operators' boards today to send representatives here March 30 to discuss procedure for establishing new minimum soft coal prices. J. O. Smith of Cincinnati, head of the commision's marketing division, resigned to return to the industry. Newell W. Roberts of New York, an engineer and formerly an NRA coal expert, was made acting division chief.

MEXICAN TAXES TO PAY FOR OIL FIRMS URGED

Labor, Other Groups Ask Special Levy.

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, March 23.—[Special.]—Special taxes to raise funds for reimbursing foreign operators for loss of their $400,000,000 oil industry expropriated by the Mexican government were suggested today by the Confederation of Mexican Workers [C. T. M.] and other groups. The foreign oil companies were seized last week after they refused to abide by an arbitration award granting wage increases to workers.

The tax suggestions were made as workers throughout the nation held a jubilee to celebrate the expropriation of the industry. In some cities American tourists were hissed and federal troops were called out to assist the police in maintaining order.

Levy on Beer Proposed.

From M. F. Diaz, supervisor general of the National Alcoholic society, came the suggestion that funds be raised by taxing beer, cigarets, and theater tickets, and raising bus and trolley fares. Diaz also suggested that each white collar employé in the country pay a tax of one peso [about 27 cents] monthly.

Meanwhile, the oil companies were still considering what legal steps they may take to void or modify the expropriation decree issued by President Lazaro Cardenas. The seventeen foreign companies involved had not yet acted upon the invitation of the Mexican treasury to discuss indemnity. Cardenas told the celebrating workers Mexico would pay for the oil properties.

Tax Accounts Closed.

The companies reported they have been informed that tax accounts against them have been closed as of last Saturday, the day on which the expropriation decree was published.

As demonstrations of workers took place throughout the nation, the evacuation of American and other foreign oil workers from isolated areas continued. Thirty-three persons, including eight children, were flown last night from Tuxpan, Vera Cruz.

The jubilee of Mexican workers was called by the C. T. M., but rival labor organizations participated. Banners were carried by workers in some cities describing the action of President Cardenas as a "declaration of economic independence."

Thousands of Workers Parade.

Thousands of workers paraded through the streets of Mexico City throughout the day. Most business houses were closed.

Groups of Cuban and Venezuelan exiles marched with the Mexicans, carrying banners that said their countries also were preparing to overthrow oil company "imperialism."

From Juarez, Mexico, across the border from El Paso, Tex., came reports that workers paraded with red and white banners denouncing "American imperialism" and that American tourists were hissed by women marchers who shouted "Down with the Americans!"

In London the British government announced that it had made representations to Mexico against the expropriation of British oil properties.

Ships Sail Without Cargoes.

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Oil men here expressed belief today that Mexico is going to have difficulty in disposing of its oil through private channels, either in the United States or in Europe. With the exception of a sale to the Japanese, and the disposal of some package goods, the Mexican government, so far as oil companies here have been able to determine, has not been able to dispose of any of its oil in the export markets.

It was learned here that four tankers, which arrived in Tampico, Mexico, about the time the Mexican government seized the oil properties, left there today without taking on a cargo. Two of the tankers were of Norwegian registry and had been chartered by a German concern. Another of Italian registry was to carry a cargo home and the fourth was to transport fuel oil to Cuba.

Anxious to Load Vessels.

It was stated that the Mexicans were anxious to load the vessels provided payment was made either at Tampico or Mexico City, but that the oil companies notified the prospective purchasers that they would hold them responsible for any oil so purchased.

That the Mexican government is anxious to dispose of oil is shown by the fact that a number of brokers are offering to sell such oil. Today a number of English independent oil concerns received a cable from a broker in New Orleans, La., as follows:

"Mexican situation permits us to control large crude and refined production. Government wants best offer. Will entertain large long time contract."

It was said the firms cabled back: "We don't sell stolen goods."

Stock Market Sinks in Big Selling Wave

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 23.—In one of the wildest sessions of recent months stock market prices tumbled all along the line today. Many issues closed at levels below or near 1935 lows, and 457 set new lows for 1938.

A firmer tone prevailed in the closing hour, during which a number of pivotal issues moved up as much as a point from their lowest quotations. However, final prices showed losses ranging up to 4 points in active stocks and up to 9 points in volatile and preferred issues.

Volume was 1,468,400 shares, compared with 690,000 shares on Tuesday. The bulk of the selling came in the early hours, when the ticker was swamped by a rush of offerings that made it four and five minutes late in reporting floor transactions.

Industrials Hard Hit.

Industrial stocks were in the forefront of supply, U. S. Steel, General Electric, American Telephone, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Westinghouse, and a host of other favorites piercing new bottoms before supporting orders halted drops.

Reasons for the sharp break were difficult to find, according to observers. Some pointed out that it came just as the report spread through the financial district that President Roosevelt in a speech to be made in Georgia again would take issue with opponents of his administrative doctrin. Others said the downturn was the result of disappointment over trade trends.

After dropping to 47, U. S. Steel common came back to close at 48 for a net loss of 1⅝. Bethlehem did not fare as well, slumping to 50¼, off 2⅞.

Railroads at New Lows.

Many carrier shares declined to new 1938 low levels on only fractional losses. Santa Fe and Union Pacific were among the chief losers, dropping 1 to 1⅛ points, respectively.

Power and Light shares ruled fractionally lower. After selling around 123 American Telephone closed at 124¼, off 1 point net.

Anaconda and International Nickel were popular trading mediums in the copper group, losing 1 and ¼ point, respectively. American Smelting had a loss of 1¾ points. Kennecott dropped 1 point. Chemical shares were hard hit. Allied lost 4½ points net, with du Pont, Air Reduction, and Union Carbide trailing closely.

Chrysler Drops 2 Points.

Chrysler was weakest in the auto group, dropping 2 points net at 46, after selling as low as 45. General Motors and Yellow Truck recovered to close fractionally lower.

In the heavy machinery group Westinghouse slumped 3⅞ points after moving as much as 5 points or more lower. General Electric, Allis-Chalmers, International Harvester, and Case dropped 1 point or more.

Aviations were mixed, with Douglas and Boeing pushing into the plus column for fractions. Wright Aero crackd 7 points in normal trading.

Oils lost up to 1 point. Merchandising issues closed near previous finals. U. S. Rubber common again was the most active issue and closed at 28½, off 1⅛ points.

HEARING CALLED ON SAFE DRIVER INSURANCE RATE

Springfield, Ill., March 23.—(AP)—Insurance Director Ernest Palmer called a hearing for April 5 today to determine the legality of proposed "merit rating on safe driver reward plan" for automobile insurance companies.

Several companies have notified the insurance department of a desire to institute such a plan, which would provide different rates for safe drivers.

Palmer said he would determine whether such plans conform with the insurance code.

TAYLOR MAKES HIS LAST TOUR OF INSPECTION

Myron C. Taylor yesterday made his last inspection of the Chicago district plants of United States Steel corporation as chief executive officer of the company. He will retire as chairman of the board April 4 and will be succeeded by Edward R. Stettinius, present chairman of the finance committee.

Taylor was accompanied on the inspection tour of the Gary and South Chicago works by Stettinius and other top executives of the corporation, including Benjamin F. Fairless, president; W. A. Irvin, vice chairman; E. M. Voorhees, vice chairman of the finance committee, and J. Carlisle MacDonald, assistant to the chairman.

The party visited the Gary works in the morning and the South Chicago plant in the afternoon, later attending a dinner at the Chicago club with Chicago executives of the company. The party left at midnight for Pittsburgh where the inspection tour will be resumed today.

ELEVATED WINS CUT IN RENTAL ON LEASED TRACKS

The Chicago Rapid Transit company [elevated lines] has obtained a 50 per cent reduction in the rental for the use of tracks over which it operates between Irving Park boulevard and Wilmette, according to a notice filed yesterday with Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson. The tracks, which are owned by the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad, are used by the elevated under a lease agreement.

The new arrangement provides that the elevated will pay $210,833 annually instead of the $436,000 yearly rate maintained since 1919, officials of the rapid transit company said. The agreement also provides for a compromise on back rentals owed under the lease.

GREAT WESTERN PLAN IS BACKED BY BOND GROUP

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission heard arguments today on a proposed plan for reorganization of the Chicago Great Western railroad. A bondholders' group supported the plan.

Examiner Homer H. Kirby, who prepared the proposal, recommended capitalization of the railroad be reduced from $148,000,000 to $62,000,000 and fixed charges from $2,000,000 to $900,000.

J. C. McLester Jr., representing a first mortgage bondholders' committee, said he regarded his committee's plan as better than Kirby's, but would would not object to the examiner's proposal because he desired to expedite the proceeding.

CHICAGO STOCK MART GETS NEW CONSTITUTION

Program Submitted to Members.

The governing committee of the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday submitted to members a new constitution that provides for a complete recasting of the exchange organization.

The new constitution, which abolishes the present unwieldy system of management by membership committees, will become effective March 31 unless one-third of the members file objections by that date. Its acceptance by the members is believed certain.

The new administrative organization of the exchange will consist of a board of governors of twenty-six members, a chairman of the board and a president; five committees, an advisory board of four members, one or more vice presidents, a secretary and a treasurer. The board of governors will be made up of the president, the chairman, and twenty-four members.

Nonmembers on Committee.

The advisory committee will consist of four nonmembers who will sit in on meetings of the governors but will not have voting rights.

The present system of organization consists of a governing committee, a president, and a treasurer, who are exchange members, twelve committees, an advisory committee, a secretary, an assistant to the president, and three assistant secretaries selected by the governing committee.

The new president will not be a member of the exchange. He will be selected by the governors and devote all his time to administration of exchange business. He will be responsible directly to the governors and will have power to discipline members under the rules and regulations defined in the constitution.

Has Appointive Powers.

The board itself will act in cases where penalty for breach of rules is expulsion from membership. The president will have power to appoint all officers of the exchange, except the chairman, who is selected for a one year term by the members.

The new constitution incorporates the changes recommended by the governing committee early in January after a special study of the exchange's problems. The step was followed by announcement of similar reorganization plans by the New York Stock exchange and other markets.

Selection of the new president and other officers, it was said, will not be made until after the annual election in June.

An exchange membership sold yesterday for $1,700 compared with the 1929 peak price of $50,000. Yesterday's sale price was an increase of $100 over the previous transfer. The membership application of Clarence F. Avery of New York was approved.

FOREIGN MONEYS DECLINE FURTHER AGAINST DOLLAR

Foreign currencies were weak again yesterday on the New York exchange market, the dollar rising in value in relation to British, French, and Netherlands funds.

The pound closed ¾ cent lower at $4.96⅛, French franc lost 0.015 cent to 3.05 cents, and the guilder tumbled 0.09 cent to 55.29 cents. Swiss currency eased slightly.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York reported the engagement of $1,316,000 gold in London for shipment to this country.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT RULES ON U. S. PATENT No. 1,460,492

In a suit against infringers of the Latz Personalized Letter, the United States District Court, Southern District of New York, has upheld the validity of the U. S. Patent Number 1,460,492 owned by Harry Latz Service, Inc. and has decreed as follows:

. . . "The article is, in my opinion, a 'manufacture' within the meaning of the Patent Law and I hold the patent therefor valid" . . . "This holding is sustained by its novelty and utility, its commercial success, the number of imitations and the acquiescence in its existence by competitors" . . . "I find all five of the articles stipulated by parties as those claimed to infringe upon the patent actually do infringe" . . . "the gist of this patent is the picture or the inscription which contains the message addressed by name to the intended addressee of the letter. The patent file and the claims are all insistent that the real constituents and effective elements of the patented article are at least one pictorial representation or inscription coupled with a 'breather' containing the message or a blank space incorporated in the illustration into which is introduced the name of the intended recipient of the letter. It is this device that effectuates the function ascribed to the patented article. No other does and no other is claimed to do so."

. . . "It follows therefore, that all of the defendants have appropriated the original article and have invaded either by manufacture" . . . "and by use and sale" . . . "the rights of the plaintiffs" . . . "Submit decree dismissing the counterclaims" . . . "and providing for a permanent injunction to continue through the life of the patent against all the defendants, and an accounting by all."

Stocks, Bonds

New York Bonds.

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—The bond market took its cue from the stock list today and under the weight of heavy liquidation prices in many instances were pushed down to the lowest since 1933. The volume of trading was quickened considerably, with total sales reaching $7,261,450 compared with $6,039,125 Tuesday.

While the opening was comparatively steady, the selling wave made its appearance early and the pressure continued throughout the session, with closing quotations around the lows of the day. Pressure against secondary railroad loans and central European issues was the telling point in spreading liquidation to the entire list.

Interest in United States government obligations was lessened with the total turnover amounting to $417,450 against $531,125 on the previous day. Final prices were 1-32 to 11-32 of a point lower to 1-32 to 6-32 of a point higher. However, only three issues gained.

Among the exceptions to the downward trend were some of the Canadian carriers, with Canadian Pacific 4½s of 1960 up 2½ points.

Chicago Stocks.

A selling wave sent Chicago stocks sharply lower yesterday. Turnover was 48,000 shares, highest since Dec. 30, 1937, when 49,000 shares were traded.

THE TRIBUNE average of 20 stocks fell to 8.58, off 0.21 for the day. Of the 106 issues traded only 4 advanced, 69 declined, and 33 were unchanged.

Cities Service, the trading favorite, eased ¼ to 1¼. Borg-Warner dropped to 20¾, off ¾. Middle West was unchanged at 4¾. Commonwealth Edison at 23¾ and Marshall Field at 6¾ were each off ⅜.

Bank Stocks.

First National bank stock declined $5 a share yesterday, being quoted at $173 bid, $177 asked. This represents a slump of $14 a share since last Saturday. Continental Illinois National bank stock, which also has been weak, eased 50 cents a share yesterday to $51.50 bid, $53.50 asked. It closed last Saturday at $58 bid, $59 asked. Other Chicago bank stock quotations were unchanged.

Commodities

Cash and futures commodity quotations slumped again yesterday to new low marks. The Associated Press index of thirty-five weighted wholesale staples declined to 69.62, which was the lowest since Nov. 5, 1934, and compared with 69.72 on Tuesday [1926 equals 100]. The Dow-Jones average of commodity futures closed at 51.14, off 0.15, at its lowest since May 3, 1934.

Rubber futures dropped 0.39 to 0.49 cent a pound to their lowest level since December, 1935. The liquidation of rubber contracts in Liverpool depressed the market early in the day.

Raw sugar in the cash market sold at 3 cents a pound, the lowest price since March, 1935. Sugar futures, influenced by weakness in the spot market and reluctance of refiners to make purchases because of low profit margins, sold down to the lowest quotations since 1935, and then rallied to finish with smaller losses. The world contract was 0.02 to 0.03 cent lower, and domestic futures closed unchanged to 0.02 cent lower.

Metal futures were lower, except for tin, which was unchanged. Copper contracts closed 0.05 to 0.13 cent lower, lead futures were off 0.05 to 0.09 cents, and zinc was down 0.06 to 0.13 cent.

Declines also were recorded by silk, hides, cottonseed oil, and wool top futures. Cocoa and coffee futures moved upward against the general trend.

WHITNEY GOT NEAR 3 MILLION FROM BROTHER

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Richard Whitney, former president of the New York Stock exchange, testified today before Referee in Bankruptcy Irwin Kuntz that he had borrowed a total of $2,897,000 from his brother, George Whitney, a partner in J. P. Morgan & Co.

The first loan he received from his brother was $90,000 in 1928, he said, and the last one, amounting to $1,082,000, was received last November.

Whitney's wife, Mrs. Gertrude Sheldon Whitney, and several of his friends had given him authority to borrow on pledges of their securities in an effort to save his Wall street brokerage firm from bankruptcy, he testified under questioning by Bertrand F. Shipman, counsel for the firm's receiver, Joseph Lorenz. Whitney said his wife agreed verbally in 1936 to let him pledge her securities.

Friends Lend Securities.

Friends who lent him their securities included Mary Stevens Baird, Kenneth B. Schley of Moore and Schley, brokers, and Donald G. Geddes of Clark Dodge & Co., brokers. Whitney said that permission to use Schley's securities was "purely a friendly act," and that no interest had been paid on them.

Shipman questioned him throughout the day concerning loans totaling approximately $5,524,000 which the lawyer said were outstanding for both Whitney and his firm when the bankruptcy petition was filed. This included $2,897,000 which he said he owed his brother. Whitney explained the loans from his brother were on a personal basis, although they had not started out that way.

Says Assets Exceed Debts.

In the course of the questioning Whitney declared that the assets of his suspended Wall street firm would "far exceed" the liabilities "if properly administered." He asserted Richard Whitney & Co. still had "the ability to borrow" when it filed a bankruptcy petition on March 8.

In response to other questions, Whitney said no preferred payments had been made to creditors during the four months prior to the filing of the bankruptcy petition.

The hearing was adjourned until Friday.

Medinah Plans $100,000 Outlay on Refurnishing

William J. Hammond, president of the Medinah Club of Chicago, yesterday announced the club will spend $100,000 in the next year in the rehabilitation and refurnishing the club quarters at 505 North Michigan avenue. He also announced the appointment of J. O. Wolvin as managing director of the club. Wolvin said forty-four new employés will be added to the club staf.

Union in 5 Marshall Field Mills Certified by NLRB

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—The National Labor Relations board today announced certification of the textile workers' organizing committee, affiliated with the C. I. U. S. SMELTING VOTES DIVIDEND OF $1 A SHARE

Anheuser-Busch to Pay 30 Cents March 31.

The United States Smelting, Refining and Mining company directors yesterday ordered payment of a dividend of $1 a share on April 15, continuing the dividend reduction placed in effect in January. Dividend declarations so far this year total $2, compared with $4 at this time last year. In 1937 the company paid $2 each in January, April, July, and October, plus $3 in December, for a total of $11 a share.

Anheuser-Busch, Inc., declared a dividend of 30 cents a share for March 31. This is the first payment since issuance of five shares of new $20 par stock for each $100 par share early this year. The brewer paid $1 in June and $4 in November last year on the old stock.

Omits Dividend Action.

Consolidated Cigar company took no dividend action on the stock yesterday, but declared the quarterly preferred dividend. It paid 75 cents in January, the first common dividend since 1932.

The Pan-American Match company, whose stock was distributed to Diamond Match company stockholders last April, will pay an initial dividend of 50 cents a share on March 29.

A dividend of $1 a share, the same as in January, was declared payable April 1 on arrears of Strawbridge and Clothier 7 per cent preferred stock. This will leave arrears at $33.25 a share.

The April 1 dividend of Arrow-Hart and Hegeman Electric company was slashed to 25 cents a share from 75 cents last April and $1.25 in December. A total of $3.50 a share was paid last year.

Colorado Fuel and Iron.

Investors' Guide: Will you please give me information on Colorado Fuel & Iron corporation common stock—J. W. P.

Answer: Ranking as the leading steel enterprise west of the Mississippi river, the Colorado Fuel & Iron corporation is a producer of rails, wire products, structural steel, and other steel products. The company is the third largest domestic producer of rails and has about ten per cent of the industry's total capacity.

Colorado Fuel & Iron corporation is successor to the Colorado Fuel & Iron company, reorganization of which was completed in 1936. The failure of the old company was attributed to a combination of heavy funded debt combined with unprofitable operations during depression years immediately after 1930. Funded debt of the new company totals only about $15,518,200, including $11,035,200 in income obligations.

An attempt has been made to broaden the company's markets by increasing emphasis on sales of other than rail products. Higher purchasing power of both individuals and the railroads in 1936 and early 1937 enabled the new company to get off to a good start.

The company has extensive reserves of iron ore, coal, and limestone, all located in the west. Its iron mines have an annual capacity of about 1,120,000 tons of ore, its coal mines an annual capacity of about 1,500 tons, and its limestone and dolomite quarries an annual capacity of about 450,000 tons.

Net sales for the quarter ended Dec. 31, 1937, were $4,786,793 and loss was $491,019, compared with sales of $5,033,967 and net income of $108,263, or 20 cents a common share, in the corresponding 1936 period. The decline was attributed to a slump in railroad buying of steel.

A loss of $48,939 was reported for six months ended Dec. 31, 1937, compared with a profit of $446,921, or 81 cents a share, in the final six months of 1936. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, sales were $26,953,435 and net income was $1,207,849, or $2.18 a common share.

The company had 563,520 shares of no par common stock outstanding at the end of 1937. An initial dividend of $1 a share was paid on the new company's stock in 1937.

The balance sheet for June 30, 1937, showed current assets of $14,965,989 and current liabilities of $3,951,246.

Valuations Summary.

Discussion in preceding articles of the five bases most commonly considered in determining the value of public utility properties for rate making purposes has shown how each may be useful. It also has shown how two or more of the bases may supplement each other or, on occasion, be identical. Likewise, it has shown the difficulties in applying the various theories and how they may conflict.

The courts have favored the "fair" value basis — an estimate of value which is reasonable and fair to investors in the utility enterprise and to its rate payers alike. This basis has been criticized on the ground that "fairness" is too intangible.

Professing to seek "fairness" in a more tangible manner, the federal administration recently has advocated the "prudent investment" basis—a value equal to the sum invested when all expenditures have been made in a prudent, reasonable manner. But this concept raises the question as to what is "prudent."

The federal power commission recently contended that historical cost is synonymous with prudent investment because both mean "the amount reasonably and honestly invested in public utility properties used and useful in public service." Similarly, "aboriginal" cost, closely related to historical cost, might dovetail with prudent investment.

The "reproduction cost" basis resembles prudent investment, historical cost and aboriginal cost in that all four are cost bases. It diverges from them in that it is a varying yardstick—based on whatever current construction costs and land values may be.

GRAIN FUTURES LITTLE CHANGED IN LIGHT TRADE

American wheat markets made a poor response yesterday to strength in Liverpool. They advanced moderately in the early trading, but reacted later in sympathy with the weakness in securities markets.

Net price changes in all grains at Chicago were confined to small fractions of a cent a bushel. Corn gained slightly due to a falling off in offerings for deferred shipment from the country, and a fairly active foreign demand. Speculative interest in futures was relatively small.

Reports of improvement in the foreign demand for North American cash wheat were received shortly before the close. Sales were estimated at 400,000 bushels of American hard winter and 200,000 bushels of new crop Canadian grain.

Houses which frequently act for export interests were persistent buyers of corn futures. Export sales were estimated at 500,000 bushels. Trade in oats, rye, and soy beans was light.

Lard futures closed 2½ to 7½ cents per 100 pounds lower.

WHEAT HARVEST ESTIMATED.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—The agriculture department said today current prospects indicated an American wheat crop of about 830,000,000 bushels this year compared with last year's harvest of 873,000,000 bushels. The winter wheat crop was estimated at 630,000,000 bushels and the spring wheat production at 200,000,000 bushels.

Bond Stores' 5th Unit Will Be Opened Saturday

Bond Stores, Inc., will open its fifth Chicago unit next Saturday at 3250 Lincoln avenue. The two story building has been practically rebuilt from plans by Leichenko & Esser. The front is of stone and porcelain. The entire building will be air conditioned. The formal opening will not be held until March 31.

MEN WHO WANT WORK!

If you are willing to work for an opportunity and would do any kind of honest work so long as you could make a good living at it, I will give you a courteous interview and tell you frankly whether or not we can employ you.

In event we employ you, you will be given a training in Elec. Appl. at our factory branch. From percentages you will be able to live on about $35.00 per week for the first four weeks. Only men whose services are available at once will be considered.

If you are married and your wife is interested in you making more money, this is a permanent, responsible position with a fine chance for advancement.

See me on Thursday morning, March 24, at 20 East Jackson-blvd., Room 604, between 9 a. m. and 12 noon.

distributor has opened a new selling field on seven different phases of interior and exterior home modernization work, using the latest of building materials; leads from radio, national advertising, and direct mail will be furnished. A minimum of competition will be encountered. Earnings limited only by ability to sell and willingness to work. Comprehensive training will be given. Only well recommended applicants with cars in good running order will be considered. Car expense against comm. 735 W. 55th-street.

— — — — — SALESMEN — — — — —

This advertisement has never appeared before. It offers a great opportunity. Fortunes have been made by new men who got in on the ground floor of new specialty deals. Here is a new one. The only daily Washington news service; heretofore sold exclusively by mail. Liberal commission and protected territory franchise. The effect of pending federal legislation and government regulation of business has created a tremendous demand for this service. Only competent, experienced, intangible salesmen, with good personal appearance, between ages 30-45, who can start immediately, will be considered. Phone A. L. Brooks, State 5992, Thursday.

WE ARE NOW READY to add 3 more men to a new dept. recently opened by old well established furniture co. Prefer men living west who have had direct sales experience. These positions offer immediate percentage earnings of about $27 weekly to start, while our program for expanding this new department provides most unusual opportunity for advancement.

Successful applicants compensated for short training period. Apply promptly at 10:30 a. m. Employment mgr. 4130 W. MADISON-ST.

LEADS FURNISHED

Will employ 6 men with selling experience, age 25-45 only. Requires men who are energetic about their work. Not wishing men, but men who say "I will" and follow through. Plenty of money and abundance of opportunity to men who co-ordinate the working of brain and body. This is educational work which pays a substantial commission from the beginning. We use a protected lead file system and all prospects are well qualified. Apply 11 to 12 and 2 to 5 p. m., Thurs., Room 322, Harding Hotel.

SALESMEN—THRUOUT MIDDLE WEST; experience in selling hardware, drug and grocery jobbers and helping them get distribution through retailers; brand new, live, non-competitive products, with complete display and merchandising setup for retail stores.
